LANDON AND KNOX NAMED
REPUBLICAN CONVENTION COMPLETES TICKET

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

CLEVELAND, June 12. — Mr. Hoover's speech gave the convention what is has been waiting for: an opportunity to register enthusiasm about someone or something. It was as if they wanted to make up to the man who has been the scapegoat for our economic ills.

The note of doom in Mr. Hoover's address is being criticized today by those who say that should the New Deal win the country can stand it. Mr. Hoover, however, expressed the deep conviction of those who believe that, even if the country can stand it, the end of another four years of Mr. Roosevelt will find the nation groggy, the constitution taking the count, and the supreme court on the ropes.

There is ample justification for this belief. Two hours before Mr. Hoover appeared on the platform at Cleveland President Roosevelt made one of his minor keynote speeches in Arkansas. In his suave, mellifluous voice he taunted the supreme court with the somewhat labored implication that if the question of the Louisiana Purchase had been submitted to it, the United States would now be an Atlantic coast republic, confined t "the stagnant marshes of a seaboard oligarchy," the capital presumably in Wall Street.

Now that the president has brought the constitution and the supreme court openly into the fight, there ought to be no hesitation on the part of Republicans to pick up the glove that Mr. Roosevelt has mockingly flipped in their direction.

You can always tell when Mr. Roosevelt is feeling at the top of his form by his tendency to identify himself with the great. Last January he completely identified himself with Andrew Jackson, and on occasions he has confused his personality with that of Thomas Jefferson. In Little Rock he became the reincarnation of both.

He does well to direct public attention to the past of the Democratic party before the New Deal took it over.

ALICE LONGWORTH.

Young Pa Newc believes a sign reading, "Slippery When Wet" would aid motorists driving over the South Mill street bridge during rainy weather. During yesterday's rain, Young Pa Newc's car was battered when an autoist was unable to stop on the bridge and ran into the back of the car.

Fourth of July is several weeks away to many people, but not to residents of East New Castle. During the past few nights Young Pa Newc has listened to the sound of firecrackers and the sight of Roman candles ascending the sky, in that district.

Thousands Cheer Landon At Topeka

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOPEKA, Kas., June 12—With echo of his tumultuous acclaim both at home and Cleveland still reverberating, Governor Alf M. Landon, the G. O. P. nominee for president of the United States, today stood on the threshold of his campaign pledged to make it, "the most aggressive the Republican party has seen in many years."

As the focal point shifted overnight from Cleveland to Topeka, the Kansas governor's first task was to make known his choice for the chairmanship of the Republican National committee. In Topeka the prediction was virtually unanimous that red-haired John Hamilton, the man who conducted his pre-convention campaign and who placed him in nomination at Cleveland last night would receive the call.

Spectacular Celebration

While Topeka today prepared to meet the rush of party leaders expected here to confer with the nominee on matters of organization, this city simultaneously sought to recover from the effects of the most spectacular celebration in its history.

More than 25,000 persons, according to police, estimates, roared their

Liberal, Save Platform Basis For Republican Campaign Of Year

CLEVELAND, June 12.—A Republican platform, described by its authors as "breathing liberal, sane Americanism," was thrust before the nation today.

Gov. Alf M. Landon will stand on it, although it pared three provisions desired by him. In a telegram read to the convention he reserved the right, if necessary, to urge a constitutional amendment permitting states to regulate hours of labor for women.

He said that he favored convertibility of paper money into gold and a civil service system which would include in the merit system all government workers up to the rank of assistant secretary of a cabinet officer.

Peggy Landon Much Excited

Daughter Of Presidential Nominee Thrilled By Action Of Convention

MAY MAKE VISIT TO PENNSYLVANIA

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Peggy Anne Landon still was standing on tiptoes today.

Last night found her poised like a ballet dancer on the floor of the convention hall where her 'daddy" was named Republican choice for president of the United States. She stood on her toes to hear his name, craned her neck to see the crowds that surged around banners bearing his picture. She was walking on air, dizzy with excitement, and she had not yet come down to earth this morning.

"I wish I could be in two places at once," said the 19-year-old daughter of the Republican candidate, when she had telephoned her father to tell him she was "mighty proud."

"I wanted to be here—and now I'd like to see what's going on in Topeka. I may go back today instead of going on to visit my aunt and uncle in Pennsylvania."

If she does leave Cleveland today, the little brunette will fly. Trains have become too slow for her, now the excitement of being a potential White House daughter is in her veins.

Reports Many Fish Are Found Dead

Scores of fish have died in the Big Run and also in Cascade Lake at Cascade Park, according to Superintendent C. C. Coulthard who today reported the situation to Director of Parks Joseph D. Alexander. Coulthard stated that this condition has existed several times during the past three years. He believes the water contaminated in the Big Run.

He said he saw fish come to the surface, gasp then swim to the shore and expire. He collected some of the fish for proof. Coulthard has asked Alexander to have council take some action to remedy the situation.

Hamilton May Be Chairman

Likely To Be Selected As Head Of G. O. P. For Landon's Campaign

CLEVELAND, O., June 12—John Daniel Miller Hamilton, the lithe, red-haired young man with the halfback's build and the matinee idol's smile, today stands a foremost power in the councils of the Republican party.

Only 44 years old and virtually unknown until the spectacular rise of the Landon star, Hamilton is almost certainly destined to be elected chairman of the Republican National Committee as the result of the Kansas governor's nomination for president. He will succeed Henry P. Fletcher of the waning old guard.

Hamilton climaxed his direction of Governor Landon's pre-nomination campaign last night with his brilliant nomination address. It was the first time his unusual personality had occupied the spotlight at convention hall and he shared the triumph of his fellow Kansan.

Nine Are Given Diplomas At New Castle Hospital Commencement

PROGRAM GIVEN AT BEN FRANKLIN

Impressive Commencement exercises were conducted for nine young women, members of the 1936 graduating class of the New Castle hospital School of Nursing, on Thursday evening, in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school auditorium. Several hundred persons enjoyed a most interesting program arranged for the occasion.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, as the orchestra played an appropriate selection, student nurses of the hospital, preceded the graduating class to the front of the spacious room and occupied the first five rows. The nine young women, neatly attired in their snowy white nurses uniforms, and shoulder corsages, slowly filed to their places on the stage.

Walter W. Duff, who presided in a most capable manner, opened the program with a few remarks. "I am happy to be a part of the group assembled here to honor you young women who have just completed three years of rigid discipline and hard work. I wish you all happiness and success in your chosen profession," the chairman said.

President Is Dallas Speaker

Makes Address At Centennial Celebration On Some Of His Philosophy

HUGE THRONG AT CEREMONY

By GEORGE DURNO

DALLAS, Tex., June 12.—Here at the Texas centennial capital, President Roosevelt today offered American labor its choice of "boarding houses" or "homes" in a hard-hitting political speech before a huge throng of celebrating Texans. The President slashed out at business, industrial and agricultural monopoly. He assailed the "prophets of evil . . . who seek to operate on a national scale" and called for a restoration of "democracy in opportunity" which would assure the laboring man of a home and the small business man of protection against domination by "a few small, powerful groups".

The President found a sympathetic audience in Dallas-jammed Cotton Bowl. He told them that in the past three years of his administration there had been a "return of confidence and a great increase in prosperity".

The executive's speech was a

Lawrence County Is Well Represented As Landon's Nominated

By News Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., June 12—By tonight the city of Cleveland will have returned to some semblance of normalcy and the thousands of delegates and visitors will be on their way back home. But they won't forget that malestrom in the auditorium Thursday night, when Alf M. Landon was nominated for president. The scene was a combination of a mardi gras, New Years eve, a big league football game and a boiler maker's idea of what Heaven must be like.

For half an hour the arena of the auditorium was jammed with delegates milling around, banners waving in the air, bands blaring, flood lights playing on the mob, horns, bells, whistles and squawkers, all of them testing the carrying capacity of the human ear drum, while in the air thousands of colored feathers and balloons floated down from the ceiling. The crowd in the auditorium was probably the largest it ever held. Even the press boxes were overflowing.

Pennsylvania's delegation rose en masse when Senator James J. Davis announced the vote of the state, and the crowd cheered afresh when the senator announced "Pennsylvania casts 75 votes for its native son, Alf Landon."

The din was terrific for over half an hour as the demonstration gathered new impetus with the passing minutes and up on one of the broadcasting booths the sound recorder jumped from the lower lev-

CLEVELAND, June 12. — "I'm happy, very happy—and of course I'm proud of my son."

John Landon, 79-year-old father of Gov. Alf. M. Landon of Kansas, so declared in an exclusive interview today as his quiet, dignified way he expressed his jubilation over the action of the Republican National Convention is selecting his son as the party's 1936 standard bearer.

The old gentleman, surprisingly active for his age, sat in a room in the Hollenden Hotel with several men about his own age and they were all delighted beyond words.

A serious note crept into Mr. Landon's voice as he said:

"I think if my son is elected president of the United States, the four years in the office will take ten years off his life. He has said this to me himself."

The elder Landon lives with his son in the executive mansion in Topeka. He calmly puffed on a cigar as he talked.

"How is your son's health?" the elder Landon was asked.

"Very good," he reulied. "He keeps himself in good condition. He's only 48 and to a man of my age that seems young. He exercises quite

Armory Cornerstone To Be Laid Saturday

Preparations are being completed today for the ceremonies marking the laying of the cornerstone of the Major Joseph V. Cunningham armory which will take place Saturday afternoon, June 13, in Cascade park. Troop F will be drawn up in formation at the scene of the exercises, the American Legion junior band will play, and the address of the day will be made by Brig.-Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, Jr., of Harrisburg, commanding the brigade of which Troop F is a unit.

It is hoped that the affair will attract a crowd of citizens. Men who have served in Troop F at any time are expected to be present and the surviving members of the original troop who now reside here are to be guests of honor. In addition there will be a number of visiting officers, city and county officials and others present as guests.

To Start At 3:30 P. M.

The ceremony will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock, Chairman Frank S. Hoyt said today. The Legion band will open the program and Rev. Andrew J. Koonce of Enon Valley, formerly a member of the troop, will offer the invocation. Special guests will be introduced, various documents will be placed in the copper box to go inside the cornerstone.

Chicago Man Selected For Vice President

Cleveland Convention Names Knox In Exhibition Of Unanimity

NO DICTATION BY LANDON FORCES

Republicans Complete Slate And Prepare For Battle With "New Deal"

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

CONVENTION HALL, June 12.—It's Landon and Knox.

Governor Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, for the Republican presidential nomination; Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher for the vice presidency.

With a remarkable exhibition of unanimity, the Republican national convention completed this slate today, and sent it out to do battle with the Roosevelt New Deal next November.

As did Governor Landon's rivals for first place on the ticket last night, Colonel Knox's rivals for second place eliminated themselves during a rather hectic morning of maneuvering.

Convention Selects Knox

The convention itself selected Col. Knox There was no dictation by the Landon forces. After conferring most of the night and during the early hours of this morning, the Landon managers were unable to get any agreement between the various aspirants for the vice presidency. So they literally washed their hands of the situation and said: "Let the convention decide."

The colonel, meanwhile, had left the scene of the convention, and was on a train returning to Chicago. His campaign manager, Ed Hayes, former national commander of the American Legion, told the convention that Knox's name was being offered to the convention without his consent. There is, however, no doubt about his acceptance. Knox is understood to have told his friends before leaving Cleveland that he would not make any fight for second place, but that if he were "drafted" he would not refuse.

The principal rivals of Col. Knox for the nomination were Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and ex-Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey.

Cantonese Are Forced Back

Week's Bloodless Northern Drive Is Brought To Halt At Leiyang

TABLES TURNED IN CIVIL WAR

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HONGKONG, June 12. — Thrusting southward in a sudden offensive, the northern Chinese army today forced the Cantonese troops to fall back almost to their own territory after a minor skirmish, the first of the civil war, south of Hengchow.

The Nanking forces occupied the town of Leiyang, bringing to a halt the week's bloodless northern drive of the southern army and ending the Cantonese threat against Changsha, capital of Hunan Province. The Cantonese army withdrew to a point between Leiyang and Changchow, within 50 miles of their own frontier.

With the tables turned at least temporarily, military headquarters of the Kwangsi (southern) Provincial army issued a communique today expressing the fear that the northern army would attempt to penetrate Kwangsi from Hunan and Kiangsi, driving an armed wedge between Kwangsi and Kwangtung, the other southern province.

LIBERAL, SANE PLATFORM BASIS FOR CAMPAIGN

tions committee and adopted by the convention after 55 hours of backing and filling in smoke-filled conference rooms.

Telephone wires to Topeka, Kan., were busy as the presidential nominee notified his advisers of his unqualified stand upon what he believed to be cardinal principles. He sent a telegram to the convention itself, explaining his attitude.

"If nominated," said the telegram, "I unqualifiedly accept the words and spirit of that undertaking.

"However, with that candor which you and the country are entitled to expect of me, I feel compelled before you proceed with the considerations of certain planks in the platform so that you may be advised as to my views. I could not in conscience do otherwise."

Did Not Halt Rush

The telegram, matched in political history only by the gold plank message of Alton B. Parker in 1904 to the St. Louis Democratic convention and the anti-prohibition message of Gov. Alfred E. Smith to the Democratic convention in Houston in 1928, did not deter the bandwagon rush of the convention for Landon.

The platform admittedly was liberal—one of the most liberal platforms ever adopted by a major political party.

It called upon men and women of all parties, including an invitation to Democrats who have broken with the Roosevelt administration, to join in a crusade against the present regime.

Scarcely veiling ridicule of President Roosevelt's famous "horse and buggy days" interview, the platform reiterated the pledge of the first Republican platform of 80 years ago "to guarantee liberty of conscience and equality of rights among our citizens."

A last-minute battle was threatened when former President Hoover sent a message to the California delegation urging that a stand be made for the gold plank.

Fight On Gold Plank

The former president urged Republicans "to restore the convertibility of our currency into gold at a rate fixed by law, but not until and unless it can be done without paralyzing our domestic economy."

Former Gov. James P. Goodrich, of Indiana led the fight in the platform committee. He demanded a roll-call, but on pleas of eastern members withdrew the request.

The "money plank" as adopted, pledged "sound money" but omitted the word "gold" or the "gold standard, "as exclusively reported by International News Service on Tuesday. Overwhelmed by a voice vote, the gold plank supporters abandoned a convention floor fight.

A final break with Sen. Borah apparently was averted. Aroused by reports that his anti-monopoly plank had been revised, Borah battled his way through a line of newspapermen to call a friend from the committee room. He left, apparently satisfied by the information that he obtained.

For Sound Currency

Gov. Landon's message, referring to money, said:

"The convention advocates a 'sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.' I agree that the 'first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget.' The second resquisite, as I view it, is a currency expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold."

He described the matter of a constitutional amendment, if states cannot regulate hours and wages of women and children by law, as an "obligation we cannot escape."

Landon supporters had urged all provisions emphasized in the telegram. They are modified after hours of discussion. The platform, members of the committee said, was a product of an "unbossed convention" and represented views of delegates from East, South, and West.

The platform:

Condemned the 'New Deal' as a failure and a threat to the welfare of the Nation, pledged the party to fight for a free, constitutional government, to encourage private industry to absorb the unemployed; fair dealing for labor, agriculture, and the veterans.

Urged repeal of the reciprocal tariff law, declared against private monopoly, urged such regulation of business as is necessary, pledged a balanced budget, a strong national defense, justice for negroes, flood control and an effort to collect the $12-000,000,000 owed the United States by foreign nations.

Sen. Borah won a victory in the platform declaration against the League of Nations, the world court or any American entanglement in foreign affairs.

Forward Looking

"We call it a forward looking platform," said Chairman Herman Langworthy of Missouri.

The convention unanimously adopted the platform in its session last night with no minority report and with no objections being raised from the floor.

Delegates punctuated reading of the platform by Langworthy with applause.

Cheers greeted the reading of the economy plank, the pledge against foreign entanglements, opposition to reciprocal tariffs, the anti-monopoly plank and a pledge to protect citizens from invasion of their rights by the federal government.

HAMILTON MAY BE CHAIRMAN

terrupted him with a 25-minute demonstration at his first mention of Governor Landon's name. When he finished his address there was another roaring ovation.

Knows Worry

"Governor Landon has known what it means to worry," he said. "You worry when the livelihood of yourself and those who work for you depends alone upon your judgement and ability. Governor Landon knows what it means to combat hidden powers working under any name. You have to fight when your independence and your very existence are threatened by great combinations of wealth.

"Governor Landon as a business man kept his independence. He met his pay rolls. He made the business pay. He knows that no business that does not pay can long continue to meet the payroll. He knows the various forces which affect the delicate adjustment of business and the balance of which is essential to our prosperity...."

Hamilton was as calm as a spectator at a lecture during the astounding stampede which followed his nomination address. He merely smiled a broad, slow smile as he saw his candidate named by the vote of 984 to 19 and saw his own political future take shape in the blue haze of the great hall.

acclaim before the executive mansion here last night when the flash came from Cleveland.

They heard their governor, choked with emotion and his eyes filled with tears, speak haltingly as his conviction that "nothing is more worth while than the regard of one's neighbors."

Cheered To Frenzy

They cheered themselves into a frenzy when the nominee declared:

"If after, three years as your governor, I did not enjoy your respect and good will I should feel that I had failed—whatever other honors might come to me."

When Gov. Landon all but failed to go on as he sought, with efforts conflicting with emotion, to read a telegram from the mayor of his home town, Independence, Kansas, they encouraged the band to strike up a refrain until the governor was ready once more to speak.

They milled about in the street before the executive mansion for two hours after they had been told that the governor had made his final appearance of the night, and it took a flying wedge of policemen to clear the grounds of noise makers so the governor could retire.

Kansas was celebrating its first presidential nominee of a major party in history.

Aged West Middlesex Nurse Of Baby Landon Thrilled At Nomination

(International News Service)

WEST MIDDLESEX, Pa., June 12. —"Thank the Lord that my baby has been nominated!"

Thus, with moist eyes, her face wreathed in a happy smile, did Mrs. Mary Reed Baird, 85, greet the nomination of Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas for president of the United States, today.

The white-haired old lady was the Republican nominee's nurse when he was born here September 9, 1887.

"I can judge from the character of his mother and grandparents, who I knew well, that Alf Landon is a man of few words but his words are as good as his bond," Mrs. Baird told reporters.

"It's too bad his lovely mother couldn't have lived to enjoy the honor given her son."

She concluded:

"If it is really his ambition to occupy the White House, I will pray that he reaches his goal."

a solo, "Ave Maria." Later in the program he sang another selection, "O Dry Those Those Tears." His presentations pleased the gathering tremendously.

Rev. Wilkey Speaks

The Rev. Robert D. Wilkey, of St. Agatha church, Ellwood City, the principal speaker, selected "Self Sacrifice" as his topic. He defined self sacrifice: "Self Sacrifice—which implies mortification and self denial, is the surrender, entirely or partially, of oneself to the promotion, progress, achievement, and accomplishment of a cause. This surrender, this suffering, this divestment of self must proceed either from the firm belief one possesses of the worthiness of the cause espoused or from the appeal to the internal and external senses of at least an apparent good to accrue to the person or purpose for whom or which the sacrifice is made."

In conclusion the Rev. Wilkey said, as he looked at the members of the Class: "Young women, of this graduating class, I believe without a single doubt, that much of this good and noble and God like work devolves upon you by virtue of your holy, noble and exalted vocation as nurses, to assuage the pains and aches of suffering humanity, to alleviate the ills of your unfortunate fellow creatures—as genuine apostles of self sacrifice. I bid you the choicest benediction of God."

President Green

Following a selection by the orchestra and a violin solo by Arbo Aho, accompanied on the piano by Miss Jane Bryan. Mr. Duff introduced President Adolph Green. "It is one of my greatest pleasures every year, by presenting diplomas, to send out a representative body of girls to administer to the needy. There are professions and vocations being effected. There is one that can't be changed. Every scientist and every member works to improve and perfect the medical profession", Green asserted. "This profession is strong as the Rock of Gilbraltar. It is needed for humanity just as that huge rock is needed to protect the Mediterrean," he said.

Just before presenting the diplomas, Green brought out the fact that it was a great pleasure to give out the diplomas which serve as passports to any home or any place.

The program continued with a most enjoyable solo by Miss Marie Dutkiewicz, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Mary Virginia Patterson.

Dr. Barrett Speaks

Dr. J. B. Barrett, a popular local young physician, the last speaker was then introduced. Dr. Barrett selected, "Contract Medicine Versus Organized Medicine". The speaker brought out a number of worthy points relative to his topic. He closed by complimenting the class and wishing them much success in their vocation.

The program closed with another violin solo by Arbo Aho, accompanied on the piano by Miss Jane Bryan, and two vocal solos, "Trees" and "Alice Blue Gown", charmingly sung by Miss Marie Dutkiewicz, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Mary Virginia Patterson. This brought to an end the sixteenth annual graduation exercises of the South Side institution.

The stage was beautifully arranged for the affair. The back of the stage was showered with a number of palm standards and an unusually large bouquet of peonies which was cleverly set up in the center. The front of the stage was a mass of choice roses and several hundred pretty peonies.

The Graduates

Following are the names of the members of the graduating class:

Miss Irene Jinks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Jinks, of 332 Neshannock avenue, this city; Miss Helen Barbara Kielar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kielar, of 11 Spring street, this city; Miss Gladys Marie Harlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harlan, of R. Fulton Jackson, Miss Geraldine Turk, Captain Roger W. Rowland, Dr. C. C. Green, Jack Fee and his son, and Mrs. F. S. Brenneman, Mrs. Caroline S. Hart, Attorney and Mrs. Thomas Mansell, Judge James A. Chambers, Judge W. Walter Braham, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Louis Hazen, Miss Sylvia Martin, Phil G. Greer, Mike Covelli, County Treasurer and Mrs. Joseph H. Hartland, Attorney Orville Brown, Attorney William J. Caldwell,, Coroner Orville Potter Mayor Charles E. McGrath and undoubtedly there were others that do not appear in this paragraph.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz and Richard Rentz, at the convention from the start, had an interesting guest at their table on Thursday evening in the Hollenden Hotel. The guest was J. Thomas Hollohan, an old gentleman of Galesburg, Ill. who was one of the original "Landon for President" men. Pink cheeked, white haired and silver-tongued, the old gentleman told an interesting story of how the movement started with a group of Landon's friends in and around Topeka, Kansas.

In the morning session Delegate Charles H. Young gave his seat to his alternate Mrs. Schaicht, of Beaver County and himself took the alternate seat in the rear of the delegate section.

Dr. James K. Pollock, of the University of Michigan, a former New Castle man was at the convention and met a number of his friends from his home town.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., sent his greetings back to New Castle to one of the men who served with him during the World War. In conversation with a New Castle visitor he asked to be remembered to Richard Cameron, of Slippery Rock Township who served as a runner in the outfit of Col Roosevelt. Cameron won a D. S. C. serving with the colonel.

Another former New Castle man at the convention was Clare Swisher, now of Erie. And a New Yorker who remembers New Castle, Eddie Jackson, ace photographer of the New York Daily News who covered the Schroeder-Dague case here sent greetings back to his friends.

A number of New Castle visitors owed their admission to the convention to Harry Davis, of Tennessee, a brother of Attorney Charles R. Davis, of New Castle. The gentleman from Tennessee was responsible for at least six New Castle people getting to see the show.

Some of the signs in the Landon demonstration after the nominating speech were interesting. Here is a few of them. "Powder River, Let 'er Buck," carried by the Wyoming delegation. Utah had the letters of its state starting the first word of a four letter slogan, "Utah Trusts Alf's Heart." "The Coolidge of the West," was another one, "That's Why Massachusetts Loves Him" another, "Win With Landon" "Off The Rocks With Landon and Knox" "Tennessee Will Land With Landon," and then of course fifty or more huge picture posters of the prairie governor.

The greatest array of names seen on one program at a convention in many years was on the list of seconding nominations. Col. Frank H. Knox, of Illinois, U. S. Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, U. S. Senator Lester J. Dickinson, of Iowa, Governor Harry W. Nice, of Maryland, Mrs. Ruth Hanna Simms of New Mexico, daughter of the late Marcus A. Hanna were among them.

This sort of rambling could go on indefinitely but it has to stop here. Thursday was the convention, full of color, noise and action and today a lot of people are taking care of sore throats and trying to get some sleep.

Deaths of the Day

William C. Book.

William C. Book, aged 68 years, of Slippery Rock R. D. 2, died in St. Vincent's hospital, Erie, at 10:30 p. m. Thursday, after an operation.

Mr. Book was born in Worth township, Butler county, on October 28, 1867, son of John and Margaret McCune Book. He was a lifetime resident of that district, a prosperous and highly respected farmer.

Forty-two years ago he married Lillian Davis, who survives. He leaves, besides his wife, four sons, Floyd and Frank Book of Slippery Rock R. D., Perry Book of Volant and Russell Book of New Castle; one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Murphy of New Castle; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Elliott, Slippery Rock R. D., and Mrs. Fred Glenn, Volant R. D., and one brother, Porter Book of Slippery Rock R. D.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of a son, Frank Book, Slippery Rock R. D., Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Carl E. Jones, pastor of the Zion Baptist church, in charge. Interment will be made in Plaingrove cemetery.

Mrs. Lemuel Harris.

Mrs. Jane Burton Harris, aged 85 years, wife of Lemuel Harris, died at her home, New Castle, R. D. 2, near Parkstown Corners, at 4:35 p. m. Thursday, after a short illness.

Mrs. Harris was born in New Castle November 20, 1850, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Burton. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Coraopolis.

Her husband, two sons, Thomas Harris, of Coraopolis and Frank Harris, at home, one daughter, Mrs. Bessie Ridgeway, at home, two grandchildren, Theodore Harris, at home, and Mrs. Elva Turner of Freedom, and four great-grandchildren, Edna LaVerne Davidson, Eugene Kenneth Davidson, Alice Ridgeway and Louis Leslie Turner, Jr., survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be made Monday morning at Coraopolis.

John Leyshon

John Leyshon, aged 73 years, died Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. L. McWilliams, 666 East Lutton street. He had been in poor health for some time; three days ago, when he suffered a stroke, his condition became critical.

He was born at Port Talbot, South Wales, June 16, 1863, son of Joseph and Catherine Leyshon.

He was well known in New Castle, a member of the First Congregational church, and had many friends. Three daughters, Mrs. J. L. McWilliams, Mrs. Christ Stephenson and Mrs. Walter N. Leslie, of New Castle, two sons, Thomas and William Leyshon, of New Castle, two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Branch and Mrs. Sarah Reynolds, of Port Talbot, South Wales, one brother, David Leyshon, of Port Talbot, South Wales, twelve grandchildren and one great grandchild, survive.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of the daughter, Mrs. McWilliams, with Rev. Rees T. Williams, First Congregational pastor, in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Herbert Pickens.

Mrs. Gertrude Wilson Pickens, wife of Herbert Pickens, died at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at her home in Cambridge Springs, Pa.

Mrs. Pickens was the daughter of the late Thomas D. and Christiana Mehard Wilson, and was born on the County Line farm near Wampum.

After her marriage she resided in Emsworth, and later in Saegertown. Mrs. Pickens is survived by her husband, Herbert Pickens; two children, Mrs. Francis Smith and Calvin Pickens, and four grandchildren. Also by four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Frank Bruce and Mrs. Robert Clarke of Beaver Falls, Mrs. Clarence Gilliland of Tarentum, Miss Beulah Wilson, Joseph H. Wilson and Lawrence Wilson of Wampum and Dr. James H. Wilson of Belle Vernon.

She was an active member of the Saegertown M. E. church, from where services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, eastern-standard time.

HIS TROPHIES

Davis—Did you have any luck on your hunting trip?

Randall—I'll say I did. I shot 17 ducks.

Davis—Were they wild?

Randall—No, but the farmer who owned them was.

Near the vicinity of Cascade Park, the writer saw several other Isaac Waltons.

East Washington street buzzed with much excitement yesterday afternoon. The sound of shattering glass tumbling to the sidewalks caused shoppers to ook around. A motorist rounding Apple alley missed the turn and crashed into a store window.

Miss Louise Seley of the New Wilmington road, brought a beautiful bouquet of flowers to the office of The News this morning, which contained pink and white peonies, osier dogwood, columbine, iris, sailor's cap, lemon lily and Madame Plantier roses. The floral effect was very beautiful.

regularly. His favorite form of exercise is horseback riding. He likes to walk, too. He plays a little golf, but not much.

"He walks from the governor's mansion to the statehouse and back, a distance of about ten blocks, three times a day—morning, noon and night."

Mr. Landon was reminded that his son has been referred to in the newspapers as a "second Coolidge." The old gentleman puffed away at his cigar thoughtfully before releasing his own observation.

"Everybody who meets him says he is not a second Coolidge," said Mr. Landon. "I leave that to the other fellow. My son, of course, does not talk too freely. He doesn't like to talk about something until he knows what he is talking about. And then, it seems to me, he is quite plain and talks rapidly enough."

One of Mr. Landon's cronies, J. Thomas Holahan, of Galesburg, Ill., who formerly lived in the southwest, interjected:

"Yes, the governor will tell you 'no,' and he'll say it in a nice way when he means it. He's sincere and frank. He's just folks, the kind of person we all like."

Asked what kind of a campaign he thought his son would make, the elder Landon said he had "no idea."

and three short speeches will be made. General Stackpole has said that he will speak very briefly, L. B. Round will give the history of the troop and J. Vale Downie, director of the Works Progress Administration, will speak in behalf of his organization which is erecting the armory.

The Legion band will be transported to the park in a special street car and all members are to report at the Legion Home on North Jefferson street at 1:30. General Stackpole is expected to fly from Harrisburg and will be transported to the armory site by Fred L. Rentz, president of The News.

The armory site is in Cascade park fronting on Frank avenue, which is the last street inside the city's corporate limits.

MISS BEULAH HEATON IS GIVEN BON VOYAGE

Miss Beulah Heaton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Heaton, Northview avenue, who is leaving on Saturday, June 20, to take up missionary work on the Philippine Islands, was honored by the congregation of the First Baptist church at a farewell reception Thursday night.

A huge throng of friends participated and, with Mrs. Charles T. Metzler presiding, the following program was presented at 8:30 o'clock:

Selections—Sunday school orchestra.

Ten-minute talks—Rev. Bernie Osterhouse, of Ellwood City, who brought greetings from the Beaver Baptist association; Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, and Miss Pearl Hockenberry, of the First Baptist church.

Two numbers — Young people's choir, under direction of Mrs. Garth Edmundson.

Reading—Adrian Heaton.

Remarks—Dr. C. H. Heaton.

Response—Miss Beulah Heaton.

After the program and reception light refreshments were served.

B. French Johnson was general chairman of the affair. Mrs. Jane Pattison, Mrs. William Harris and Mrs. Bertha Griffith were in charge of the refreshments and were assisted in serving by the G. E. M. class.

Miss Heaton plans to make a few stops enroute to the Pacific coast. She will spend one Sunday at her former church in Elkhart, Indiana, then visit Chicago and Wheaton, then take a train for the state of Washington.

She will speak on June 28 in a Seattle church and one in Tacoma. On Saturday, July 4, at 11:45, she will sail from Seattle on the S. S. President McKinley for the Philippine Islands, stopping in Japan and China on the way. For a few days she will be at the mission headquarters in Manila and then move on to her permanent station on the Island of Cuto.

SARAH LEE COBAU TO WED JOHN H. ELLIOTT

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. McGoun of 325 East Lincoln avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sarah Lee Cobau, to John H. Elliott, son of Mrs. Lura Elliott of Laurel Boulevard.

McCREARY'S RETURN TO NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. McCreary and little daughter Jane, who have been guests during the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rentz, Winter avenue, departed today for their home, Nashville, Tenn., where Mr. McCreary is affiliated with the Sears-Roebuck company.

They visited, during their stay in this city, Mr. McCreary's father, E. M. McCreary, who has been quite ill, and mother, on Monroe street.

Mr. McCreary is the brother of Mrs. Rentz.

PLAINGROVE GIRL TO WED PITTSBURGH MAN

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wallace of Plaingrove, of the engagement of their daughter, Irene, to Edwin C. Goodman Jr., of 106 Fairmont avenue, Pittsburgh.

The engagement will terminate in a wedding on Thursday evening, June 18, at 7:30 o'clock at the Wallace home. The Rev. Harry Rose of Akron, O., and a former pastor of the Plaingrove U. P. church, will officiate.

ROBERT SAYLOR AND BRIDE ARE HONORED

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Saylor, whose marriage took place recently, a group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Johanna Shuster, mother-in-law of the groom, on Wednesday evening, and tendered the honor couple a miscellaneous shower.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the couple.

Music, dancing and games were the chief diversions of the evening, and at an appropriate hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Betty Schuster and Mrs. Robert Saylor, after which the gifts were displayed to the assembled guests.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Saylor have host of friends in New Castle, he being employed at the National Radiator company and she formerly being employed at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

ATTORNEY BITTNER CONCLUDES VISIT HERE

Mrs. Robert Bradford of East Edison avenue was given a most pleasant surprise within the past week, when her brother, Attorney John H. Bittner, of Los Angeles, California, called at her home for a few days visit, which was their first reunion in a period of twenty-four years.

Attorney Bittner visited numerous friends in the city while here, and left today for Beaver where he will spend a short time with other relatives and friends. He will return to his home on the West coast via the Southern route, which will complete a six weeks journey. Attorney Bittner is prominent in his chosen profession in Los Angeles.

Reunited Ladies League

Mrs. George Nolte of Hazel street, pleasingly received the Reunited Ladies League members in her home Thursday evening. Bingo claimed attention, Mrs. Bessie Straight, Mrs. Nathan Richards and Mrs. W. L. Davis, carried off the awards. Later, the hostess served a tasty repast.

June 25, members will meet with Mrs. George Wyman on Maryland avenue.

MISS GRETCHEN SMITH HONORS ANNA MAE LLOYD

A lovely party of Thursday evening, was that given in the home of Miss Gretchen Smith on Highland avenue, when she entertained at a bridge shower in honor of Anna Mae Lloyd, who will wed her brother, Edward Smith, Jr., this month.

The early hours were whiled away with cards, six tables of players competing for honors, and at conclusion of play, Alma Fankhauser and Mayme Shellen received trophies. Miss Mildred Owens was awarded the traveling award. Immediately afterwards the individual tables were cleared and re-appointed in tones of pink and white, where a dainty menu of refreshments was served, the nuptial motif predominating.

At an appropriate time, Miss Lloyd was showered with an array of pretty gifts of a miscellaneous nature, to use in her future home, which climaxed one of the most attractive events of the season.

Mrs. Paul Hoskins of Brownsville, was the only out of town guest in attendance.

INDIANA ALUMNI CONCLUDES SEASON

Due to the inclement weather, plans for the Indiana Alumni Association of Lawrence county were changed at the last moment for their picnic gathering. The occasion was held in the Methodist church instead of Ewing Park at Ellwood City, as previously scheduled.

Thirty members were in attendance, and two guests, Misses Ruth Horton and Charlotte Rhodes.

The Ellwood members, who were in charge of the tables, developed a color theme of green and white in the appointments, making a most attractive setting for the serving of the menu. Tall green tapers and garden flowers completed the arrangement. Mrs. Fred Cooney, chairman of the menu, and general chairman of the social committee, is due credit for her efforts in making the occasion such a success. She was ably assisted by Mrs. W. C. Bryan, Miss Clara Cotton, Mrs. E. L. Miller and Mrs. Robert Duff.

Mrs. Roy Long, the new president, gave a report on Indiana at the present time, from a political point of view, when it was learned that President Charles Foster has handed in his resignation, taking effect Saturday, June 13.

This closed the year's work until the second Thursday of September, when regular activities will be resumed by the alumni.

MRS. LEE SPEER ENTERTAINS CLUB

One of the most delightful meetings of the spring season held by members of the G. T. B. club took place on Thursday evening when Mrs. Lee Speer, of 503 Neshannock Boulevard, who charmingly entertained her club associates.

The Speer home was attractively arranged for the occasion. One of the highlights of the event was the celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Aaron Boalick, which occurred June 8. Mrs. Boalick was showered with a number of lovely gifts. The club token was awarded to Mrs. Felix Fleeger. Other prize winners included: Mrs. Aaron Boalick, Mrs. R. Alexander, Mrs. W. J. Baltes, Mrs. K. Boalick, Mrs. Ray Nickerson. At an appointed time, a dainty luncheon was served by Miss Edith Rowe. The occasion was most enjoyable.

On Thursday, June 18, Mrs. W. J. Baltes, of 109 West North street will entertain the club, afterwhich she will depart for an extended visit in New York.

E. N. C. CLUB HOLDS BREAKFAST AT PARK

Members of the E. N. C. club enjoyed a breakfast outing at Cascade Park Thursday morning, in the grove. The table was nicely appointed for the serving of an appetizing menu, and following, the hours were spent informally, sauntering about the grounds admiring the many beauties of the park.

Plans for a dinner were completed, to take place Wednesday, June 17 at the home of Mrs. John Miller, Youngstown, O.

Mrs. Fankhauser's Recital.

Three hundred invitations have been issued for the musical recital to be given on June 16 and 17, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week, by Mrs. Mary E. Fankhauser in the Scottish Rite Cathedral by her students.

Thirty pianists from the Ellwood and New Castle classes will participate and guest soloists will be Mrs. W. P. Felch and Miss Ruth Drescher.

MRS. ERNEST SMITH LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Gramoda Kensington members enjoyed the delightful hospitality extended Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ernest Smith on Winter avenue, when she entertained at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon.

Seasonal flowers adorned the rooms throughout and flanked the large birthday cake which centered the luncheon table, where a tempting menu was served. The cake was an added feature, honoring the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. W. G. Robison. Later, each was presented with a lovely gift in behalf of the club.

Informal pastimes ensued with sewing and chat filling in a greater part of the leisure moments. Adjournment was called and plans for their next assembly will be announced.

STEPHENSON CIRCLE HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

Mrs. J. C. Leohner, of 1604 Highland avenue, graciously opened her home to members of the Stephenson Circle of the First M. E. church, Thursday evening, and a program of interest was followed, over which Mrs. John Butler, presided.

Miss Cordelia Roberts led the worship period. Yearly reports were submitted by group leaders and were very pleasing to the circle. It was revealed that there are 75 members in good standing. Miss Jennie Anderson stated that there were over 25 dollars in the mite boxes.

Election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. John Butler; first vice president, Mrs. W. H. Shipler; second vice president, Mrs. M. B. Hornung; recording secretary, Mrs. DeLace Cole; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Leohner; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Anderson; mite box, Mrs. John Black; stewardship counselor, Mrs. Hiram Houk; extension secretary, Mrs. H. C. Stillings; King Herald counselor, Mrs. John Emery.

Mrs. B. F. Kanenberger interested the group for a half-hour in an excellent paper.

At the close the social committee, under chairmanship of Mrs. J. W. Neff, served delicious refreshments. On the committee were Mrs. Reinhart, Mrs. J. W. Snyder, Mrs. E. C. Kellogg, Miss C. Roberts and Mrs. E. C. Chapman.

This was the last scheduled meeting until September.

TUESDAY KENSINGTON HAS SPECIAL EVENT

In place of the regular meeting, Tuesday Kensington members motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Dean on the Harlansburg road Thursday afternoon, where they were entertained at a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon, with Mrs. Eliza Rounds presiding as hostess. Places marked for sixteen at the attractive tables centered with clusters of garden flowers.

After partaking of the menu, the hours were spent leisurely with games and conversation, marking the close of another of their enjoyable summer activities.

On Wednesday, June 24, Mrs. Paul D. Weller of Clenmore Boulevard, will receive members at her residence.

1936 Sewing Circle

Mrs. Addison Cugini of Scotland Lane entertained the 1936 Sewing Circle members in her home Thursday evening, the event honoring the wedding anniversary of Mrs. Reymond Peluso, one of their number. A short business period was conducted, when plans were discussed for a supper when husbands will be special guests.

Tables of 500 were in play, Mrs. Joseph Cialella and Mrs. Andrew Angelo winning the prizes. In serving lunch, the hostess had as aides, Mrs. Anthony Peluso and Mrs. Joseph Cugini.

Mrs. Victor Colella of Pollock avenue will entertain July 9, at their next meeting, which will be in celebration of the tenth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Louis Ross.

Entertains At Cards

Mrs. Matilda Thellman of South Beaver street entertained a group of friends informally at cards, with Stella Cross, Kathryn Cuba and Mrs. Jane Francis winning the prizes, Thursday evening. A special feature was a shower of linen given the hostess, in observance of her birthday anniversary.

Lunch was served, the hostess having as her aide, Mrs. James Francis, with places marking for club members and four guests, including Mrs. Francis, Margaret and Hilda Leonhardt and Mrs. Genevieve Russell.

Their next meeting on June 25 will take place with Betty Sinkner, South Jefferson street.

Y. M. M. Club

Mrs. Herbert Hake entertained members of the Y. M. M. club at the home of Mrs. Perry Haggerty of Florence avenue, Thursday evening.

Special guests included Mrs. Clyde Shepard, Miss Geraldine Fulwood, and Mrs. Michael Schular of Greenville. A very enjovable evening was spent playing "500" with awards going to Miss Margaret Smith and Mrs. Aaron Yoho.

Tables were re-arranged and a tempting lunch served at a later hour by the hostess aided by Mrs. Schular. Tones of yellow and white were used in the decorations.

Mrs. Yoho invited the members to her home on DuShane street for their next meeting on June 25.

Old Time Rebekah Club

Mrs. J. L. Moser of Spruce street, was a pleasing hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the Old Time Rebekah club, egtertaining at a prettily appointed 1:00 o'clock luncheon. Mrs. Edna Nicholson of Ellwood City, daughter of the hostess, was a special guest of the occasion.

The women enjoyed a period of social chat and other diversions, following the serving of a well prepared menu.

Wednesday, July 8, the club will meet in the home of Mrs. James Campbell, 613 Oak street, with Mrs Laura Johnson, hostess.

VETERANS OF B. & O. AND WIVES, ASSEMBLE

Thursday night at 8 o'clock the Baltimore and Ohio Veterans and Auxiliary met in the I. O. O. F. hall, their final regular meeting until September.

E. C. Burdge and Mrs. C. J. Bernhart, presidents, were in charge. Invitation extended by the Youngstown association for a joint picnic at Mill Creek Park on July 23 was accepted and it is likely that a large number of local people will attend. The annual picnic of the New Castle veterans and ladies will take place on Thursday, August 13, at Cascade Park.

Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. J. P. Walters, Mrs. J. E. Davies, Mrs. Joseph Castrucci, and Mrs. Sam DePiero.

Bingo games were enjoyed and prizes were won by Mrs. H. G. Tetlow and Mrs. W. G. Horchler.

Fourette Club Meeting

The Fourette club members enjoyed an out-door luncheon party Thursday afternoon, at Cascade Park, the menu being served at sheltered tables at 1 o'clock. Following, cards were enjoyed, Mrs. Wilford Hoagland and Francis Gibson winning the awards. Mrs. Frank Ziegler participated as a special guest.

The next meeting on Wednesday, June 17 will take place with Mrs. Wilford Hoagland, East street.

De-La-Kard Klub

On Thursday evening Miss Cleora Williams entertained associates of the De-La-Kard Klub at her home on Raymond street.

Two tables of bridge were in play with club prize going to Miss Thelma Hemphill as tallies were added at the end of play.

Lunch was served at the small tables, later in the evening, by the hostess.

The girls decided to dispense with meetings during summer months. The date of the first fall meeting will be announced later.

Playfair Club.

Tables of 500 were in play Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Haymond on Beckford street, the players being members of the Playfair club. Mrs. W. G. McMullen, Mrs. Haymond and Lillian Dorsey received the honor score prizes.

After partaking of a luncheon menu served in the diningroom, they decided to discontinue regular sessions until fall. However, a picnic was scheduled for Thursday, June 25, at Cascade park, for husbands and families. Miss Dorothy Haymond assisted the hostess with the serving.

YOUNG WOMEN ENROLL AT DUKE UNIVERSITY

Miss Marjorie Powell, of Crescent avenue, Miss Mary McGeehan, of Martin street, Miss Dorothy Young and Miss Louise Studebaker, both of Ellwood City, have arrived at Durham, North Carolina, where for the next six weeks they will be enrolled in a summer course at Duke University.

The young women made the trip from here by automobile, leaving on Monday.

Honors Newlyweds.

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fortunato of Philadelphia, whost marriage occurred a few days ago in Philadelphia, Mrs. Joseph Brizzi of 1312 Pennsylvania avenue, entertained a group of friends at her home Wednesday night at a delightful reception.

The bride, Miss Mary Iannelli, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Iannelli of Philadelphia. The groom is the son of Mrs. Joseph Brizzi, Pennsylvania avenue. Following an extended visit there, Mr. and Mrs. Fortunato will depart for their new home in Philadelphia.

REPUBLICAN STANDARD BEARER

IN THE selection of Governor Alfred Mossman Landon of Kansas as the nominee for the presidency of the United States, the Republican party has made a wise choice. Not only a wise choice but a happy choice, for of all the potential candidates for the honor, Governor Landon stands out as the one man who combines best the characteristics the nominee should possess.

The Republicans need a liberal leader, not liberal in the sense that sound reason is forgotten but liberal in the sense that he is forward looking, with the best interests of all the people at heart. A liberal who still retains enough ordinary horse sense to refuse to cater to groups or factions that believe that the way back to prosperity is through an unreasoning disbursement of money. Landon is such a liberal.

The Republicans need a man who typifies the best American traditions. We are not yet away from the old ideas of American progress from an humble birthplace to the seats of the mighty. From log cabin to the White House is still a favorite piece of reading. Governor Landon typifies this sort of Americanism.

The Republicans need a man who refuses to be stampeded, who believes that a dollar should buy a substantial portion of a dollar's worth, a man who knows the needs of labor and still respects the rights of capital. Governor Landon is such a man.

He is a happy compromise between the wild eyed radicalism of some of the western states and the slow moving conservatism of the east. He is an ideal candidate, one that commands the respect of the American voters and deserves their support in November.

TREE, OR BLUEPRINT

In the town of Maine, New York, lives one C. V. McGregor, distinguished thereabouts as the owner of a maple tree judged to be 200 years old. The tree towers eighty feet above the road and its branches have spread of sixty feet in diameter. Expert tree men say this ancient tree may add another century and a half to its span of life if not molested.

Unfortunately for the tree and Mr. McGregor, it seems to stand in the path of progress. When the blueprint for a new highway was made it showed the great tree in the space which would be covered with concrete. From an engineering, or blueprint, standpoint the obvious procedure was indicated: he suggested that the blueprints be changed. And to his everlasting credit, Mr. McGregor carried the day.

Too often, of course, the engineers and builders have their way. Countless trees have been sacrificed needlessly for highways, buildings and other modern improvements. Here, thank goodness, is the evidence that it's sometimes better to change the blueprint than cut down a tree.

A RAMBLING ROCK?

Shall Plymouth Rock be dislodged from its ancient moorings and sent around the country for exhibition purposes? The Plymouth selectmen say no, sternly and with a capital N. Dispatches from that historic spot speak weakly of the refusal as having come from "officials." Of course it must be the Plymouth selectmen who have voiced the collective mind of their community in this matter; that is, unless the Plymouth citizenry have departed from New England tradition under the mistaken assumption that the title of selectmen can be improved upon.

The proposal came from a Cleveland man who felt that he had hit upon a special attraction for the delegates to the Republican National Convention. But, supposing that his attention is fixed, more or less, on Massachusetts, it is not likely that his gaze has been directed exclusively toward the rock. There may be news any time of an offer for the Bunker Hill Monument.

Thirty-four years ago Philadelphia officialdom, under the leadership of the rollicking Mayor Ashbridge, took the Liberty Bell by special train to the Charleston Exposition. The bell got back safely, never more to roam if outraged sentiment in the City of Brotherly Love has its way. But some of the officials never were the same after that junket.

MOST POPULAR INDOOR GAME

What is the most popular indoor game? Probably most people today would say bridge. In its original form, and as modified to become "auction" and "contract" bridge, there probably was never an indoor game played by so many people.

As a development of the game of whist, it is played by many times the number who used to play that old game. Whist players years ago were a limited element of a studious type and they made a science of it. But it was considered to require too much concentration for ordinary folks who took to euchre, cribbage, high-low-jack, poker, and many other forms of play.

Today bridge has become a nation wide craze. Many people, particularly women, take it with great seriousness. They spend much money on lessons, they study works of scientific play. It has become a quite serious matter for some, since the circles in which they move put up money, and they can't afford to play if they are always losers.

Playing bridge is a mental training. It develops the memory and the power of concentration, and a certain ability to plan future action. But people should not take it too seriously. The folks who go up in the air because partner trumped the wrong trick, may know all about bridge, but they need lessons in ordinary courtesy.

A movie star's desire for privacy seems strange to nobody except those who wish they could attract attention.

There's no equality. If the bride's parents weep, that's natural love. If the bridegroom's parents weep, it's an insult.

It would be a calamity if that congressman from Michigan who wears suits without pockets should pass the idea onto Uncle Sam.

Norman Thomas says he doesn't expect to be elected president. Such candor should be recognized by some kind of a public award.

The opposition complains that Landon doesn't talk enough, overlooking the fact that his role in the current drama is that of a Kansas Coolidge.

European nations are going in for bigger and better fighting equipment. It's always nice to know what a defaulting debtor is doing with the money he refuses to pay.

Not Oldest; Most Useful.
Unimportant Victory.
Some Things, Self-Taught.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SOMEBODY suggested that the oldest active Republican in America should sit on the platform in Cleveland.

To this suggestion, made by Bruce Barton, someone replied:

"The oldest member of the Republican party is John D. Rockefeller."

There must be older Republicans that John D. Rockefeller living, but there is no other that having worked hard all his life, still works hard after giving more than FIVE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS to science, education and fight against disease.

A few more "old Republicans" of that kind would help.

"THE UNITED STATES polo team beats England." Gratifying, not important. Riding on ponies and knocking a little white ball over the grass means little more than good exercise, and your picture in the paper.

If plucky young Americans of the polo team had beaten Englishmen, Italians, Frenchmen, Russians and Germans in the air, that would be worth while.

Some of the young gentlemen will doubtless decide to move up high above the grass, where courage and skill are important.

AN IMPORTANT educator tells New York students:

"The important business of schools is to build leaders."

Unfortunately, you cannot "build leaders;" They must build themselves, and they can only do it by leading, just as they can learn to swim only by swimming.

If you could teach men to think and lead, that would simplify many problems; unfortunately, you can do neither. Thought and leadership are self-taught.

EDWARD THE EIGHTH, new king of England, goes through all the "motions" that have to do with being a king and does it good-naturedly. Dressed in his scarlet and gold kilted uniform as colonial of the Seaforth Highlanders, he rode through London in his state carriage of gold with no fewer than four footmen sitting on it. An Irish

MOODS AREN'T PERMANENT

You say "I'm not responsible for my moods." No, perhaps you're not, but you get credit for them just the same.

If your mood is a happy one, you get the friendliness of other human beings out of it. . . . They like to be with you and tell their friends how excellent you are.

If your mood is a dismal one, you get paid for that, too . . . in the avoidance of others, in their common agreement that you may be a solid enough fellow, but hardly one to seek out for companionship and ease of heart.

But you say, "I am what I am and what I feel is beyond my power to change. I cannot be other than I am. In some ways we human beings are like chemicals, and some of us respond to darkness and some to light. And how we react to the happenings of living and fixed qualities in our nature. Some men throw off trouble lightly, some take it in and brood over it. Some of us are phlegmatic, some are mercurial. . . . What do you say to that?"

I say there's much in what you say.

But I say, also, that a man's moods are not wholly outside of his control.

I know that sometimes a man feels waterlogged and heavy, and if he goes and takes a cold bath he feels better; his body is stimulated and the loginess goes away.

I know that sometimes a man feels mean because he has not played fair with someone to whom he owes an obligation, and that when he shakes himself out of his selfishness and makes amends—he feels cleansed and light of heart.

I know that many of our moods are basic, as much a part of our natures as the grain in a tree is a part of that growing thing; but I believe that most of them are superficial—that we can throw them off, or that we can pamper and nurture them into permanent residents of our nature.

You can take your choice—and pay for it.

Hints On Etiquette

When a man escorts a woman to the theater, he should not leave her during every intermission, although it is quite proper for him to leave her for a short smoke at least once during the performance.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:29. Sun rises tomorrow 4:30.

It seems that unemployment has seriously reduced the consumption of chewing tobacco, according to reports from the warehouses. However the depression don't seem to have had much effect on rag chewing.

A woman asked a local bank clerk for a new check book. "I lost the one you gave me yesterday" she said. "It doesn't matter, though, I took care to sign all the checks as soon as I got it—so, naturally, it won't be of any use to anybody.

The way some people park their cars around the alleys in this man's town is a caution. Something ought to be done about it, too. It is almost impossible to get through some alleys because of the way thoughtless people park their gasoline buggies.

A Central European genius has invented an electric bell attachment for church collection plates. This is the first time we have ever heard of a bell designed to awaken one's conscience. It won't have much effect on some people, however. You couldn't waken their conscience with a 16-inch gun.

SAYS SHE

Boss—You should have been here at 9 o'clock.

Stenog—Why, what happened?

Probably you have noticed in reading The News from day to day, where so and so had his automobile stolen. And your first thought would naturally be that not many cars are stolen. But the fact is, that an average of one hundred and seventy automobiles are stolen every day in the United States.

Lying is like baldness. A little of it makes a man ashamed, but he feels respectable again after he gets used to it.

The average citizen works seventy days a year to earn money with which to pay his taxes, direct and indirect. He does this because he loves his Uncle Sam, because he is patriotic, and because, try as he may, he can't figure any way of getting out of it.

The Townsend boom is like the old gray mare. It ain't what it used to be and never will be again.

STUNG AGAIN

After spending one night at a summer resort, a city dweller walked into the manager's office and demanded immediate transportation to the nearest railroad station.

"What's the matter?" the manager inquired. "Don't you like it here?"

"No, I don't. You lied to me when you said there wasn't a single mosquito at your place."

"Well, there isn't," quoth the manager, "they're all married and have large families."

Leon Blum, the new premier of France, is considering a French NRA. It may work over there, however, as the French has no supreme court.

A newspaper in Surat, India, recently made a front page story of a wedding between two monkeys. There should be no excitement over this. That happens every day in the United States.

A Washington wag declares that President Roosevelt has come out in favor of "everything except free beer and wider sidewalks". Now don't be impatient, gentlemen, give the president time.

City girls may marry farmers, but if they are to be happy, they "must love the farm as well as the farmer". This is the finding of a scientists who has been making a study of rural communities, and it sounds like good horse sense.

Although the railroad fare between New York and Philadelphia has dropped to $1.80, New York and Philadelphia get farther apart every day—in the American League.

NO EASEL RUNNING AROUND

The artist who is painting a portrait of President Roosevelt has been in the habit of entering the White House by the front door of the executive offices where the guards know him. One day recently he decided on a short cut through the side entrance. A guard halted him. "What's in that package you've got?" he asked.

"Just an easel," said the artist.

"Well, we don't allow animals in the White House," snapped the guard.

"Rome," wrote John Heywood, "was not built in a day." So, the WPA boys had a hand in that one, too!

Seems like a co-incidence that President Roosevelt went to Arkansaw, Texas and Indiana to deliver speeches while the big G. O. P. convention was on at Cleveland.

The Dionne quintuplets have been entered in the Encyclopedia Brittannica, among kings and queens, marking the first time in 168 years that living children have been listed in the book.

There are two types of people. Those who are broke and those who are broke but don't look or act like it.

With "Ch, Susannah," as the Republican campaign song, the G. O. P. should select a candidate who can strum a mean banjo to accompany it.

This is presidential year, but there don't seem to be much need for politicians to set out to stump the country—it's already stumped.

An east side fellow tells us he was taking his girl out to dinner the other evening when he casually remarked, "I like any kind of wild game, do you"? And the fair one answered, "Yes, do you know a good one?"

In ancient times, prominent statesmen often renounced the world, and, entering a monastery, dwelt in obscurity. Nowadays, however, they accept the nomination for vice president.

Prudish observers may object to allowing males of the younger generation to go around all summer without shirts, but we think it might give them a lot of valuable practice for what's going to happen to them when the start paying off the debts of the older generation.

The under-dog is with us always. He may get the upper hand, but then his former boss is the underdog.

Apparently a Liberal is one who is horrified by any injustice in some other section of the country.

A man knows where to find his things after his wife has given a party. Just go to the closet and dig through the pile on the floor.

Little Jean, daughter of a North Hill couple, had never seen a really fleshy person. Her mother was quite slender, and so were all the relatives and friends of the family she had come in contact with.

One day her mother was taking Jean down town in the street car. Presently a very stout woman, one who would weigh over two hundred pounds, got onto the car and sat directly opposite them.

Little Jean stared at the newcomer in wide-eyed amazement. Then she turned to her mother to inquire in a voice which could be heard all over the car:

"Mother, is that all one woman?"

New Castle folks who are jaywalkers have a friend in Toronto, Canada. Under a new city traffic regulation pedestrians have the right to cross whenever they feel like it. In other words they don't have to use any more brains than a hen.

One thing about the supreme court, that Washington nine plays some close games. The scores are generally five to four.

A man named Moses has been elected to head the Mercer county Republican county committee. If anybody can lead the Mercerities out of their bondage Moses ought to be able to do it.

Even war gives you a break. Junkers in France have found over 30,000 car loads of shells that didn't explode.

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR MISS MARKEL: My husband and I have just joined a country club. All our lives we have been too busy to have much social life. Will you please tell me what clothes I should wear when going to the club for various activities—F. N. O.

Answer: Wear sports clothes and flat-heeled shoes for outdoor activities, such as golf, tennis, hiking, etc. Nothing looks more ridiculous than fussy clothes and high-heeled shoes for walking about country club grounds.

Plain, tailored or sports clothes with "sensible" shoes are worn to luncheons (even those neither followed nor preceded by any sports events) in a country club.

A dinner dance held at the club would, of course, require dinner clothes.

Dear Miss Markel: How should a bride and groom be congratulated. I have been told that the word "congratulate" should not be used when speaking to the bride. Is this true? If so, what, then, should be said to her?—E. L. S.

Answer: Congratulate the bridegroom and wish the bride "good luck and much happiness." The bridegroom is congratulated on his good fortune in getting such a lovely wife. But the bride should never be congratulated on her good fortune in getting a husband. That would be an insulting insinuation.

Hoover Presents Problem.
Roosevelt May Suffer Same Fate.
Is Cheered By Cleveland Throng.

Central Press
Bureau at
G. O. P. Convention
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, June 12.—What shall we do with Herbert Hoover? What can one do with any former president who has been defeated in an election?

That, not the problems of the nation, cast itself on the Republican convention on its second day.

It will cast itself as a problem for some years to come.

Mr. Hoover is a problem politician. He lacks in personality, yet he typifies a capitalistic-industrial epoch pecular to the United States. He succeeded the bosses of old, the feudal lords. His religion was capitalism in a higher sense. It still is. But his religion is as alien to the New Deal as is that of the surviving bosses or even the new midwest "liberals".

And the New Deal, itself suddenly may find itself in the spot in which Mr. Hoover now stands. The once progressives may stop in their tracks and let the world thunder on.

STANDING STILL

Mr. Hoover has permitted the world to thunder on.

William Jennings Byran, the youthful reformer, likewise became the antagonist of evolution in a queer, Don Quixotic windmill-attacking battle.

President Roosevelt himself may suffer the same fate. He may decide to stand pat the remainder of his life on the present phases of the New Deal—and the world may thunder on, while he clings to emptiness.

Men cannot see. They rage and rant at others—for their own shortcomings. And the world thunders on.

CHEERS

Worst of all such men take the slightest cheering to be a mandate.

Mr. Hoover stage-managed his arrival in Cleveland so that a cheering throng greeted him.

The cheers probably were the most resounding since he had been in the presidency.

And his entrance into the convention hall was equally dramatic.

He probably thought to himself: "You see, people still think well of me, still desire me, to save them from impending disaster."

We must shun change, we must go forward in the old paths, he reasoned. We must listen to an oracle. And the oracle spoke.

WHO WILL LIVE?

The midwesterners riding to power smiled. So he considered himself an oracle, did he?

Well—ha, ha, ha.

Let's applaud the old boy, anyway.

But may there not be a possibility that Mr. Hoover will have the last smile anyway? Isn't there danger in applauding?

Isn't is possible that the midwesterners, riding to power, may be annihilated by the crossfire between the ramparts of the Real Conservatives and the Real Radicals? Aren't the midwesterners in the most dangerous spot? Isn't Mr. Hoover more likely to survive if this battle comes on?

Anyway, that is a thought which occurs to one who has observed the affair in Cleveland. Not that there is any real cheering for Mr. Hoover, but he does represent a mooring post that many and many a Tory can recognize.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

BLUNT COUNSEL

He was never much to talk; never eloquent or long;
Took for granted that we knew what he taught of right and wrong;
Said the decend deed was best; said the way to be a man
Was to work from day to day and to do the best you can.
If a lender, easy be; never quarrel over pelf;
But remember to be hard and unyielding with yourself.

He was never one to preach. Once I went to him and sought
His advice about a bill for some foolish thing I'd bought,
And I think I could have proved that the price was much too high,
That the goods were not the same they'd persuaded me to buy.
"Pay the bill," was all he said. "'Twas a bargain bad you made.
But though good or bad the debt you'll feel better when it's paid."

Never flowery in his speech; rather plain and blunt was he.
Said: "Be easy with your friend; with yourself hard-hearted be;
Make yourself do what is right, make yourself the laws obey.
Let the others shirk their cares, but you take the harder way;
Grant what favors may be asked; 'tis a pleasant thing to do.
But don't you expect or ask other men to favor you."

Thus he kept his self-respect, thus he lived and thus he died;
Never went beyond his means, never wanted joys denied.
If we ever talked of faults by our neighbors plainly shown,
He would say: "'Twould better be if so well you saw your own."
Very simple was his speech; this is all he'd ever say:
"Never look upon a debt as a thing you needn't pay."

TODAY Is The Day

FRIDAY' JUNE 12

Notable Nativities—Charles L. McNary, b. 1870, senator from Oregon. ...Anthony Eden, b. 1897, foreign secretary of Britain....Sir Oliver Lodge, b. 1851, British physicist and spiritualist.

Today's Yesterdays—June 12, 1776—Foundation of democratic government in America was laid in the Virginia convention at Williamsburg by George Mason, 51, planter, whose declaration of rights was adopted unanimously. It declared that all men are by nature equally free, and are invested with inalienable rights—namely, the enjoyment of life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness and safety; that all power is vested in, and consequently derived from the people; that government is, or ought to be, instituted for the common benefit and security of the people and that when government shall fail to perform its required functions, a majority of the people shall have the inalienable rights to reform or abolish it, etc.

As may be judged, Mason's declaration suggested the Constitution of the United States. He even was a member of the Constitutional convention, but he refused to sign the U. S. Constitution and, with Patrick Henry, led the fight agianst its ratification by Virginia!

June 12, 1798—Samuel Cooper was born, in Hackensack, N. J., son of a Revolutionary soldier. Though a northerner, his love of his wife, a granddaughter of the aforementioned George Mason, caused Cooper to resign as adjutant-general of the U. S. army and acting secretary of war, in 1861, to join the Confederates. He was made adjutant and inspector-general of the Confederate army and first on the list of generals. Thus a northerner outranked Lee in the southern army in the opening years of the rebellion!

June 12 Among State Histories: 1775—First sea fight of the Revolution took place at Machias, Me., a victory for the Americans....1838—Territory of Iowa erected, including all Wisconsin west of the Mississippi river, with Burlington as its capital. ...1905—The highest speed ever attained by a passenger train was reached by the Broadway Limited of the Pennsylvania R. R., in a stretch near Ana, O.—three decades before streamlining! It's record: 127.2 m. p. h.

It's True—125 Years Ahead of his time: 125 years ago this month, L. A. Berblinger, a tailor of Ulm, Bavaria, leaped from the city wall with wings on his shoulders, and crashed into the Danube as thousands cheered. Ulm shops still sell comic postcards of a man so ridiculous as to try to travel by air.

J. P. Morgan wears a tin lid—his own idea—over a pipe when he smokes it, so his home folk can't complain about dropped ashes.

The paper on which is the will of Joseph Stanley, who died in 1770, is now worth more than the amount that it devised. Because it bears the rare signature of Button Gwinnett, signer of the Declaration of Independence, it is worth $10,000.

The greatest writer was a poor writer: the existing script of William Shakespere is like the hen-scratchings of a small boy.

Mrs. Sista Corona, Mexican, bore 13 children before she was 24 years old.

M. L. Phares contributes: "Gunsenhouser, the real name of a real family, can be spelled 42,640 ways, and this doesn't exhaust the possibilities. If for n, mn as in mnemomics pn as in pneumonia, kn as in knowledge, etc., and other intricacies of English spelling are inculded, the number of way Gunne-sohnnhowse-ehrr can be spelled runs into more than a million."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AMERICA MUST AWAKEN.

Evidence that there is at least a friendly understanding between Communistic leaders and President Roosevelt's head brain trusters is too plain to be misunderstood or denied.

Felix Frankfurter, Brain Truster No. 1, for instance, says:

"We Americans are just the nucleus of a vast Collectivism in which business and private enterprise are just elements to be absorbed."

And Prof. Tugwell, Brain Truster No. 2, and who with Frankfurter occupy key positiions in the President's official family, goes a step further when he says:

"As a nation, we are witnessing the death struggle of industrial autocracy and the birth of Democratic Discipline, and our

Past Presidents Parley Luncheon At The Castleton

Four County Past Presidents Parley Luncheon Held At Castleton; To Be Annual Event

The ballroom of The Castleton hotel fairly hummed with the spirit of good fellowship and joviality on Thursday afternoon when members of the Past Presidents Parley of Beaver, Mercer, Butler and Lawrence counties assembled for their first luncheon, attracting guests numbering a hundred and upwards. Mrs. William Beister, Jr., of Philadelphia was guest speaker.

Banquet tables, in the spacious ballroom, were banked with orange blossoms, snapdragons and other choice flowers of the season, intermingled with leaf like fern, lending color to setting. The speakers table was especially attractive, with tapers and American flags completing the arrangement. At each place were found dainty hankies, cleverly tied to form a miniature corsage, in various hues. Past presidents of Crawford and Venango counties were special guests of the occasion. Mrs. A. M. Little, chaplain of Greenville auxiliary, gave the invocation.

Mrs. C. V. Homer of Greenville, chairman, presided as toastmistress, and introduced the speakers in a most gracious manner, following the serving of a sumptuous menu. At intervals throughout the afternoon Mrs. Dosh Anderson, secretary of the Four County Council, of Beaver, contributed a group of vocal selections, with piano accompaniment.

Those seated at the speakers table included the following: Mrs. N. E. Ripper of Evans City, Mrs. Mary Doty of Aliquippa, Mrs. William Loudon of Beaver, Mrs. Bruce Denniston of Slippery Rock and Mrs. Charles Edwards of Rochester, the latter active president of the council.

A most inspiring message was given by past National President Mrs. William Beister, Jr., of Philadelphia, who has the distinction of having visited all government facilities in the United States. She told of the splendid work being carried on constantly for the ex-service men and women through the parley organization, and named a number of outstanding accomplishments.

Mrs. H. Sloan of Fort Washington gave an appropriate response when called upon as the next speaker.

Mrs. Mary Applegate of Sharon added a distinguished note to the meeting by her presence, she being the first woman to organize an auxiliary, in 1920, and was assisted with this project by Tom Boyle, now manager of The Castleton hotel. She made a few welcome remarks, as did Mrs. J. Reary, national legislative chairman, of Cleveland, O., who spoke on "Legislation".

A program of entertainment ensued, with Mary Elizabeth Uber and a group of her dance students taking part. "The Eagle" was the first dance given by Mary Elizabeth Uber, together wtih Dorothy Castner and Louise Lemley. A novelty "Military Tap" by Vivian Lemley pleased, and a specialty number, "Over There", was put on by Mary Elizabeth Uber, Charlotte Snyder, Louise Lemley, Wilda Stewart and Dorothy Castner. Mrs. J. B. Hammond was the accompanist.

A social period was featured afterward when the women became better acquainted. It was unanimously voted to make this occasion an annual affair, and already the women are looking forward to their next assembly.

Mrs. C. V. Homer concluded in expressing appreciation for the cooperation given by committees in charge of arrangements, in making the afternoon such an overwhelming success, and repeated the benediction.

Achieves Honors At Westminster

New Castle Girl Is Named To Number Of Important Places At School

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 12.—Mary Jane Metzler, New Castle junior at Westminster college, has been one of the outstanding women in the junior class during the year.

METZLER

She was recently elected president of the Women's Athletic Association for 1936-37, an organization representing over 250 college women. She is also a member of Psi Nu, women's honorary journalistic fraternity; Y. W. C. A. cabinet; and secretary of Target, senior women's honorary fraternity.

Miss Metzler has been a member of the Campus committee; literary editor of the Argo, student yearbook; and reporter on the Holcad, student paper. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

In New Castle high school, she was president of the Girl Reserves and active in sports. She is a social science major; and her favorite sports are hockey and basketball.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Metzler, 404 Park avenue, New Castle.

BEER-BOTTLE DOME FOR NEW CAPITOL

(International News Service)

SALEM, Ore.—A number of bizarre suggestions have been made to state officials here in connection with the construction of Oregon's new capitol building.

If officials acted on all the suggestions they have received, the building would have:

A dome of beer bottles, with each bottle lighted by a small globe.

Beacon lights on the tower for guidance of airplanes.

An imitation rooster for a weather vane.

A mass of neon decorations.

At least five or six stories.

Officials said they have received thousands of letters of suggestion.

FINGERS IN GILLS SNARED THIS FISH

(International News Service)

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Enter this in the "fish story contest" for 1936.

Lonnie Goodwin, minus hook or line, while walking past the shallow waters of the Columbia canal, spied a big fish.

He dived in.

Lonnie hooked his fingers in the gills of his scaly foe.

Then the water-battle started.

Two spectators were attracted to the scene.

They dived in.

They pulled Lonnie out.

He was still clinging to an eight foot 289-pound sturgeon.

strategy is to surge forward with the Workers and Farmers * * * It is well enough known by now what the leadership of President Roosevelt commits America to, and by what methods further achievements will be made."

Note the similarity of the Frankfurter-Tugwell declarations, with a speech delivered in Moscow by Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States. Browder says:

"Our task (in America) is now to rally the disillusioned masses into an anti-Fascist and an anti-capitalistic political movement, with the development of a WORKERS' and FARMERS' Labor Party as the goal."

In a nation-wide radio hook-up on March 5 this year, Browder repeated that the Communist program in this country is to formulate a Farmer-Labor Party.

And the "Daily Worker" of New York, official Communist newspaper, takes up the chorus as follows:

"Forward to united action in the battle for political freedom, social security and economic justice. Forward to a national Farmer-Labor Party."

The danger in this sort of propaganda lies in the subtle and misleading wording of their propaganda.

For instance, they appeal for "political freedom, social security and economic justice." Obviously, every right-thinking man and woman favors all of that. But up to the present time, after 18 years of rule in Russia, the home of Communism, there are none of these, but on the contrary, the people are the slaves of government, with a small group of Communistic terrorists ruling 100,000,000 helpless people with an iron hand.

The Communistic campaign in this country is being carried on through governmental channels, through the churches, schools, colleges and universities and the unsettled business conditions is giving them followers by the thousands. Promises mean nothing to a Communistic agitator. They are broken as jauntily as they are made.

Their goal is tyrannical dictatorship, and when they tell you it can't happen in this country, you had better watch your step. It can happen. It may not last. But it will lead to bloodshed.

Take no chances this year. Line up for the U. S. A.

guard of honor presented arms, and while the king sat on his throne "God Save the King" was played.

England believes in keeping up old customs.

MR. DEWEY, who sent the head of New York's vice ring and eight well-paid assistants to prison, to stay as long as they live, unless they can buy their way out, says one of his assistants was offered a New York Supreme Court judgeship if he would reveal the prosecution's secrets.

The offer was backed with another offer to put up $250,000 cash to guarantee that the judgeship would be forthcoming.

THE IDEA of offering a Supreme Court judgeship in return for favors to criminals is new.

Citizens will wonder who was able to offer the judgeship, with a quarter of a million dollars guarantee; and whether judgeships have ever been disposed of in this fashion before.

FRANCE has a new problem. Extreme radicals that won the election demand and get the 40-hour week for French workers, with no cut in wages. If you pay more for work, you must charge more for goods, and less radical Frenchmen are afraid that France will lose her foreign trade, if she has to put her prices up, especially as her money, theoretically on a gold basis, is high in price.

Over there they know that our dollar is worth fifty-nine cents, so the four-cent franc sells for about seven cents.

It is a complicated world, with so many nations using so many kinds of money, worse than France before Louis the Eleventh.

SPAIN PROVES that it is possible for a country to be too radical for its own good. Labor troubles and discussions have put one million Spanish workers out of their jobs, a good many for Spain; and Spanish radicalism goes beyond other kinds; many have been killed by "terrorists."

Here, we envy any country that talks about "one million" idle; since we are alleged to have more idle than all other civilized countries put together, but at least we have no open killing by professed terrorists—only our racketeers and occasional secret society murders.

MEN OUT of work in Germany number only 1,491,201. According to the labor union authorities, men out of work in the United States number about 12,000,000. How do you explain that?

Difference in population does not explain it. Can it be that "buying yourself out of a depression" is not practical?

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, June 12.—People and Palaver: George Abbott, the gangling, gray-templed producer and author, is one of the few playwrights I know who writes exclusively in long-hand. . . . He is now in the midst of three compositions—a comedy of his own, a collaboration with Rodgers and Hart (musical) and a version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." . . . He hops from one to the other without ever getting writer's cramp, and turns up at all the uppity Broadway parties into the bargain. . . . Carl Brisson, the Danish warbler and movie hero, has a smile the tooth-paste manufacturers dream about. . . . I don't know why, but there's a giggle in the idea of Billy Rose in Texas; I'd give a nickel to see him on a horse. . . .

William Powell apparently goes on enacting echoes of "The Thin Man," which was such a hit. . . . "The Ex Mrs. Bradford" is the deftest of these versions so far. . . . But why not try a new tack? . . . A merry tale of how Vincent Price, who plays Prince Albert in "Victoria Regina" and whose papa is a candy manufacturer, had a box of all-day suckers emblazoned with the name "Helen Hayes" made and presented to the star. . . . It is impossible to suck the name off the candy, and cast and stagehands have tried diligently. . . . Incidentally, Miss Hayes has received thousands of dollars worth of strange and ingenious Queen Victoria memorabilia since she began playing the part, including a portrait of the queen done on the inside of an eggshell and jeweled. . . .

The most memorable act in any night club, at the moment, is for this reporter the turn done by a brother and sister at the Hollywood Cabaret. . . . They are Charlotte and Charles Lamberton and they are said to be absolutely deaf and incapable of speech. . . . The drummer gives them a heavy beat during their whirls and tango tapping, which they pick up through their feet. . . . Red-heads, they are both in their teens and Charlotte is a raving beauty. . . .

Phil Spitalny, the bandman, tells me that he nearly went crazy trying to find 32 girls who combined beauty and musical ability. . . . It was for one of those so-popular gal jazz aggregations. . . . Dorothy Parker's limerick might be re-written; "Men seldom make passes at girls who blow brasses." . . .

How to put on the ritz: The Hudson River Day Line's Show Boat Rides will be known this season as "The Day Line Evening Cruises." . . . The idiotic game of "handies," which involves the representation of the names of songs and popular phrases through cute poses and gesticulations continues to make parlors hideous roundabout. . . . But your reporter, donning his beard, solemnly predicts that "handies" will be forgotten in a month and will not even form a footnote to some future historian's "Only Yesterday" researching. . . . It lacks even the exotic appeal of Mah-Jong when that wierd game was first introduced. . . . The Monopoly boards seem to be gathering dust, also, and I'm told stewards had to search closets to find a backgammon board at the Union League Club the other night.

LE DEJEUNER CLUB LUNCHEON ASSEMBLY

Le Dejeuner club associates, were entertained in a most cordial manner Thursday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. Jack Melvin on Sumner avenue, the occasion being in the form of a 1:30 o'clock luncheon, and too, provided a medium of revealing to friends, that the hostess, accompanied by her sister, Mildred Burelson and Margaret Preston, will leave Tuesday of the coming week, for California. This proved a complete surprise to her guests, and all extended best wishes for a safe journey. They plan on remaining in the West for a period of two months.

In a decorative setting that reminded one of a June garden, the guests partook of a filling luncheon menu. The dining table was adorned with a cluster of choice blooms, adding further to the colorful arrangement. Miss Burelson was a special guest of the occasion.

Bridge ensued, lovely favors falling to Mrs. Leon Lawton and Mrs. John Morgan for their success in winning honors.

As the guests were about to depart, they were taken by surprise, when their hostess presented each with a beautiful gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford A. Hoyland will be hosts Thursday, June 25 to the club at a dinner party, husbands being special guests.

UNIQ-CLIQ MEMBERS AT EARL RESIDENCE

Uniq-Cliq club associates met with Mrs. Jack Earl on Harrison street Thursday evening for an informal period of card playing. Mrs. Francis Morrissey was welcomed into the organization as a new member, and Mrs. Ray Webb shared as a special guest.

Prizes fell to Mrs. Glenn Chesney and Mrs. Francis Morrissey for holding top scores at the close of the contest, and later, the hostess served a delicoius lunch.

On June 25 Mrs. Arthur Sampson, Young street, will receive members at her home.

WHYLE-AWAY CLUB AFTERNOON EVENT

Most enjoyable was the dessert-bridge party held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. H. Fehl on Ray street by members of the Whyle-Away Bridge club, marking another of their bi-weekly gatherings.

Cards held attention after the serving of tempting dessert by the hostess. Mrs. E. H. Fehl and Mrs. Joseph W. Campbell received the awards, the former also being recipient of the galloping award.

Mrs. David Fisher of Young street will entertain on Thursday, June 25, at her home.

Coming From West

Mrs. Nettie Barton and daughter, Thelma, are expected to arrive here Sunday from Rialo, California, friends learn. Mrs. Barton is the daughter of Mrs. Rhoda Cameron, West Pittsburg road.

BALDWIN CHORUS DINNER AT CHURCH

The Baldwin Ladies chorus closed a most enjoyable season of activities Thursday evening, when they met in the Highland U. P. church for a dinner party. Approximately twenty-five were in attendance, with five special guests, including Mrs. Earl Carpenter of Monaca, and a former member, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Mrs. Groves, Mrs. Thomas Lindsey and Mrs. Helen Ingham. The latter replaced Mrs. Carpenter as pianist for the organization. Each received a dainty shoulder bouquet in behalf of the members.

A tempting menu was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Lee Pyle, chairman, aided by Mrs. H. A. Wilkison, Mrs. Clyde Burry, Mrs. Ralph Cline and Mrs. G. Ligo. The tables were attractively arranged with seasonal appointments and individual favors, the work of Mrs. Harold McCulloch.

A social period followed, and a rehearsal period was a feature, with Mrs. June Bernard, directress.

PEGGY JENNINGS IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

In her home at 732 Butler avenue, Miss Peggy Jennings proved herself a most excellent hostess Thursday evening when she invited the G. G. club members to her home for their regular meeting.

During the evening hours various types of games were enjoyed and a short business meeting conducted. The members decided that if the weather permitted they would meet at Troop F stables this morning and go for a short horseback ride.

At a suitable hour a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. T. Jennings.

Eleventh Birthday

Twenty-one young guests helped Mary Lou Johnson of Allen street, celebrate her eleventh birthday on Thursday afternoon. The event had been arranged surprise fashion by Mary Lou's mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson, and proved most delightful in every respect.

Games, tap dancing and piano music were offered for the amusement of the guests, and later a delicious birthday luncheon, in pink and white, was served by Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Frank Papst. Spring flowers were used as decorations.

The honored girl received a number of lovely gifts.

Mrs. Leyde Entertains

Mrs. Joseph Leyde entertained the Dorcas class of the First Congregational church at her home on Highland avenue Wednesday evening. The devotions were led by Miss Hannah Richards.

Mrs. Leyde and Miss Richards were appointed chairmen, respectively, of July and August picnic committee, and will arrange the plans for those events.

Luncheon was served with attractive green and white appointments and peonies were used through the home. Mrs. Deroy Parker, of Mercer, was a special guest. Mrs. William Jones assisted in serving.

VITELLI-AUDIA WEDDING THURSDAY

In the presence of several hundred friends and relatives, Miss Theresa Vitelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vitelli, of 919 South Mercer street, became the bride of Joseph Audia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Audia, of 808 South Mill street, at an impressive ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of the St. Vitus church, Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed before the attractively arranged altar which was decorated with a profusion of the choicest selection of blooms of the season. The wedding party marched slowly to the altar as the St. Vitus church choir rendered appropriate selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was stunning in a white satin gown made entrain, with a veil of real lace caught with clusters of orange blossoms. The bride's arm bouquet was of calla lilies. Miss Emily Galasso, a close associate of the bride, was maid of honor and was beautifully attired in an aqua blue gown and carried an armful of pink roses. Frank Merando served as best man.

Following, a wedding dinner was served the bridal party, relatives and a few invited guests, in the home of Mrs. Carrie Sands, 814 South Mercer street, the bride's aunt. The room was arranged in a tone of blue and white. Serving were: Mrs Jennie Bullano, Mrs. Lena Bullano, Mrs. Carrie Sands, Jennie Marcella, Margaret Biondi, Mary Biondi, Frances Sands, Mrs. Concetta Ascione. Mrs. Mary Biondi prepared the entire meal.

Late Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Audia departed for an extended honeymoon through the state of Florida. Upon returning, they will reside at 919 South Mercer street.

Mrs. Audia graduated from the New Castle high school with the class of 1930.

Mrs. Mary Campoli, Mrs. Steve Naples, Mrs. Rose Mangini and daughter, Peter Barbone, all of Youngstown, were out of town guests.

Semper Fidelis Club

Mrs. H. A. Fazzone was a charming hostess Thursday evening to her associates of the Semper Fidelis club at her residence, 204 Park avenue. Various contests were enjoyed by the assembly, with prizes going to the following. In cards, Mrs. Carm Sacco received the award, and also the club favor; Brisco, Mrs. Frank Fazzone; Bingo, Mrs. Carm Sacco, Mrs. Marie Felasco, Mrs. Carl Tranquillo, Mrs. H. A. Fazzone and Mrs. E. H. Scarazzo.

Lunch was served at a suitable hour, at the individual card tables, which were made attractive with seasonal appointments. A short business period ensued, and they planned their next meeting on June 25 with Mrs. Marie Felasco, Huron avenue.

Moonlight 500 Club

Mrs. George Woodring's home on Almira avenue was the scene of an enjoyable meeting Thursday evening, when Mrs. Harry Leathers presided as hostess to members of the Moonlight 500 club. Cards filled in the diversion period, with Mrs. Charles Dart, a special guest, Mrs. George Schlumberger and Mrs. Harry Leathers winning the prizes. Dainty sweets were served throughout the contest.

Before departing, each guest was given a lovely bouquet of peonies by Mrs. Leathers.

On June 25, the club will meet with Mrs. George Schlumberger on Spruce street.

Iona Kensington

Members of the Iona Kensington were entertained in a pleasing manner Thursday, by Mrs. Edward Carr. Cards, music and conversation filled in the hours, with prizes for the contests entered into, falling to Mrs. George Carr and Mrs. V. Arthur Smith.

A tempting lunch was served as the following feature, and plans were made for their next assembly to be held with Mrs. George Carr of Delaware avenue, on June 25.

WIMODAUSIS PICNIC AT CASCADE JUNE 17

Plans are completed for the picnic outing to be held at Cascade park on Wednesday, June 17, by Wimodausis club women when they gather with their families for the annual outing.

Mrs. Ann Harris is general chairman in charge, and she announces that much enthusiasm is being registered this year, in particular, for the occasion which will attract a large attendance. Her committee of aides has been working diligently on various plans, and a number of features for children and adults will add much to the day's program.

A tureen dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock in the grove, the women each taking well filled tureens and supplies sufficient for their own family.

G. T. E. Club.

G. T. E. club members met with Mrs. Cecil Logan, Brooklyn avenue, Thursday evening, having as a special guest Mrs. Fred Robinson. The hours were spent leisurely with bridge, trophies going to Mrs. Jack Jones, Mrs. Charles Alexander and Mrs. Charles Richardson at conclusion of play.

While the members chatted over recent happenings, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Earl White, served a dainty menu at the small tables. Cut flowers added color to the setting, forming the centerpieces and also adorned the rooms throughout.

Mrs. George Price invited the group to her home on East Washington street, June 25.

Amerita Club

Bridge was in play at the home of Angeline and Amella Iacobucci on Summit street Thursday evening, with Amerita club members participating. Helen Villani and Mrs. Norman Cuscino received the awards in cards while the club favors went to Mrs. Nicholas Altobelli and Mrs. Nicholas George.

Special guests were Helen Villani, Virginia Iacobucci and Mrs. Anthony Monico, the latter of Warren, Ohio.

Lunch was served by the hostess, with appointments being carried out in red and white tones. Mrs. Nicholas Altobelli of DuShane street, will entertain on June 25, at her home.

R. F. C. S. Class

The R. F. C. S. class of the First Baptist church had a class meeting Wednesday evening at the home of the teacher, Miss Viola Scheidemantle, and enjoyed a hamburg fry.

Devotions were led by Miss Betty Hackett. A business meeting was conducted, during which the following officers were elected:

President, Esther Balogh; vice president, Ida Elmore; secretary, Virginia Hay; treasurer, Eva Grace Caven.

The president appointed Mary Felix, Julia Kish, Virginia Hay and Gail Warnock to the social committee. Plans were made for summer activities.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Catherine Ritchie, Canyon street, entertained about 40 guests in her home on Thursday evening at a delightful surprise miscellaneous shower honoring her sister Carolyn whose marriage to Nick Mitlo, Pine street, will occur on June 25.

Games and music were the chief diversions of the evening. At an appointed time, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Josephine Mariacher and Miss Rose Ritchie. The honored guest was showered with many lovely gifts.

R. and R. Club Meeting.

Mrs. Harold Brown of Long avenue extended hospitality to members of the R. and R. club in her home Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Jesse Wilson winning the prize for honors in the featured contest of 500. Mrs. Kathryn Figuly and Dorothy Usselton shared as special guests of the occasion.

Following the serving of lunch, plans were made for their next meeting to be held on June 24 with Mrs. Paul Beynon, Pennsylvania avenue.

W. C. B. Class.

W. C. B. class of Wesley M. E. church assembled in the home of Mrs. Hazen Huling, Grandview avenue, Thursday evening, with an attendance of 11 members.

Mrs. Will Dibbley led the worship program. Mrs. George Edwards, the vice president, was in charge of the business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Emma Leslie. A social time followed and delicious candy was served by the hostess.

A tureen dinner is planned for July 9.

Notre Dame Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lastoria and children Marie, Michael and Albert, have returned from Cincinnati, O., where they attended the graduation exercises of Notre Dame Academy, their daughter, Mary E. Lastoria, having been a member of the June graduating class. She graduated with high honors and has enrolled at St. Xavier College for the three-month summer course.

While in Cincinnati, the Lastoria family were guests of honor at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. S. Pera, relatives, at the Mayfair club.

P. W. Club

P. W. club members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Orpha McConnell on Vine street Wednesday evening with cards and chat as diversions. Scores was held by Mrs. Orpha McConnell and Mrs. Elizabeth Bruce. Mrs. Mary Carvella was a special guest of the occasion and Mrs. Mildred Cartwright presided as hostess.

On June 24 the club will meet with Mrs. Elizabeth Bruce, Bleakley avenue.

Saturday.

STATE LEADERS ACCLAIM G. O. P. PLATFORM

Davis Says It's Good Platform

Especially Pleased With Strong Stand Against Foreign Entanglements

STATE DELEGATION SOLID FOR LANDON

By SYDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—Popular acclaim of the Pennsylvania delegation today was bestowed on the 1936 campaign platform adopted by the Republican National Convention.

"I think it's a very good platform and I'm sure we can win in Pennsylvania with it," said Senator James J. Davis, chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation, who inspected the document closely before giving the national resolutions committee an "okay" for Pennsylvania.

Stay Out Of League

"We made a pledge and we will keep it," Davis added with emphasis. He was especially pleased with the strong stand taken by the platform against foreign entanglements and for remaining out of the League of Nations and the World Court.

U. S. Senator David A. Reed, who as a member of the national resolutions committee, played an important part in its framing, was non-committal. It was Reed who represented the more conservative eastern section, the bankers, financiers and large industrialists in the resolutions committee discussions. His sentiment on the platform planks for minimum wage laws, outlawing of sweatshops and old age security was not disclosed.

The tariff plank was written into the platform in virtually the same words of the plank submitted to the Pennsylvania caucus by Rep. John M. Flynn, Elk county, considered the spokesman for former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy.

Cast 75 For Landon

Pennsylvania cast its 75 votes for its native son, Gov. Alf M. Landon, for president. The governor of Kansas was born in West Middlesex, Mercer county. Pennsylvania's sister state, New Jersey, clinched Landon's nomination with its vote.

As the time for voting drew near in the tense convention hall, Davis hurriedly called the Pennsylvania delegation into caucus for a final poll on presidential nominees. Quickly the word sped from row to row and everywhere the word was the same—Landon. Those delegates who had so staunchly supported other possibilities gave way and acquiesced quickly for hours before it had been known that Landon's nomination by acclamation on the first ballot was inevitable.

Attempts to weld an "understanding" between New York and Pennsylvania, the two largest delegations, on the question of a vice presidential nominee were not immediately successful. After numerous confabs during which the two state delegations became intrigued with the idea of joining forces and virtually dictating the second place choice, Pennsylvania and New York remained far apart and no agreement was reached.

Quick squelching of the boom for State Supreme Court Justice George W. Maxey, of Scranton, in caucus was considered a victory for the Grundy forces. Maxey was considered unacceptable to Grundy.

Husbands must have been better in the old days. Their wives could endure them without the help of liquor.

To Spend Summer In New Mexico

DR CHARLES FREEMAN

NEW WILMINGTON, June 12.—Following his forty-second year of teaching in the department of Chemistry at Westminster college, Dr. Charles Freeman, accompanied by his wife, plan to return to Santa Fe, New Mexico, where they were married twenty-five years ago, to spend the summer vacation.

Over three thousand students have studied chemistry under Dr. Freeman at Westminster. On his vacation, Dr. Freeman expects to fish and play golf, his favorite sport.

During the recent Commencement exercises, Dr. Freeman played a round of golf with three of his former students of the class of 1901.

Irma Shiderly who underwent an operation in the Salem hospital has recovered enough to return to her home.

The Queen Esther class gathered at the Sam Fullerton home Wednesday evening for their monthly meeting, with twenty-seven present. After a short business meeting the evening was turned over to the playing of games furnished by the committee, Doreathea Gilmore and Gertrude Davis. Later in the evening lunch was served by the committee Ethel Weller and Margaret Fullerton. Everyone reported a good time.

Queen Esthers To Give Pageant At Croton Church

Ancient And Modern Principals Of Queen Esther Will Be Exemplified

On Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, the Queen Esther circle of the Croton M. E. church will present a Queen Esther pageant in the church auditorium under the direction of Miss Marjorie Rhodes.

The pageant is divided into two parts. The first depicts the ancient court of Queen Esther, and the second, a modern application of the virtues exemplified by the heroic queen.

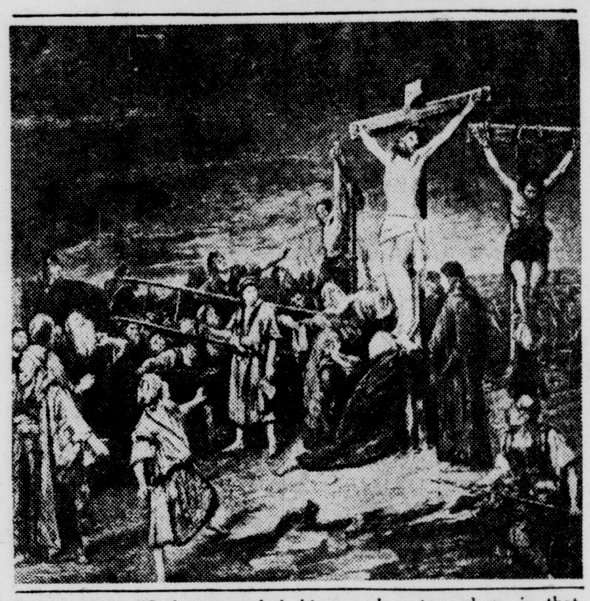
The program for the evening follows:

Organ prelude—Mrs. Charles R. Campbell.
Scripture—Mrs. C. V. Pyle.
Prayer—Mrs. Fred Hill.
Offertory.
Pageant.
Queen Esther—Elma Wright.
Hand maidens—Mary Crisci, Betelou Kenehan, Mary Scott, Pauline Ehart, Sara Sheehy, Minta Sheehy.
Reader—Pattie Mae Blaine.
Youth—Doris Leonard.
Time—Louise Munnell.
Pages—Dorothy Doerr, Geraldine Crowe.
Soloist—Clara Edie.
Attendants—Kathryn Grove, Lucille Braby, Dorothy Ramsey, Hazel Sheehy, Gula Robinson, Marjorie Truxall.
Ushers—Wanda Wynder, Twila Truxall, Ethel Munnell.

JESUS CRUCIFIED

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



Romans 5:8—"God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for June 14 is Luke 23:1-56, especially verses 33-46, the Golden Text being Romans 5:8, "God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.")

The cross of Christ is at once the utmost both of man's sin and God's grace, "Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound." At Calvary human hatred reached its blackest hue and divine love shines forth most radiantly.

Christ Before Pilate

Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, before whom Jesus was led for trial, made no less than nine distinct efforts to release Jesus, as follows: (1) "Take him yourselves and judge him according to your law" (John 18:31); (2) "I find no crime in him" (John 18:38); (3) "And when he knew that he was of Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod" (Luke 23:7); (4) "Ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover; will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?" (John 18:39); (5) "Whether of the twain (Barabbas or Jesus) will ye that I release unto you?" (Matt. 27:21); (6) "Behold I bring him out to you, that ye may know that I find no crime in him" (John 19:4); (7) "I will therefore chastise him and release him" (Luke 23:22); (8) "Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King?" (John 19:15); (9) "He took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it" (Matt. 27:24). Thus Pilate sought to evade and avoid crucifying Jesus, and then weakly acquiesced in that which seemed necessary to placate the mob and make his own job secure. "And Pilate gave sentence that what they asked for should be done," and "Jesus he delivered up to their wills." There is no evasion of the question, "What shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?" We must either crown or crucify him!

The Words From the Cross

Seven words were spoken by our Lord while hanging on the cross, in which we may trace our Lord's own philosophy of life and that which his cross suggests to us. (1) In the first word is the outward look upon the needs of others: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do" (Luke 23:34). (2) In his second word we have his onward look beyond death into paradise, "Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in Paradise" (Luke 23:43) Death is by no means the end of life. There is much more beyond than on this side. (3) In his third word is his homeward look to provide for the security of his blessed mother in her old age in the home of his beloved disciple John: "Woman, behold thy son! . . . Behold thy mother" (John 19:27). (4) In his fourth word out of the darkness we have our Lord's downward look into the inexpressible horror of spiritual death which were the wages of our sin: "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" (Matt. 27-46). (5) In his fifth word we have his first inward look upon his own physical pain, "I thirst" (John 19:28). (6) His sixth word was a loud shout of victory and satisfaction induced by his backward look over a life completely fulfilling the will of God and finishing his mission in life: "It is finished (John 19:30). (7) Finally, came the upward look into his heavenly Father's face as he yielded up his spirit saying, "Father into thy hands I commend my spirit." Thus "Christ died for ours sins." No man took his life from him, he laid it down of himself and took it again in a glorious resurrection.

What A Savior

"Beneath a Syrian sky, Amid a rabble cry, A man went forth to die —For me!

"Thorn-crowned his blessed head, Blood-stained his every tread, Cross-laden, on he sped—For me! Lifted up was he to die; 'It is finished,' was his cry; Now in heaven exalted high; Hallelujah! What a Savior!"

Highland U. P. Program Plans

Program Of Children's Exercises Will Be Conducted On Sunday Morning

Children's Day will be observed Sunday in Highland U. P. church with a program of exercises by the cradle roll, beginner, primary and junior departments. The superintendents of these departments are: Cradle roll, Mrs. T. J. McFate; beginners, Mrs. C. G. Lindner; primary, Mrs. W. H. Gillespie; junior, Mrs. J. B. Love.

The devotional exercises will be led by young people from the Intermediate department of which Mrs. F. L. Burton is superintendent. The Bible school session will begin as usual at 10 a. m. and continue half an hour, when all will adjourn to the auditorium for the program by the children. The Children's Day program has been arranged by Mrs. Mendal Smith, member of the cabinet for special days. The service will close at 11:35 a. m.

Hope To Secure Road Roller For Street Paving Work

Some action on getting a road roller for the street paving projects of the WPA in New Castle is expected when a contract will be let in Harrisburg by the Procurement Division, according to Director J. Vale Downie.

The projects cannot get under way until a roller is secured but Mr. Downie hopes that the contract will be let Saturday and the roller secured Monday.

No wonder movie magazines are popular. We also like to read the ads that brag on our favorite car.

PRESTO, HE'S OUT $1,000

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn.—Reputed to have won $10,000 last September in a sweepstakes, John F. Williams, Negro, brought to police a sad tale of losing $1,000 in a flim-flam game. A knotted handkerchief he was led to believe contained $4,800 including his own cash, only had paper and safety match covers.

Jams and Jellies have twice the Flavor made this easy way!

So hurry! Take advantage of your grocer's bargains . . . Buy strawberries right away and make up several batches of jam! With our easy recipe, you can make a batch in no time at all . . . in less than 15 minutes after your fruit is prepared!

The reason is that with Certo you boil such a short time . . . only ½ minute, for jellies; a little longer for jams.

WHY YOU GET BETTER FLAVOR

That short boil is the reason, too, that you get better flavor. All the flavor stays right in the fruit, instead of boiling away in steam, as it does by the old-fashioned method! Jams and jellies made with Certo have all the rich lusciousness of the fresh, ripe fruit! No "boiled-down" taste.

You get so much more from your fruit, too, when you use Certo. Half again more glasses than you would get by the old, long-boil way. That's because no juice is lost, by wasteful long-boiling.

This wonderful Certo, that makes jam and jelly making so easy, is a product of General Foods. © G. F. Corp., 1936

BIG PRICE REDUCTION! YOU CAN NOW BUY CERTO AT A NEW LOW PRICE. SO CERTO JAMS AND JELLIES ARE MORE ECONOMICAL THAN EVER.

RICHMAN BROTHERS

FINE CLOTHES MAKERS SINCE 1879

The suits in this photograph taken from our own regular stock

THE FINEST LOW-PRICE CLOTHES MADE

ONE of our many pleased customers recently told us that he had just bought his first Richman Brothers suit and was pleasantly surprised by the fine quality, smart style and perfect fit he got for $22.50.

He said the only reason he did not buy our clothes before was that he was afraid of our low price. Unfortunately, there are quite a number of such people in town, and it's really too bad, for they and we both lose by it.

In such cases, there's only one thing to do. Try a Richman Brothers suit, and let it speak for itself. We've convinced a million men. We've made and kept a million friends and boosters. A chance is all we ask to do the same for you.

If you're still on the fence, remember that we've been making clothes since 1879, that we sell them through our own stores, without middleman's profit, without wholesale selling expense, without credit costs and losses, without delivery overhead.

Governor Landon Is Nominated

Actual Nomination Is Accomplished At Cleveland Near Midnight

SELECTION IS MADE UNANIMOUS

CLEVELAND, June 12.—As cheers shook Public Hall, banners waved madly and a huge American flag descended from the ceiling, Gov. Alfred Mossman Landon of Kansas was nominated for president of the United States by the Republican national convention at 11:33 last night.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan was the most probable selection of the convention for vice president as Landon leaders went into conferences early this morning to discuss a running mate for the Kansas governor.

Vandenberg was favored by those leaders, who thought he undoubtedly would be the choice of the convention if he would accept, and it was believed he would go on the ticket if drafted by the convention.

The Michigan senator received an ovation last night when seconding Landon's nomination, which indicated he was acceptable to the delegates.

Gov. Landon was nominated unanimously after a roll call showed 984 votes for the Kansan and nineteen for Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, of which eighteen came from Wisconsin and one from West Virginia. Wisconsin then moved to make it unanimous. The motion carried.

Lincoln-Garfield Summer Picnic To Be Held July 12

Former Students Of South Side School To Gather In Enon Park For Affair

Meeting in the office of the president of the organization, Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, the committee handling the arrangements for the annual Lincoln-Garfield school picnic set the date for Sunday, July 12, and the place as Enon Park, near Enon Valley.

The summer picnic of the Lincoln-Garfield School Association is an annual affair just as the mid-winter reunion is an annual affair. The difference is this, however, the mid-winter reunion is stag while the picnic is for the families of former students. Each year has seen the crowd increase in size until the annual picnic is a huge affair with many committees needed to handle the multiplicity of arrangements.

President Edward D. Pritchard and the general committee named the sub-committees that will handle the picnic on July 12. John G. Moore will be the general chairman of the day with the following to assist him:

Past Presidents—Earl P. Reebel, Ralph Weide, Ben Hartland, John S. Love, Joshua Morgan, Edward J. Ryan, Charles G. McGrath, Coy Cole.

Prize Committee—John Moore, Jesse Kennedy, Robert Dukes, William Trick, Dave Nelson, Coy Cole.

Coffee Committee—Herb Samuels, Ralph Reed, Wm. Crane.

Table Committee—Ben Hartland, Henry Fletcher, Raymond McBride, Phillip Crane.

Prize Award Committee—Coy Cole, Joseph Dukes, Herb Samuels, James E. Thomas, William J. Lawton, William Trick, Jas. Dennis.

Transportation Committee—John Moore, Howard Meehan, Dave Nelson.

Publicity Committee—Tom Frank, Ed. Ryan, Al. Ellis, Edward Reese.

Registration Committee—Albert Ellis, Ed. Ryan, Ernest Smith, George H. Ward.

Sports Committee—Jesse Kennedy, chairman; Joseph Alexander, Dave Nelson, Joshua Morgan, William Lawton, Jos. Hartland, Ben Jones, William Trick, Al. Keeling, William Fletcher, George Thomas.

Speakers—Charles G. McGrath, Joseph Hartland, Joseph Alexander, Edward D. Pritchard, William A. Francis, Garfield Davis.

Swimming—Overseers and Life Guards—William Morgan and James Morgan.

Song Leaders—William A. Francis, James Carlisle, Raymond McBride, Wilfred Thomas, Griff Lewis.

Children's Committee—John S. Love, Tom Frank, Garfield Davis.

News Briefs From City Hall

"Do not put tin cans in the garbage can. If you do the garbage will not be lifted," Ed. Umbright, collector, said today. "By putting tin cans in a separate container both garbage and tin can removal will be expedited," he added.

Y. M. C. A. attaches complained at 12:42 a. m. today of boisterous talk and orchestra music in a nearby restaurant.

Acting Mayor J. Leon Fink today sentenced five persons on a charge of drunkenness to the wood-pile and five others similarly charged, to work on city dumps. They were men, it was reported, who constantly appear in police court.

One or both of the furnaces at the city garbage plant must be repaired this summer, Ed. Umbright, in charge of the plant, has notified council.

Police here were notified today of the theft from New York of 10 capsules each containing 10 millograms of radium valued at $3,500. The radium was bought in Switzerland, according to the teletype message from New York.

Modern efficiency: Building a thing to last ten years. "Improving" it to make you buy a new one next year.

Kay Stammers Tennis Winner

Defeats Helen Jacobs Of United States In Two Hard Fought Sets

(International News Service)

WIMBLEDON STADIUM, Eng., June 12.—Britain drew first blood in the Wightman Cup tennis matches today as southpaw Kay Stammers defeated Helen Jacobs of California, four times champion of the United States, in straight sets, 12-10, 6-1.

After giving the British star a hard fight in the first set, the American girl was unable to get going again after the intermission.

Miss Stammers consistently outmaneuvered Miss Jacobs in the second set, and the latter frequently shot into the net.

Both players skidded on the wet grass, made slippery by rain which forced a half-hour suspension of play during the first set. Miss Jacobs also stumbled once. The last three games of the second set were played in a steady drizzle.

TO ATTEND RALLY

A group of New Castle Townsend club members will go to Pittsburgh on Sunday afternoon, June 14 to hear Dr. Francis E. Townsend, head of the movement, speak at an outdoor rally in Kennywood park. The program opens at 1:30 Daylight time.

Republicans Will Attack

Campaign Of Aggression Likely To Be Policy During Presidential Battle

ATTACK METHODS USED BY NEW DEAL

Central Press Bureau at G. O. P. Convention

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, June 12.—The Republicans' campaign policy evidently is to be one of attack upon President Roosevelt's way of running things rather than a fight for any particular constructive program of their own.

This is assuming that Senator Frederick Steiwer, in his keynote speech at the Cleveland convention, and Representative Bertrand H. Snell, in his address as the convention's permanent chairman, correctly outlined the G. O. P.'s plans. Presumably they did. Convention keynoters and permanent chairmen usually know what they are talking about.

Neither Steiwer nor Snell suggested much as to what the Republicans, if they win, propose to do. Both dwelt upon what their party proposes to undo that has been done under the Roosevelt administration.

A DISTINCTION

It was not so much the New Deal that the two G. O. P. spokesmen criticized; it was the Rooseveltian method of doing the dealing.

Steiwer especially said that, at first, he thought rather well of some details of the present White House tenant's general scheme to lift the depression, and supported them.

But when the president began putting his system in operation it turned out, the keynoter charged, to be altogether different from what he, or anyone else except a few brain trusters, had expected.

F. D. R. BLAMED

It was Roosevelt personally whom Steiwer and Snell alike blamed for effecting what they described as a very radical change in the American form of government.

To be sure, congress voted to him the authority under which he did it, but congress, as remarked by Steiwer, who admits that he voted for several New Deal measures, had no idea what use he was about to make of the powers it conferred on him. Snell goes so far as to put it that he "seduced the legislative branch by billions in pork barrel patronage".

(Of course, the permanent chairman didn't mean to imply that Steiwer was 'seduced". Steiwer simply was deceived. The folk Snell meant to refer to as having been seduced were members of the Democratic majority on Capitol Hill.)

And now, added the chairman, the chief executive "casts a calculating eye upon the judiciary"—the federal supreme court, which has knocked out so much of his legislation as unconstitutional.

A DICTATOR?

Anyway, Steiwer and Snell agreed that Roosevelt is a dictator.

They appealed to the electorate to get rid of him next November, before he becomes too firmly intrenched ever to dislodge, and let a Republican regime restore to the country the form of government it enjoyed until he landed in office.

This can't exactly be called constructive.

It's destructive of what we have now in order to have again what we had formerly.

TURN BACK?

And will we be back where we were originally even if the Republicans do win?

Grant (for the sake of argument) that Roosevelt is a dictator.

It doesn't follow, however, that the folk who overthrow him will be able to re-establish just what existed until he dictated them out of it.

To the contrary, "revolutions never go backward".

So it would be interesting to know what the Republicans plan in the way of reconstruction after they get through with the destructive part of their job—supposing that they succeed at it.

District Heads Of Kiwanians To Be Honor Guests

Governors Finley And Cox Head Delegations Expected Here June 17

District Governor Frank E. Finley, Wilkinsburg, head of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district, and District Governor Albert R. Cox, Canton, O., head of the Ohio district, will head the delegations of Kiwanians that will assemble at the New Castle Field club for an inter-district golf tournament and evening dinner on Wednesday, June 17, it was definitely announced today. They will be honored during their visit.

With the district chiefs will come representatives of almost 70 Kiwanis clubs throughout the two districts

Golf, starting at 10 a. m. that day, will be the major interest of the visitors during the day. No special noon meeting is planned. In the evening will come the banquet, at which special entertainment will be provided and at which awards for the day's golf competition will be presented.

The New Castle and Sharon clubs have joined to sponsor the get-together and a joint committee is functioning. James E. Deegan is the head man for the New Castle committee.

Receipts Increase At Post Office

New Castle Receipts Climb To $159,842 During Past Year —305th Place In Nation

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.—Effective July first the salary of Postmaster Steen of New Castle will be boosted $100 annually.

The boost in Mr. Steen's pay results from an increase in the 1935 receipts of the New Castle post office. During the year, receipts at the office climbed to $159,842, placing New Castle 305th of the country's 40,000 post offices. The increase was sufficient to justify hiking Postmaster Steen's salary.

Commencing July first, Mr. Steen will receive $3,800 annually instead of the present rate of $3,700.

How times change! In the old days a girl was afraid to do as she pleased until she got married.

A "poker face" may not indicate a hard heart. It may indicate that his snag teeth show when he grins.

St. John's Church Featuring Pageant

Lutheran Church Arranges Children's Day Observance For Morning Service

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church will have it Children's Day program at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning, a program that will feature a pageant, "God Is Love," in which the entire Sunday school will take part.

Miss Barbara Schulz will have charge of the music, Miss Helene Burckart, the costuming, and Mrs. J. O. Woods, Miss Elizabeth Brudin and the chairman, Mrs. Stephen Kleckner, the general arrangements.

The day's reader will be Miss Virginia Kerber, assisted by Betty Rick in the role of "child" and Rev. F. E. Stough as "the church." Special music will be provided by a quartet composed of Miss Mary Riffer, Mrs. F. J. Rawle, Mrs. William Gustafson and Mrs. R. H. Dukes, will be a feature. Dennis Allshouse will offer a prayer.

"Children of the Nations" who will recite include Nora Ann Dukes, Barbara Woods, Betty Trent, Vivian Dukes, Ruth Salmon, Barbara Weygant, Annabelle Emery, Glenn Lutz, Billy Trent, Carolyn Anderson, Mary Louise Beck, Helen Siddell, Earl Kleckner, Charles Weiss, Calvin Donahey, Lucy Burgess, Leroy Gavroy, Gaylord Lutz and Mary Alice Kleckner.

Parents who wish to have their children baptized will notify the pastor, Rev. Stough, before the service. It is to be noted that the service is at an earlier time on Sunday than usual.

Modern youngsters have a lot, but they never will know the unalloyed joy their elders got from the old Model T.

PUT SPEEDOMETERS IN RAIL COACHES

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Now passengers aboard the crack Boston and Maine railroad trains "the Flying Yankee," the "Cannonball," and the "Minute Man," can decide for themselves whether the trains are living up to their rip-roaring names.

The railroad is installing speedometers in the coaches.

First to be equipped with the speedometer, which is illuminated and includes a clock on its face, was the Flying Yankee, the streamliner plying between Boston and Portland and beyond over the Main Central Lines to Bangor, Me.

According to Vice President and General Manager J. W. Smith, "The installation of speedometers on our crack trains is simply another effort to make travel by train more interesting and enjoyable."

Americans haven't lost their sense of humor. They keep saying this country wouldn't stand for a dictatorship.

Shenango 4-H Girls Meet At Gardner

The Shenango 4-H girls met at the home of Marian Hay on Saturday afternoon, June 6. Thirteen members were present. After the business meeting, Miss Mary Vogle took charge and instructed the girls in altering and making patterns. Mrs. Hartzel and Mrs. Frank M. Hay lent their assistance and gave the girls the benefit of their skill and experience in pattern making. Later games were enjoyed under the leadership of Maxine Walker. The meeting closed with singing the class song and repeating the pledge. The next meeting will be held June 17 at the home of Doris Curry.

Summer Stains...
VANISH LIKE MAGIC WITH ME ON THE JOB!

COOL WHITE and color-fast cottons and linens are popular summer wear for children and grown-ups. But romping play, picnics, beach parties, sports, outdoor-life in general, all help to cause stains and increase the family wash. This summer don't let these stains make extra work for you ... banish them the easy Clorox way.

A little Clorox removes ordinary stains and dinginess in the regular laundering process. In a slightly stronger solution Clorox takes out stubborn stains such as ink, fruit, flower, grass, beverage, medicine, blood—even scorch and mildew. And, too, Clorox removes jelly and fruit preserving stains from bags, aprons, towels, utensils and drainboards.

Clorox not only removes stains but bleaches, deodorizes and disinfects—all in one easy operation.

Like Clorox itself, the Clorox label is a revelation of safer and easier housekeeping. It also lists many important personal uses. Clorox is concentrated for economy. There is only one Clorox.

- Quick Release Ice Trays

5 Years Performance Protection

Only G-E Refrigerators have FORCED-FEED LUBRICATION and OIL COOLING

These exclusive features of the General Electric sealed-in-steel THRIFT-UNIT mean quieter operation, longer life and lower operating cost.

You know how forced-feed lubrication gave better performance and longer life to the automobile—it does the same for a refrigerator.

It Costs Less to Own a G-E!

Remember, General Electric has manufactured more refrigerators with sealed mechanisms than all other manufacturers combined.

Every Minute of Every Day Somebody buys a G-E!

Nearly 2,000,000 homes—a great many of them with incomes of less than $2,000—have proved it costs less to own a G-E.

Baptist Children Will Give Program

Elaborate Arrangements Made For Children's Day At First Baptist Church

A one-hour program, starting at 10:45 a. m., is to take place at the First Baptist church Sunday. It will be based on Biblical works and those taking part will be children selected from the beginners, primary and junior departments of the Sunday school. Miss Pearl Hockenberry, Mrs. R. E. Elmore and Mrs. D. McClelland are in charge.

The regular Sunday school assembly will be at 9:30 a. m., with lesson study.

The Children's Day program, an outline of which follows, is very attractive and different this year. The girls of Miss Grace Hickok's class will take care of the ushering. The decorating committee is promising a pretty setting, and will put the flowers in place Saturday and early Sunday morning. The offering on Children's Day will go to Miss Elizabeth Hay, who is a member of the First Baptist church, to help pay her salary as a missionary.

The program follows:

Beginners Department.

"A Flower of Good Wish"—Grace Adele Rodgers.

"I Love Jesus"—Jimmie Hahn.

"I'm Going to Speak"—Jackie Harrison.

Duet—Marjorie and Barbara Van, accompanied by Mrs. Van.

"A Happy World"—By department speakers, Donny Truby and Jimmie Maxwell.

"On Time"—Nancy Glazier.

"When I Get Big"—Jackie Orr.

"The Aviator"—Harry Irwin.

Pianist—Mary Elizabeth Dixon.

Primary Department.

Pageant—"Tell Me the Stories of Jesus."

BROUGHT RAILROAD UP TO HOUSE-DOOR

(International News Service)

ROME—"I will bring the railroads right up to the peoples' houses," said Costanzo Ciano, minister of communications, explaining to the chamber of deputies how he meant to reorganize the Italian railroad system.

That was several years ago.

Today, Ciano's statement has come true—literally.

The latest Italian gadget is a freight car which runs onto a trailer, rubber tired and capable of taking a load of 2000 tons. A high-wheel tractor pulls the trailer, freight car and all, through the streets to your house door.

Fled From Boxers; Is Now Going Back

Miss Anna R. Hunter, High School Teacher, Will Visit In China

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Miss Anna R. Hunter, high school teacher who 35 years ago was among the refugees forced to flee to the United States during the Boxer uprising in China, is returning to the place of her birth in the Orient.

Miss Hunter, a lecturer on China and a collector of Oriental art works, plans to visit Tsi Nan in the Shantung province, where she was born; where there is a hospital named for her mother, and where her father, the late Reverend Stephen A Hunter, was a missionary for many years.

Although she has been away from the Orient for many years, Miss Hunter can still speak Chinese, though only one of the northern dialects.

She plans to spend eight weeks visiting familiar scenes and old friends of her parents following which she will return here to teach. In discussing her plans, Miss Hunter said:

"I've been planning this for years, but every time I get ready to start something happens over there. I think my plans started that revolution over there ten years ago."

New Firms Locate In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—The Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce industrial bureau's new business list shows 19 new manufacturing firms and 19 wholesale establishments, a total of 38, were opened here during May.

The total number of firms located in Philadelphia for the first five months of this year is 195, of which 105 were industrial and 90 commercial.

Several Weddings To Be Celebrated

Two Couples Married Fifty Years, And Several Others Not So Long

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—One hundred and forty-eight years of wedded bliss were to be celebrated in one fell swoop at one family gathering here.

In 1886, Theresa Beyer became the bride of Ferdinand Beinhauer in a double ceremony which saw Ferdinand's sister, Lulu, marry George Gollwitzer. Both couples this week mark their golden anniversaries.

To top that off, the Beinhauers will mark the 25th, or silver, anniversary of the marriage of their son, Louis, and the 23rd anniversary of the marriage of their daughter, Anna.

The anniversaries all fall within a day or two of each other and will be celebrated at the same time.

All the husbands and all the wives are in the best of health.

AROUND CITY HALL

Although it was proposed to make some improvements at the city free parking plot in South Jefferson street, which is close to Central fire department, work has not yet been started. It is believed that when work does get under way the plot will prove quite popular. Since the half hour parking limit was made effective in Mercer and Jefferson streets additional cars have been parked at the lot.

Some detectives believe there may have been a connection between the first and second robberies at the state liquor store on Produce street. On both occasions one of the bandits stood six feet or better and weighed about 180 pounds. The fact that the store attaches did not watch the bandits after they departed from the store eliminated chances of finding which way they left the scene.

Persons arrested for drunkenness repeatedly were assigned to the wood-pile yesterday and the day preceding. According to reports, the men who used the saw did a good day's work. Their worst habit, according to their friends, is their lack of will power in being able to stay away from the suds. The men who are arrested repeatedly for intoxication as a rule are not quarrelsome with police.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

New Precinct Added In Ward

Court Orders Division Of Third Election Precinct Of Ward

CHERRY STREET DIVIDING LINE

Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham of the county court, made an order today dividing the third election precinct of the seventh ward, in accordance with the wishes of petitioners for a division of the precinct. The dividing line is fixed as Cherry street. Voters living north of the center line will continue to vote at the old place and will form the third precinct of the seventh ward. Voters living south of Cherry street will have a new voting place and this district will constitute the fourth precinct of the seventh ward. The old third precinct was among the largest in the city and there has always been more or less congestion on election days.

During the lodge meeting that followed at 2 o'clock Mrs. H. S. Sherman gave a report on the national convention which was held last week at Cleveland, O., with headquarters at the Hotel Cleveland.

The next regular lodge meeting will be on June 25 at the Legion Home.

Blind Youth Is Law School Grad

Nephew Of Local Residents Honored At University Of Maryland Last Week

Edwin Horchler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Horchler of Cumberland, Md., and a nephew of Mrs. Eliza G. Conrad of Haus avenue and Mrs. Martha Horchler of North Wayne street, was graduated from the school of law of the University of Maryland, last Saturday.

The remarkable thing about his achievement is that the boy has been blind since he was three years of age, the affliction coming on him with a childhood illness.

He is an expert typist and types his notes into Braille, from which he reads his lesosns in class. His note in the law school have been used as a permanent file of all his work.

He expects to practice law in Cumberland, Md.

Impressive Wedding At St. Lucy's Church

Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock, in St. Lucy's church, Mahoningtown the Rev. Fr. S. Ippolito solemnized a most impressive wedding ceremony when he joined together in holy wedlock, Miss Julia Mastroddi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Mastroddi, of 111 West Wabash avenue, and Louis DePorzio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine DePorzio, of 613 Forest street.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attractively gowned in a beautiful white satin gown, veil of real lace and carried white roses, lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Julia Augustine was maid of honor. She wore a peach net gown and carried tea roses. Louis Mastroddi, the groom's brother, served as best man. The bridesmaids, stunningly attired in orchid taffata and carrying arm bouquets of roses, were: Miss Gertrude DeMasi, Miss Josephine Morgan, Miss Rose Dominick, Miss Anna Miran, Miss Virginia Lambiasi. Ushers included: Rocco Tommelleo, Joseph Zambella, Joseph Mastropietro, Sam Rainey and Ernest Niemi.

Following the ring ceremony, a delicious dinner was tendered members of the bridal party, relatives and a few invited guests in the dining room of the King Humbert hall, Division street. A reception was held Thursday night. Late last evening, Mr. and Mrs. DePorzio departed for a honeymoon to Rhode Island. Upon returning they will reside at 111 West Wabash avenue.

Sam Colucci and Mrs. Ann Colucci, both of Youngstown, O., were out of town guests.

Presbyterian Class Meets On Thursday

Mrs. Frank Wilkinson Is Hostess To Members Of The S. C. W. Bible Class

On Thursday evening members of the S. C. W. Bible class of the Mahoning Presbyterian church gathered at the home of Mrs. Frank Wilkinson on West Clayton street for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. A. R. Mornse and Mrs. J. J. Cunningham were associate hostesses.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. A. A. Maud. The president, Mrs. E. C. Hulbert, presided over the very interesting business meeting that followed, when reports were heard from committees, of their work throughout the year. The meeting was then turned over to the social committee and the remainder of time was spent playing various game contests.

A very delicious lunch was served later by the hostesses. Lee Wilkinson was a special guest of the class. The social committee included Mrs. C. E. Dungan, Mrs. Thomas Foster and Mrs. D. C. Schnebly.

Plans were made to meet at Cascade Park on July 9, for a breakfast. Mrs. George Cook will head the committee in charge of all arrangements.

Davy Class Meets On Thursday Night

Methodist Church Class Has Monthly Meeting At Franklin Avenue Home

Miss Ruth Stimple was a charming hostess to members of the Beatrice Davy class of the Mahoning M. E. church, as they gathered at her home on Franklin avenue, on Thursday, for their regular monthly meeting.

The president, Mrs. Perry Birk, presided over a short business meeting during which an interesting letter was read by Mrs. Q. E. Davy, from her sister Mrs. Paul Thomas, of Manila. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are now returning to the United States and report that many things of interest are being experienced on their long trip home.

At a later hour a delicious lunch was served by the hostess aided by co-hostess Mrs. Walter Evans. Baskets of peonies arranged throughout the rooms added to the attractiveness of the setting.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Birk on North Cedar street.

ATTENDS MEETING

Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, pastor of the Mahoning M. E. church is attending a District Conference meeting at Volant, today.

Platform Highlights

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Here are the principal points on which the Republican party will campaign for the election of a Republican President in November.

The powers of Congress have been usurped by the president.

The integrity and authority of the supreme court have been flaunted.

Regulated monopoly has displaced free enterprise.

It (the New Deal) has been guilty of frightful waste and extra extravagance, using public funds for partisan political purposes.

It has bred fear and hesitation in commerce and industry, thus discouraging new enterprises, preventing employment and prolonging the depression.

It has coerced and intimidated voters by withholding relief to those opposing its tyrannical policies.

Appeals to passion and class prejudice have replaced reason and tolerance.

The party pledges itself to resist all attempts to impair the authority of the supreme court.

To preserve the American system of free enterprise, private competition and equality of opportunity, and to seek its constant betterment in the interests of all.

On re-employment the party advocates:

Withdrawal of government from competition with private payrolls.

Elimination of unnecessary and hampering regulations.

The return of responsibility for relief administration to non-political local agencies familiar with community problems.

Federal grants-in-aid to the states.

A prompt determination of the facts concerning relief and unemployment.

A pay-as-you-go policy, which requires of each generation the support of the aged and the determination of what is just and adequate.

Every American citizen over 65 should receive the supplementary payment necessary to provide a minimum income sufficient to protect him or her from want.

To encourage adoption by the states and territories of honest and practical measures from meeting the problems of unemployment insurance.

Troop To Assemble At Old Armory For Auto Trip To Park

Commander George F. Mitchell today asked all Troop F members to report to the West Washington street armory on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for their trip in automobiles to Cascade Park.

The troop's entire personnel of 63 uniformed men will attend the cornerstone laying exercises at the new Joseph V. Cunningham armory, starting at Cascade at 3:30 o'clock.

Mitchell today asked all troop members to call at the West Washington street armory for their new uniform breeches sometime today or Saturday morning.

No Arrests Yet In State Store Hold-up

Chief of Police Ralph Criswell said this morning that detectives and police have not yet gathered any definite clues as to the identity of the two men who held up four attaches then robbed the state liquor store safe of about $100, Thursday. Sheriff Edward Pritchard, deputies and state police also are working to apprehend the thieves.

WINDOW BROKEN

Failing to round the corner of East Washington street and Apple Alley yesterday afternoon, a motorist crashed into the store window of Murphy's store. The window costs about $50. The motorist agreed to pay the damages.

CITY ENGINEER IS OPERATED UPON

Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, who was operated on for appendicitis in the Jameson Memorial hospital, is getting along as well as can be expected, according to city hall officials. Throop had been ailing for some time and when he underwent an examination it was found he had appendicitis. John Street is performing Throop's duties.

NO MERCHANDISE ON DISPLAY ON SIDEWALK

Chief of Police Ralph Criswell has issued orders to police to scan their beats and when they see merchandise displayed on the sidewalk to order the merchant to remove it.

Reports Hold-up By Young Man

John Thatcher, 55, of South Lee avenue, was held up at pistol point by a young man in North Beaver street, near Sycamore way, at 4:20 a. m. today and robbed of a Hamilton gold watch worth $50, and several dollars in cash, according to a report he made to police.

He described the young man as being about 20 years old, five feet six inches tall and weight as 150 pounds. Cruiser Car Policemen Harry Flinner and Budd Fleeger investigated the robbery. So far no arrests have been made.

BUSINESS COLLEGE

Our summer school is now organized and you will do well to enter for the Monday classes. The price of tuition is very reasonable and the rooms are large, cool, and very nicely arranged for commercial work. You can get a great deal during the summer school. You will enjoy the work and it will be a good beginning for our fall term, and should you wish to enter another school in September for specialized training, the work obtained here will be very beneficial.

'Camporee' Army Takes Over Park

Anxious Boy Scouts Primed As Hour Of Competition Arrives

INVITE PUBLIC TO CUNNINGHAM PARK

Although threatening clouds hovered overhead, an army-like host of high-spirited confident Boy Scouts from all sections of Lawrence county were gathered this afternoon at Cunningham Park, far out on the East Side, for their annual overnight competitive camporee.

Inspection of the competing patrols was to be started by the judges at 2 o'clock, following which events of the camporee will be inaugurated. Sharon scout leaders will act as judges.

Scoutmaster E. D. Hawk of Troop 3 is serving as chairman of the rules committee for the contests, and scout leaders of the local council will play prominent roles.

For the first time since local scouts began participating in camporees, the exhibition this year takes place at a spot close to New Castle and affords interested residents opportunity to witness the competition. Heretofore, the camporee has been held at Camp John M. Phillips along the Slippery Rock creek.

Problems Difficult Ones

What the scouts must do this afternoon, tonight and Saturday mornings are things the average camper must do when he sets forth on an outing—only they time the scouts in doing them and watch them with eagle eyes as they are done. Then too, the problems for the scouts will be far more complicated than those vacation-seekers meet.

Patrols having 800 or more points at the close of the camporee will be rated as "standard patrols" according to national scout rules.

The plots of ground for the competing patrols today are approximately 50 feet square and each is about 25 feet back from any cartway.

Residents are urged to drive to the park this afternoon and tonight to witness the annual exhibition. Guide signs have been posted at East Washington and Vogan streets for the direction of strangers.

New Castle Woman Will Be Air Pilot

Student's Pilot License Is Issued To Miss Rebecca E. Johnston

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, June 12—An air-minded New Castle woman has been given permission by the bureau of Air Commerce to get off the ground and try her wings, it was learned here today with the issuance of a student's pilot license to Miss Rebecca H. Johnston, 113 East street.

Under the license Miss Johnston will be permitted to fly a licensed plane anywhere in the United States. She may even engage in solo flights across the country while engaged in her training.

The only limitation put upon the license is that no one may fly with Miss Johnston when she is operating a plane except a regularly licensed pilot qualified to act as instructor.

On solo flights, Miss Johnston has the right to land at any air field which is not being used for flying meets or air races, or which is not the terminus for a regular scheduled air line. She may command full Department of Commerce facilities at these fields.

The license is good for two years, during which time Miss Johnston may accumulate flying hours to her credit which will permit her to apply later for a higher grade permit.

In other words, Porto Ricans want freedom, but Uncle Sam is insulting when he seems willing to let them go.

Sheriff Leaves To Bring Back Seevers

Will Be Lodged In County Jail Pending Disposition Of Murder Case

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard and Deputy Ben Hartland went to the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg today for John Dewey Seevers, who is serving a life term for the murder of his wife, Stella Seevers. He will be brought back today and will be lodged in the county jail, pending a disposition of a case next week in which he is indicted for the murder of his sister-in-law, Catherine Rodgers.

The two murders occurred at the same time when Seevers shot the women during an altercation on the New Castle-New Bedford road near the airport. Seevers will either plead or be tried next week for this murder. He wants the case cleaned up in order that there be nothing hanging over him in case his efforts to secure a pardon should be successful in the future.

Fingerprints Can Be Secured By All

Any person in the city has the opportunity to have his fingerprints taken by the state police here absolutely free of cost, according to Officer-in-Charge John J. Hennicheck. He said the person would be given a card showing the print of his right thumb for personal identification purposes. A copy of the fingerprints would then be forwarded to the personal identification bureau of the state police. It would not be kept with fingerprints taken of criminals.

Many businessmen and prominent citizens have availed themselves of this opportunity. For instance, should one meet with a fatal accident a card in his or her pocket would be found. If the card was lost and fingerprints taken the state police would be able to immediately tell the identity of the person.

Here is the facts recorded in addition to the fingerprints: Name, address, residence, place of birth, date of birth, nationality, heighth, build, weight, complexion, eyes, hair, scars and nearest relative to be notified in case of emergency.

Military Cadets Ordered To Front In South China

(International News Service)

CANTON, June 12.—Speeding preparations to resist a countervasion by the Nanking army, authorities of the two rebellious southern provinces of Kwangtung and Kwangsi today called all militiamen to the colors and ordered military cadets to make ready to leave for the front.

War fever filled the air, with hundreds of women enrolling in nursing units, uniforms seen everywhere, and tanks and artillery rumbling through the streets of Canton.

Forts Reinforced

Forts at the mouth of the Chu Kiang Estuary were hastily reinforced as a precaution against possible bombardment by Nanking gunboats.

Reports in Canton said 150,000 Nanking reinforcements have been ordered rushed to the provinces of Hunan, Fnkien and Kiangsi, bordering on the southern provinces.

Plotters Await Court's Sentence

Warren Judge Will Decide On Sentence Today For Former Squire And "Trigger Man"

(International News Service)

WARREN, Pa., June 12.—The fate of John G. Polens, who pleaded guilty to murder charges in the slaying of Metro Seminuk, Youngsville innkeeper, was to be decided here today when Judge D. U. Arird hears testimony to fix the degree of the former squire's guilt.

The state charges Polens hired Joe Senauskas, confessed assassin, to kill Seminuk with $100 supplied by the slain man's widow, Polen's alleged sweetheart.

Convicted on second degree charges for planning her husband's death, Mrs. Mary Seminuk faces a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison.

Both Polens and Semauskas will be sentenced following today's hearing.

ALONG THE EQUATOR MEN HAVE FOUND— TEA KEEPS YOU COOL!

PILBARRA, NORTH-WEST AUSTRALIA: TEMPERATURES HAVE BEEN REPORTED AS HIGH AS 131°—OVER 100° FOR 64 DAYS IN SUCCESSION. THE GROUND BECOMES SO HOT, MATCHES BURST INTO FLAME WHEN DROPPED ON IT. HERE, AS IN MOST EQUATORIAL LANDS, MEN RELY ON TEA TO KEEP THEM COOL. IT IS THE UNIVERSAL TROPICAL DRINK.

You'll find that the cooling, vitalizing effect of a glass of iced tea is almost immediate. And this effect lasts.

Doctors say: "Tea not only makes you feel cool, but keeps you cool." Mere "cold drinks" frequently make you warmer than ever. You've probably noticed this on suffocating days when you'd "give anything" to get really cool.

Doctors tell us the reason for tea's lasting, cooling refreshment is that it actually does lower your body temperature. This fact, so important for your health and sanity in sultry, oppressive weather, has been fully proved. A good cold glass of tea makes your body literally cooler.

● Cooling, vitalizing Tea comes from INDIA, CEYLON, and JAVA-SUMATRA. Buy a good brand of Orange Pekoe, and look for any of these names or this map on package or in advertising.

Hill Says Convention Most Notable In Party History Of 12 Years

UNITED PARTY TO ENTER CAMPAIGN

By EDWIN C. HILL
(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 12.—The curtain is about to fall on a truly harmonious Republican national convention. For the first time in 12 years—since Coolidge was nominated right here in Cleveland 12 years ago—the party is united, the ranks have closed up, all factions are in step.

In the past week there have been flareups of temper and temperament. The old party captains came here suspicious and more than a little resentful of the umbrageous westerners so calmly assuming privilege and power. The men from the west came here antagonistic and distrustful to and of the conservatives from back east. Along came Borah, ready for a row and finding to his amazement and chagrin that nobody wanted to fight him. Along came Hoover, thinking what thoughts no man knows, to perceive swiftly that the old order has passed, giving way to the new.

No Bitterness.

But at no time edged rancor or corroding bitterness. The warm friendliness of the Landon movement gently resolved the winter of Republican discontent and defeatism into the spring of hope and defiance. Never was a candidacy developed and carried to success in such perfect tune with the candidate's own personality. The Republican national convention not only nominated Landon, it is Landon.

And some wise leaders—some of whom were far from being Landon supporters when this week began—are saying now that the same spirit of unity and courage will radiate from the convention, out through the country, to mass a recently discouraged and hopeless party for a resistless drive against Roosevelt and the new deal.

Landon's victory is the climax not only to the miraculously rapid countrywide spread of his personality and ability, but the fruit, as well, of one of the cleverest pre-nomination campaigns in political history. Enormous as his popularity became before the convention met, it would have been possible to wreck his chances on the rocks of discord and injured vanity.

Well Managed.

Clumsy, tactless management most certainly would have raised up a crop of foes who might not have been able in the long run to block the nomination, but who would have left the convention bitterly offended and cold to the party candidate.

But the Landon management, under the direction of John Hamilton, made not one single mistake, except, perhaps, making a fight against Mr. Hoover in the California primaries. And that, as it turned out, did no harm. They were courteous, even deferential, to all the favorite sons. They made no boasts. They stirred up no sleeping dogs. They avoided every pitfall.

Not even Mr. Borah, one or the most provoking personalities imaginable, could prod them out of their friendliness, their amiability. They kept their heads and their tempers. "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city."

Tagged By Destiny.

Psychologically, therefore, the stage was set for one of those thrillingly dramatic episodes which make party conventions one of the greatest shows on earth. Day by day and hour by hour, the realization had come to the rival aspirants for the nomination that Landon had been tagged by destiny; the man appointed; not Peter the hermit, but Godfrey of Bouillon ready to lead the Republican crusaders to win the holy city from the infidel.

Day by day and hour by hour the conviction grew that it was useless to the point of folly to resist the inevitable.

Did you ever see the ice go out in a great frozen river? The preliminary rumblings and groanings and then the rising roar and the resistless surge forward of the piled up mass? That was the break to Landon which thrilled us all and furnished the supreme dramatic note of the convention.

The signs of it, of course, had been apparent for at least 48 hours, though few had expected surrender so universal and so complete by the rival candidates. But the pressure had been tremendous, not merely here, but from the country at large. And finally, and all at once, the opposition gave way and was swept down the roaring river of Landon triumph.

This morning the vice presidential candidate is still anybody's guess. Knox wants it but is hardly likely to get it. Landon wants Vandenberg, but the Michigan senator remains politely aloof. To this writer he said: "My viewpoint is unchanged. I am not available for the honor proffered."

Make Reports Of Minor Accidents

Harry Watkins reported to police that a small boy who gave his name as Sam Ponzi ran into the path of his truck. The lad was knocked down by the fender of the truck. The boy's legs were injured, according to Watkins, who was driving south in Pennsylvania avenue when the accident occurred at 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

Lewis Kulkin, 321 West Long avenue, reported also to police that a car driven by Frank Jordan of 9 Terrace avenue, struck his car yesterday afternoon in Long avenue.

Most failures aren't unhappy. Day-dreaming success gives them the pleasure without the hard work.

France Faces Strike Crisis

Seek To Keep Present Strike Trouble From Becoming Bloody Revolution

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 12.—With committees already at work under the red flag on plans to form soviets and seize factories in several areas for the workers, France's paralyzing strike situation reached a crisis today, with this ominous alternative:

Either the strike tendency must be stemmed, or it will quickly reach a revolutionary stage!

Guards Massed

Socialist Premier Leon Blum, dreading the latter development, stationed mobile guards and Republican guards at strategic points in Paris and in mass units throughout the 'red belt" surrounding the metropolis.

"A disturbing tendency is noticeable lately in certain regions," Blum admitted in the chamber of deputies today as he pressed forward reform legislation aimed to pacify the strikers. He warned, however, that "the government is determined to maintain peace and order on the streets."

Premier Blum conferred with the prefect of Paris police and the prefect of the Seine department on measures to insure Paris against any attempt to overthrow the authorities.

A Wonderful Medicine

Thankful People Praise Thompson's Barosma Tablets.

"You can tell anyone what a wonderful medicine I think Thompson's Barosma Tablets are, and how they helped me," writes Mrs. Lizzie M. Bell, 2194 West 28th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

Thompson's Barosma Tablets are a diuretic stimulant to the kidneys. If you suffer from rheumatic pains, backache, dizziness, spots floating before the eyes, and are all out of sorts, your kidneys are probably clogged. Do not delay. Take Thompson's Barosma Tablets at once and cean them out. 50c.

Thompson's Barosma Tablets are guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money will be refunded. If you are constipated, take Golden Lax Tablets with Barosma Tablets. At New Castle Drug company and all drug stores.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

On June 14, 1777, Congress resolved, "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." The first American flag was made by Betsy Ross, whose little home on Arch street in Philadelphia, still stands and is kept as a shrine. It was first flown in battle at Fort Stanwix in New York on August 3, 1777. That flag was an improvised one made from the white shirts of soldiers, the red flannel pettycoats of officers' wives, and the blue coat of an officer.

In 1795, with the admission of two additional states, Congress changed the design of the flag to fifteen stripes and fifteen stars. It may be of interest to you to know that Francis Scott Key's national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," was written to that flag.

Admiral Reid, U. S. Navy, after whom the U. S. Destroyer Reid was named, forsaw the admission of so many states that an adherence to the plan of a stripe for every state would soon become out of proportion so he suggested the design of thirteen stripes; one for each of the original states and a star for every state. This was adopted by Congress in 1818. Today Old Glory flies over 48 states, and over great islands of the two oceans; and over one hundred thirty millions owe it allegiance. It has been brought to this proud position by love and sacrifice. It is the flag of all the people alike. Let us accord it the honor and loyalty that those before us have done.

A funeral seems a morbid and depressing event, unless you have attended a literary tea.

HELD LETTER FOR FRIEND 22 YEARS

HOQUIAM, Wash.—When Alva Clark left here in 1914, he asked a friend to hold his mail for him.

After holding one letter for twenty-two years, the friend returned it to the postoffice so that it might be sent back to the original sender, George E. Clark of Doniphan, Mo.

A note, which was written by Clark's friend, accompanied the letter to the postoffice. It said:

"I guess Clark isn't going to call for his mail."

DANGEROUS

"Did you hear about the awful thing the teacher did to Jimmy?"

"No."

"She made him wash his face at school, and when he got home his dog didn't know him and bit him."

Young Woman Attack Victim At Washington

Police Scour Three States For David Brundage, 18, Washington High Senior

BRUTALLY ATTACK AND BEAT VICTIM

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 12.—Brutally beaten by a youth whose advances she resisted, Isabel Anne Walters, 23-year-old pianist from Laboratory, today battled to live as police scoured three states for her sister's "boy friend."

The third victim of criminal passion in this vicinity, Isabel was struck down in much the same manner as were Thelma Young and Dorothy Horner, according to detectives.

Visiting Isabel's sister, Mary, 17, who was recovering from an appendicitis attack, David Brundage, 18, Washington high school senior, persuaded Isabel to drive with him to get an ice cream cone for Mary, authorities reported.

Struggle Occurs

Returning, David drove past the house and out onto a lonely road where a struggle ensued, according to the story told by the girl to County Detective M. J. Powell, who talked with her in the hospital.

"He started to hit me and I got out of the car and started to run, but everything went black," she said.

Previously in a state of delirium, Isabel moaned, according to police:

"You were such a nice fellow. Now I know why Mary didn't like you so much. Don't do that; have mercy."

Beaten unconscious, her skull fractured, the girl was found by Clarence H. Miles, whose wife heard Isabel scream:

"Oh, my God, don't do that."

Joke Ends In Tragic Manner

FRIEND WITNESSES TRAGIC SHOOTING

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—A joke ended tragically today when Henry K. Beach, co-owner of a flying service at the Pittsburgh-Butler airport, accidentally shot himself through the heart, according to state police.

Beach, it was said, was playfully waving a revolver at a friend, Eugene Palli, a mechanic at the field, when it was discharged, sending a bullet into his heart. He died instantly.

Palli told police Beach produced the gun, levelled it at him, and laughing, said:

"Yes, it's loaded, and cocked, too. Look out or I'll shoot you."

As he turned away, Palli told authorities, he heard the gun explode. He turned to find his friend dead at his feet.

Botsford Will Be College Instructor

Westminster Graduate To Be Part-Time Instructor At College For Women

W. P. Botsford, member of the editorial staff of the Pittsburgh Press, has been appointed part-time instructor in journalism at Pennvania College for Women, President Herbert L. Spencer announces. Botsford will succeed Robert X. Graham, who will be at the University of Pittsburgh full time, and will assume his duties in September at the same time continuing his connection with the Press.

A graduate of Westminster college in 1930 Botsford was editor of the Westminster weekly paper, and contributed to the yearbook. He served as a reporter and columnist on the staff of the Coraopolis Record in 1930, and has been with the Press since 1931. He has been conductor of the Press Educational column, has reviewed books and shows, and has served as a reporter and staff writer, recently having been made assistant editorial writer.

Botsford was a member of honorary fraternities in debating, journalism and dramatics at Westminster, and served as president of the Pittsburgh Press chapter of the American Newspaper Guild in 1935. He will teach courses in reporting and editing at P. C. W.

As Leaders See New Platform

Some Views Of Men Who Made Republican Party Platform

EXCELLENT SAYS DAVID A. REED

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Here's what men who made the Republican platform—members of the resolutions committee—think of it:

Chairman Herman Langworthy of Kansas City: "Certainly the convention has adopted a forward-looking, constructive platform. It suits Gov. Landon."

Rep. Taber (R) of New York: "In most particulars this platform stands for what is right. I do not call it conservative or progressive; I never have campaigned as either, but for what I think is just and fair."

William Allen White of Kansas: "It is a committee platform. Out of the original tentative suggestions of the Landon forces, the governor got 70 per cent."

Former Senator Walter Edge of New Jersey: "It is a pretty good platform. Like all such efforts, when conditions are abnormal after three years of the New Deal, we had many proposals and suggestions for solution of our difficulties. It is a liberal—a very liberal—platform. The intention of the committee was to write a sound money plank in the platform."

David A. Reed of Pennsylvania: "On the whole it is an excellent platform, a little bit over-generous to the farmers. It is indisputably a sound money platform. Many parts of it will appeal to the East."

Former Senator Thomas of Idaho: "I think it is a good platform—a very liberal platform. It looks after the interests of the farmer."

Former Gov. James Goodrich of Indiana: "I am satisfied on the whole. I'd like to see gold put in it, but when eastern members oppose the use of the word 'gold'. I'm willing to drop my fight."

name to be considered. He sent a letter to Permanent Chairman Bert H. Snell, saying that if his name was presented he (Snell) was authorized to withdraw it.

After that the drift became so pronounced that Edge took the platform and withdrew his name, as did Gov. Harry W. Nice of Maryland, and a little known candidate, Col. Arthur Little of New York.

Made Unanimous

In the end it was made unanimous, as was Gov. Landon's nomination last night. In fact, it was even more unanimous than was the nomination of the Kansas governor, for there were 19 Borah votes on the presidential roll call last night, while today the full convention strength of 1003 votes was cast for Knox.

The convention took the completion of the ticket with a calm that was unusual for national political gatherings. There was a short burst of cheering and applause when Snell announced the completion of the vote and the nomination of the publisher.

Illinois supporters of Col. Knox started a parade through the aisles after the announcement of the vote, and the band helped out with appropriate music, but most of the delegates stayed put in their seats and watched with interested smiles rather than noise.

As befitting the selection of a war veteran on the ticket, the band played the old A. E. F. favorite "When the Caissons Are Rolling Along." A pretty girl with a good voice helped it along.

Snell didn't permit the demonstration to progress very farr; it was hot, the delegates were tired and everybody was figuring on train schedules.

As soon as he could rap the delegate back into their seats, ex-senator Harry J. Allen, of Kansas, took the platform to "extend for Gov. Landon a personal greeting to the delegates who have honored him."

Landon Wants To See You

"Governor Landon wants you to come out and see him," said Allen, "all of you."

"I don't think the Maine delegates for example, can return to their homes by way of Kansas, but Governor Landon would be glad if you did."

J. Henry Roraback, one of the last of the old guard leaders of the East—and one of the first to leap for the Landon bandwagon—then took the platform and proposed the election of Snell as chairman of the committee to notify Governor Landon formally of his nomination. There was no opposition.

John Hamilton, of Kansas, the new and youthful warwick of the Republican party, who nominated Governor Landon last night, was given a hand when he followed Roraback to propose a routine resolution giving the national committee power to fill vacancies. Unless there is a last-minute change in plans, Hamilton is slated to become chairman of the national committee and Governor Landon's campaign manager as soon as the national committee can get around to it.

Other routine solutions followed, the honor of sponsoring them going mainly to the older guardsmen, who were pretty much put into eclipse at this convention.

Ralph E. Williams, of Oregon, vice chairman of the national committee, and a member of it for 32 years, got a hand when he announced the new national committee would meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

In the final minutes they adopted a lot of resolutions — resolutions thanking Cleveland for its hospitality, thanking the police, and almost everybody who had anything to do with the proceedings.

Snell thanked the delegates and the delegates thanked Snell. Everybody, in fact, was thanking everyone else for a most harmonious convention.

Most Harmonious

It was, in fact, the most harmonious Republican National Convention in a great many years.

The platform went through in five minutes last night without a minority report and without a fight—Governor Landon's nomination was accomplished also without a fight, and in the end unanimously—and Col. Knox's selections today was obtained with a unanimity unusual in any political gathering.

The retiring chairman of the national committee, Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, sang his swan song in a few words, and moved adjournment sine die.

The band swung into "Onward Christian Soldiers," and the delegates drifted slowly out.

It was all over.

Landon Nomination

The actual nomination of Gov. Landon will go into the record books as 984 to 19 for Senator Borah.

Later, when it was all over, Wisconsin moved to make the nomination of Gov. Landon unanimous and there was no dissenting voice.

Gov. Landon's nomination was a colorful and unprecedented proceeding in a Republican national convention. There have been times when Republican presidential nominations have been won by default, as in the case of Mr. Hoover's ratification in Chicago in 1932. But there has never been a case where there was a contest, in which any candidate received the unanimous endorsement of the convention on the first or second ballot.

The Republicans showed signs of embarrassing Jim Farley over his crack about Gov. Landon being "the governor of a typical prairie state."

Time after time, during the actual balloting the prairie states—and important states in the 1936 election—rendered their votes by saying "a typical prairie state" cast so many votes for Landon.

Invariably the fifteen thousand people who thronged the floor and the platform gave these announcements a great hand.

The Landon managers played astute poliltics in the number and selection of their seconding speeches, nominating Gov. Landon. Every section of the country was represented. There was Gaspar Bacon of Massachusetts, there was Frank Fitzgerald of Michigan, there was Mrs. Corinne Alsop of Connecticut, Harry W. Howard of Mississippi (a negro), Henry Depping of Kansas City, Charles M. Day of South Dakota, the daughter of Mark Hanna, Mrs. Ruth McCormick Simms—and there was finally Gov. Landon's chief rivals for the nomination, Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, Senator Dickinson of Iowa, and Col. Knox—all favorite sons.

The convention demonstrated at various times almost an hour for Gov. Landon. When his name was first proposed by John D. M. Hamilton the Kansan's supporters put on a show that lasted for half an hour when his was the only name presented to the convention and later they staged another show in the conventional convention style.

All around the hall delegations broke out with banners and pictures of the popular Kansas governor. Tennesse proclaimed: "Tennessee Will Land With Landon With a Landslide." Utah came forth with: "Utah Republican Homecoming Is November 6 (Election Day)" and with another one which capitalized the state's name with this: "U-T-A-H Trusts Alf's Heart." Massachusetts proclaimed "He Is the Coolidge of the West That Is Why We Love Him."

Ah—A Political Hat!

Wearing a "Landon hat," Mrs. Leslie E. Edmunds, wife of the Republican candidate for governor of Kansas, joins in a demonstration for Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas during the Republican national convention in Cleveland.

'Murder Car' Of King Alexander Now On Exhibit

(International News Service)

BELGRADE—Jugoslavia's capitol now harbors a souvenir connected with the saddest chapter of her modern history.

It is the French motor-car in which King Alexander and Barthou were killed and which the French government presented to the Jugoslavian war ministry at the latter's request.

The motor-car belonged to the French Military authorities and bears the number 6068 Ca-6.

The backseats where Alexander and Barthou fell victims of the murderer's bullets are blood stained and show marks of a number of bullets.

The seat of General George is especially blood-soiled.

The car was a Delage and was transported from Marseille to Jugoslavia by the Jugoslavian steamer "VIS."

BICYCLE BOAT HELPS SANCTIONS FIGHT

ROME—It used to be "a bicycle built for two." But now it's a "bicycle boat" for the whole family.

Four persons ride the "boat" a four-wheeled contrivance which is Italy's latest sanctionist invention. Two pedal in the usual manner. Two 'row" with levers which transmit power to the wheels by the regular chain drive.

Trying to popularize the new gadget and inventor claims "it is much more healthy than an automobile and it has the advantage of burning no gasoline."

HIS FIRST JOB IN MONTHS COST YOUTH HIS LIFE

(International News Service)

CULLMAN, Ala.—O'Henry would have had little polishing to do to this short, short story:

The main character is Charles Stevenson, 18 year old jobless youth.

Charles wanted work.

He wanted it badly.

The reason was — a widowed mother and three other mouths must be fed.

For months Charles tramped the cold concrete.

The answers were always the same.

Finally, the break came.

The manager of a sawmill told him to report for work Monday morning.

Charles did.

For three hours he worked at top-speed.

Then. . . .

His foot slipped—he fell across a saw—and was killed.

PLAN TO SHAME SPEEDERS INTO SAFE DRIVING

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES—"Shame reckless drivers into being more cautious."

That was the theory under which a group of municipal judges and others interested in cutting down the appalling toll of human life taken by automobiles, were sponsoring a "red tag" proposal here.

They would punish reckless drivers by forcing them to display on their license plates a conspicuous red metal tag, which would enable other drivers and pedestrians to avoid them.

The proposal was sponsored by Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough and immediately won many supporters.

County Counsel Everett W. Mattoon advised the officials that the red tag plan was not illegal although he pointed out that such a method of punishment had not been passed upon by California courts.

The movement is aimed at drivers who have been convicted more than once of traffic violations.

DON'T TREAT CONSTIPATION* LIGHTLY

Poor Health May Be the Price of Neglect

Too many people dismiss common constipation* as a matter of no great consequence. Yet this condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite. When it is allowed to continue, it may lower your resistance, and so increase your chances of catching a serious illness.

Common constipation often develops when you eat meals that lack sufficient "bulk." Your system fails to get needed internal exercise. Fortunately, today, you have a generous source of effective "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass, which gently cleanses the system. This natural laxative food also supplies vitamin B and contains iron.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as an effective laxative food for constipation.* Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"

BULLFROGS CROAK U. S. PROSPERITY, JAPANESE ASSERT

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO—Without "jumping" at conclusions, the Hikone Fisheries at Kobe, Japan, having received an order from New York for 18,000 frozen bullfrogs, solemnly announced their conviction the depression was over in the United States.

This news was contained in a business report to President R. Stanley Dollar from his steamship line's office in Kobe. The report said in part:

"The order for 18,000 frozen bullfrogs was the fourth order for cold-storage bullfrogs received from New York this year. The shipments so far total 24,000. Officials of the Hikone Fisheries experiment station view the renewal of orders for this expensive delicacy as proof that prosperity has returned to America."

SIZE OF SANCTUARY MORE THAN DOUBLED

(International News Service)

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—The Tulelake sanctuary for wild life, particularly waterfowl, has been more than doubled in size, according to word received here from Washington, D. C., by C. G. Fairchild, biological survey agent on the lake.

The original game refuge covered 9363 acres. Waterfowl can now stretch their wings over a 24,000-acre tract without danger of death.

Nesting islands are being built in the newly enlarged sump area. The modern duck "apartment districts" are 300 feet long and 70 feet wide with three feet of water surrounding their exclusive grounds.

The greatest of blessings is a poor memory. Who could lift his head if he couldn't forget the times when he played the fool?

Borah Is Back In Washington

Indicates He Intends To Remain "Lone Wolf" In Republican Ranks

PART IN CAMPAIGN IS NOT DETERMINED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator William Edgar Borah today indicated that he intended to remain the "lone wolf" in Republican politics in the forthcoming campaign.

Arriving here early today from Cleveland, the senator indicated that he was disgruntled with certain features of the message which Gov. Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, had sent the convention following his nomination for the presidency.

Glancing over a newspaper copy of Governor Landon's message, handed him by the International News Service reporter, he read aloud the governor's reference to the desirability of a return to the gold standard. When he had finished reading that section of it in which Landon said the second requisite to such a step must not be made effective until it can be done without injuring the farmer, he said:

"What does he mean by that?

"He's not at all clear."

Asked whether he was displeased with the governor's message, Borah turned and looked at the reporter with a smile without answering.

Pressed further as to what he thought of the message, "the lone wolf of Idaho" said he would have a statement early this afternoon.

Questioned as to what he though of the governor's statement that he favored a constitutional amendment permitting the states to adopt such legislation as may be necessary to protect working women and children, Borah, with a disgruntled gesture, thrust the newspaper back into the hands of the reporter without answering.

The Idaho senator disclosed he has made up his mind as to whether or not he will stump for Governor Landon. But he said he was not prepared to make any announcement on his decision just yet.

He indicated from his tone, however, that he did not plan to take the stump.

Asked whether he would do so or not, he said:

"I have made up my mind on that question, but I am not ready to make any announcement on my decision just yet."

BEAVER Townships

TEA ATTRACTS THRONG

Over 160 community residents attended the mothers and daughters' tea in the Big Beaver Grange hall this week and enjoyed a program given under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Kerr. The tea was given by the ladies of the Big Beaver Grange organization.

Mrs. Frank Jenkins gave a toast to the mothers and Mrs. Joe Wilson responded with a toast to the daughters.

A tableau, "From Infancy to Old Age," was portrayed by a cast of women and children. The portrayal traced the life of women. Miss Pauline McCullough presided at the piano throughout the presentation and a number of vocal selections were rendered as the scenes changed.

"At the End of a Perfect Day" was sung at the close of the program by Miss Olive Louise Davis.

"When Granny Comes to Visit," a reading, was given by Mrs. Chester McChesney, and Miss Frieda Schinolly reviewed the life of Jane Adams.

The oldest mother, Mrs. W. G. McHattie of Big Beaver grange, and the youngest mother, Mrs. Harry White, of North Beaver grange, were presented special gifts.

Janice Marshall, three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marshall, of Wampum, also won a gift. She was the youngest of the children present.

Mrs. Joseph Wilson, Big Beaver grange, received a gift for the mother having the most daughters present. Her daughters, Alice, Esther, Hazel, Helen and Eleanor Wilson, attended. One was absent.

At the end of the program the group moved into the dining room for the serving of the tea and cakes.

JUDGE MEMORIAL SPEAKER

Judge W. Walter Braham of New Castle delivered a memorial address before the Big Beaver grange members this week.

Preceding the judge's address came appropriate memorial services honoring the two Big Beaver members who died during the past year. The tributes yere paid to Mrs. Emma Douthitt, who died June 8, 1935, and William Chatley, killed in an auto accident on August 10, 1935. Flowers were placed on the altar in memory of all Big Beaver members who have answered the Heavenly Master's call.

A prayer by the Rev. A. M. Doak, a vocal solo by Miss Marjorie Doak and Judge Braham's address marked the exercises.

LADIES WILL CONVENE

Members of the Big Beaver Grange Ladies' club will meet on June 16.

Matthews-Harbor School Reunion Plans Are Made

The officers and committee chairman of the Matthews-Harbor school reunion association met Tuesday afternoon, June 9th, 1936 at the home of Morris K. Cox, West Washington street extension, to make plans for the second annual reunion to be held Thursday, August 13, 1936 at the Matthews school grounds on the Edenburg-Pulaski road.

With few exceptions the committees remain the same as last year. The committees in charge are asked to see that all alumni of the two schools remember the date and make this reunion even better than last year

GROUNDHOG HUNTER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

WARREN, Pa., June 12.—A searching party which combed the woods 15 miles from here all night, found the body of Edward Anderson, 13, today. The schoolboy lay face down, with his rifle alongside.

Coroner Ed Lowrey returned a verdict of accidental shooting. He theorized the rifle discharged while the lad was resting the stock on the ground with the barrel held against the body.

Farmers Are Urged To Use Flushing Bar

"Use a flushing bar while mowing. It saves millions of dollars worth of wildlife. It is important that the flushing device be used the first thirty to fifty yards around edges of fields where a majority of game birds nest. It is even better to leave the outside row of grain or hay standing to provide hiding and feeding places for wildlife after the fields are mowed.

"All farmers are urged to construct one of these game savers. Write the Game Commission at Harrisburg, for further details."

Farmers, by using a flushing bar while harvesting hay or grain, will save millions of dollars worth of wildlife in a course of a year, in the opinion of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The flushing bar is easily constructed and can be readily attached to the mower or binder tongue. It consists of nothing more than a good solid pole about 10 to 12 feet long, upon which is hung a series of chains about 12 inches apart. These chains flush any nesting bird in their path, thus enabling them to escape before they are cut to pieces by the cruel knives. Farmers now using this device make a practice, when the nesting bird is flushed, to jump the knives of the mower over a patch of grass around the nest. In this way it will remain protected and the bird will return and hatch her young.

It is important that the flushing device be used the first 30 to 50 yards around edges of fields, where a majority of the game birds nest. It is even better to leave the outside swath of hay or grain standing to provide hiding and feeding places for wildlife after the fields are mowed.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN KNOCKED FROM TRUCK

SHARON, Pa., June 12.—Kenneth B. Mizner, 20, of Sharpsville, was killed instantly in Mercer avenue, Sharpsville, Thursday afternoon, when he fell from a truck on which he was riding and was crushed by one of the rear wheels of the vehicle.

Kenneth and his borther, Ray, 22, worked with their father, W. M. Mizner, concrete block contractor. Ray, with Kenneth as passenger, was driving near the old Valley Mould & Iron Corporation office, when Kenneth opened the cab door and stepped to the running board. A telephone pole at the curb brushed him off and he fell under the truck.

Backward races are the ones that still have to kill people by hand.

WHITE SWALLOW SALES MOUNTING

Eat, drink, and be merry—for tomorrow, there's White Swallow! This city has gone for White Swallow in a big way. And why not? It's the grandest form of relief we've ever had for any sour, overacid condition of the stomach.

White Swallow is a snowy white powder that you stir in water, and makes a delightful, refreshing drink. For distress after eating, heartburn, or even severe gastric pains there's nothing like it. White Swallow has four active ingredients that go to work the moment they enter the stomach.

Try this twentieth century formula, and you'll be over any food fears. One swallow, and that nagging discomfort after meals is gone. Take it "the morning after"—or any time you want something to settle the stomach.

Eckerd's Drug Store
has White Swallow now.

Make Arrest At Commencement

Pickpocket Gang Is Believed To Have Been Operating In District

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, June 12—An automobile abandoned here after local and county police had captured two suspected pickpockets at the college commencement exercises on Wednesday, was licensed to Julius Prezoso, 3000 Delwood Ave., Pittsburgh, the State Highway Department informed Police Chief James Reed today. The pickpocket mob was believed to number six or seven, all but two escaping in another machine.

One man was arrested on suspicion in the crowd around Harbison Chapel, and several others fled. County Detective S. R. Leyshock chased one man half a mile. The two men held were taken to the Mercer barracks, state police, for fingerprinting, and held on suspicion while records are being checked.

Warned by Westminster and Thiel college authorities that pickpockets had been at work at commencement exercises there, Chief Reed scured the help of state and county police, and the arrests followed.

EPICUREA TASTE PUTS BURGLAR TO SLEEP IN JAIL

(International News Service)

VIENNA—Epicurean taste is a grave handicap for a man who is a burglar by profession, as for example Alois Korinek, who was arrested in the wine-cellar of an elegant villa in a fashionable Vienna district.

Korinek "cleaned up" the richly furnished villa during the absence of the owner, Dr. G. von Mahler, in the record time of 30 minutes. But afterwards, contrary to all professional rules and precautions, he invited himself to a luxurious dinner. He simply could not withstand the temptations of the icebox and wine-cellar.

Caviar, salmon, steak, pastry and wine were devoured by him until he fell asleep.

He had delicious dreams but a brutal awakening. A servant discovered him in the morning, called the police, and now he has to put up with prison cooking.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TOLERANT ATTITUDE

The following letter from Rabbi Alexander Alan Steinbach of Temple Ahavath Shalom, Brooklyn, N. Y., pleases me very much.

"My Dear Dr. Myers: As a reader of your column, may I take this means of expressing to you my admiration of the fine work you are doing? Not only are you disseminating information that enables parents to understand problems relating to their children, but you are also advancing the cause of goodwill among all religious sects. The need for promoting goodwill and broader tolerance is a grave one throughout the world. For both of these splendid objectives, you and your newspapers are to be heartily congratulated. I deem it a pleasure to send my felicitations."

It has never been my privilege to meet Rabbi Steinbach, but I have known him through his splendid articles to parents in a number of magazines and through his numerous published researches in scientific journals on juvenile delinquency. For several years, while serving in a temple at Norfolk, Va., he also served as psychologist for the juvenile court there. He spent several summers studying phychology and psychiatry at Johns Hopkins university.

FURTHERS TOLERANCE

A letter like that from a Jewish rabbi to a Christian layman of German parentage bespeaks the tolerance I have always tried to further in this column, in all my books and other writings, as well as in my college classes and public addresses. My wife and I have tried to bring up our children to have a kindly feeling toward other persons of different religious faiths. Though we are Protestant, among the closest friends of ours are Jews and Catholics. It would hurt me ever to hear from my children any expression of intolerance in word and action.

When I was a boy on the farm we sold our produce to Nathan Sachs, a Jew whom all the neighborhood respected. His family occasionally ate meals in our home and ours did in his. There was only one Catholic family in that farm country, but they were esteemed by all their neighbors. They, too, visited in our home and we in theirs. Moreover, there were three different Protestant groups besides the one of my family, and we children on numerous occasions attended services in all of them. Thanks to my father and mother, whose memory I tenderly revere, I have often been grateful for that childhood education in tolerance and goodwill towards others of different faiths.

Mullentowners To Picnic On July 22

Reunion Date Set As Aides Make Preparations; Mrs. White Chairman

The annual reunion of former Mullentown school pupils will be held at Cascade park on Wednesday, July 22, the day and date having been definitely decided upon at a meeting held this week.

The chairmen of the several committees were appointed sometime ago and an exceptionally fine program for the day is being worked out by Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant and Mrs. Ida Suber. They promise something new and novel for the occasion. It is expected that quite a few old timers from a distance will attend the affair and the local members are looking forward to greeting their former school mates whom they have not seen for a number of years.

President J. Herbert McIlvenny is working to make the affair a success.

Mrs. Pearl White is general chairman for the reunion and is surrounding herself with a corps of aides to put this year's reunion over.

WRONG SIGNAL

(International News Service)

BONNEVILLE, Ore.—An ordinary short-circuit caused a great commotion at Bonneville dam, stopping all work and sending laborers hurrying to the banks of the Columbia river in search of a floating body. The short-circuit started the "man overboard" signal at the dam, causing a large siren to wail for more than twenty minutes before electrians located the trouble.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

SAVE MOISTURE IN THE GARDEN SOIL.

Frequent shallow cultivation in the garden and especially as soon as the soil is dried off after a rain is a good rule to follow.

Weeds draw heavily upon the water and food supply in the soil. Timely shallow cultivation destroys small weed seedlings before they get a start. Also, less soil is lost because the deeper moist soil is not exposed to drying winds. Another advantage of shallow cultivation is that practically no feeding roots of vegetable crops are disturbed, while deep cultivation may easily limit their growth.

Efficient tools make cultivation easier. A square-bladed garden hoe kept free from rust and sharpened with a file is the best weapon against weeds in the row. A long-handled, low-wheeled hand cultivator with scraper or sweep attachments and teeth is most effective between the rows of garden crops.

Field plantings of vegetables get a much better start, especially during periods of dry weather, when a fine surface mulch is maintained before the crop is planted. A weeder or spike-toothed harrow often may be used for the first cultivation of sweet corn. Shallow cultivation, especially near the plants, practically always gives the best results on vegetable crops spaced for horse as well as hand cultivation.

GOOD BLOOD COUNTS IN THE DAIRY HERD

"Blood will tell" is an old adage that has a wide and continuous application in the dairy herds of Lawrence county.

The value of a dairy cow to her owner is dependent mainly upon the amount of milk she will produce in a year and her milk-producing ability in turn is dependent upon her inheritance or the quality of her genetic makeup, which means the quality of the blood which flows in her veins.

Since milking ability in dairy cows is an inherited quality, it is of extreme importance to every dairy farmer and points the way toward a better and more profitable herd.

Replacements are necessary at frequent intervals in every herd, and dairymen who are careful to mate their cows with a sire that is better bred than the cows in their herds will have heifer calves coming on that will be better milkers than their mothers when they enter the milking herd. Progress can be made by this means in each cow generation and at no additional expense except a small investment in a good sire.

In many communities dairymen are cooperating in the purchase and use of dairy sires through organizing a bull association. In a bull association program three or more bulls are purchased at one time. The bulls are very carefully selected and are placed on farms of members where they are used by one or more farmers for a period of two or more years. An exchange of bulls is made each two years until each bull has completed the circuit.

PROPER CULTIVATION REDUCES SOIL WASHING

Too many cultivators leave a very marked furrow behind the last tooth in the middles of corn and potato rows. This furrow is where the water starts to run and wash wherever the rows are not nearly dead level. Often, decided gullies show serious soil losses between the rows in last year's corn field.

If the middles could be left level the rain would soak in longer before starting to run, and the run-off would not be confined to a narrow channel. Where the cultivator is followed by a weeder the middles are leveled off quite well. The last shovel on the cultivator should always be as narrow as possible so as to leave a very slight furrow.

Sometimes adding another shovel, not set deep, to each gang on a riding cultivator will leave the middles more level. Sweeps do the best kind of work so far as the above considerations are concerned but their general use in stony soil is difficult. A small object, such as a light 8 to 12-inch iron wheel, dragged behind the last shovel on a wire or chain will level up the middles nicely and eliminate the objectionable furrows.

Where a one-horse worker is used and the land is not too stony, a V-shaped sweep in place of the last shovel cuts off such weeds as Canada thistles which are likely to dodge by the shovels, and it leaves a level middle.

Fairly deep cultivation the first time through loosens up the soil to a depth which makes it absorb more rain before run-off begins. Later cultivation, however, must be shallow since the roots soon meet across the row and any disturbance or cutting of crop roots is very detrimental and must be avoided.

USE DRY STONE WALL ON SLOPING GROUNDS

Sloping grounds can be eliminated in the front of the lawn or grades definitely reduced by the construction of dry stone wall made either to the entire height or part of the height of the slope. Such walls will reduce the steepness of the slope in proportion to the height to which it may be constructed.

A dry stone wall serves to separate definite areas, such as rose garden or flower garden, from the lawn proper. Then such an arrangement tends to give a sense of greater space. For the average farm owner, a dry stone wall will cost practically nothing in cash outlay. Stones may be hauled during the winter season and the wall constructed by anyone with initiative and willingness to work.

The face of the stone wall should be sloped two to three inches for each foot in elevation, so that the weight of the wall will tend to fall against the bank. No dry stone wall should be less than 12 to 20 inches in thickness. Care must be exercised that the joints are lapped so as to give increased strength to the wall. The lower edge of each exposed stone must be horizontal. Stones selected for a wall should be of a flat weathered type. By all means, retain any lichens or mosses which tend to cling to the stones.

A good rock garden soil is made of well-decomposed leaf mold, one part well-soaked peat moss, and two parts sand.

Wood's earth can be used very successfully. Plants should be set when the wall is built although in many instances it is impossible to select the plants at the time of the construction of the wall. Handsful of good soil can be placed in the crevices existing along the wall at a later date and plants such as those mentioned below used to an advantage:

Alpine rock cress, snow in summer, basket of gold, Aubretia, Bell flower, pinks, baby's breath, catnip, evening primrose, creeping phlox, saxifrage, sedum, hen and chickens and thyme.

MAKE PORCH AND LAWN SUMMER LIVING ROOMS

Summer is the time to move outdoors. So have you a few good shade trees on your lawn? If not, do you have an old porch? Perhaps you have a porch which has been used for somewhat of a catch-all, or where you sit on a hot sultry day to try and catch a breath of fresh air. With a little effort either of these places may be fitted up for summer living.

Perhaps a little paint is the first essential to make the back porch attractive, suggests Miss Mary Vogle, home economics extension representative. White with green trim gives a cool refreshing look. The attic may furnish a few pieces of furniture, such as a table, some chairs, or a settee. A colored fiber mat makes an attractive floor covering. A table with a lacquer top or attractive linoleum cemented to it will not need a tablecloth if you decide to serve part of your meals there, and why not eat there? The porch can be screened and if near the kitchen, breakfasts there in the cool morning will start the day right. Then when noon comes, the chances are you will be found there and again at the evening meal.

Suppose sunshine finds its way there just as you want to work on the porch or take a few minutes' rest. Don't let it bother you. Plant some quick growing vines or make a draw curtain of canvas of feed bags sewn together to provide shade.

A few shrubs around the porch add to the attractiveness of any home.

If there are shade trees near, you can have your own picnic ground. Some comfortable chairs will make it into a restful retreat in the evenings.

The family may share the responsibilities of creating these outdoor living rooms and will be bringing the neighborhood to enjoy them for everyone likes being entertained outdoors when the weather is fine.

Ban Gambling In Rumania Except On Race Tracks

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST.—A drastic decree, signed by King Carol, has put an end to gambling in Rumania.

In Bucharest alone there were no less than 230 houses where one could plunge at one's heart desire: roulette, baccarat, poker, dice—any form of betting was officially authorized, provided the owners of the "club" paid their taxes. Paradoxically enough, all the bettingdens were under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of Public Health.

Apart from the gambling-houses, which grew like mushrooms in the large cities, Rumania's summer resorts boasted of the most elegant casinos in the Balkans. In short, Carol's Kingdom was a gambler's paradise. To curb the betting mania which recently gained alarming proportions in this country and was the cause of numerous suicides and sensational embezzlements, Parliament voted unanimously the prohibition of gambling—except horse racing—and King Carol signed the decree a few hours after the final reading of the bill by both Chambers.

This is the first time in Rumania's post-war history that a law has been passed by the unanimous vote of the various political parties, which, for a moment, forgot their deep antagonisms.

MILLBURN

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gibbony and son of Lowellville, O. were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Masters.

Mrs. Mirelda Rodawalt who spent the past week in the Stephen Lukacs home is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Paul Dye.

Fred Robinson was so unfortunate as to have a finger smashed, when an iron bar fell on it while at work on the farm.

J. P. Hartt visited his mother, Mrs. Emma Hartt, near Erie on Monday evening and attended the meeting of Erie Presbytery at Girard on Tuesday.

The fine rain of Monday came in time to start gardens, oats, early potatoes and corn. Meadows have been badly affected by the drought and the hay crop will be short.

Mrs. L. R. Jenkins has been on the sick list for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Montgomery of the New Castle-Harlansburg road were recent callers in the Jenkins home.

John Orr, who spent the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Paul Payne of Painsville, is visiting his brother M. B. Orr. Mr. and Mrs. Orr motored to Painsville for him last week.

Rev. and Mrs. G. K. Monroe and daughter of West Alexander were Wednesday guests of Mrs. Monroe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hartt. Rev. Monroe attended the reunion of his class and commencement exercises at Grove City College.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Blake, and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cummings were participants in the tour sponsored by the Four County Jersey Cattle club on Tuesday. The farm of Mr. and Mrs. Blake was the one visited in Springfield township and the judging down by Mr. Dennison and Mr. Kefley of State College was interesting and educational.

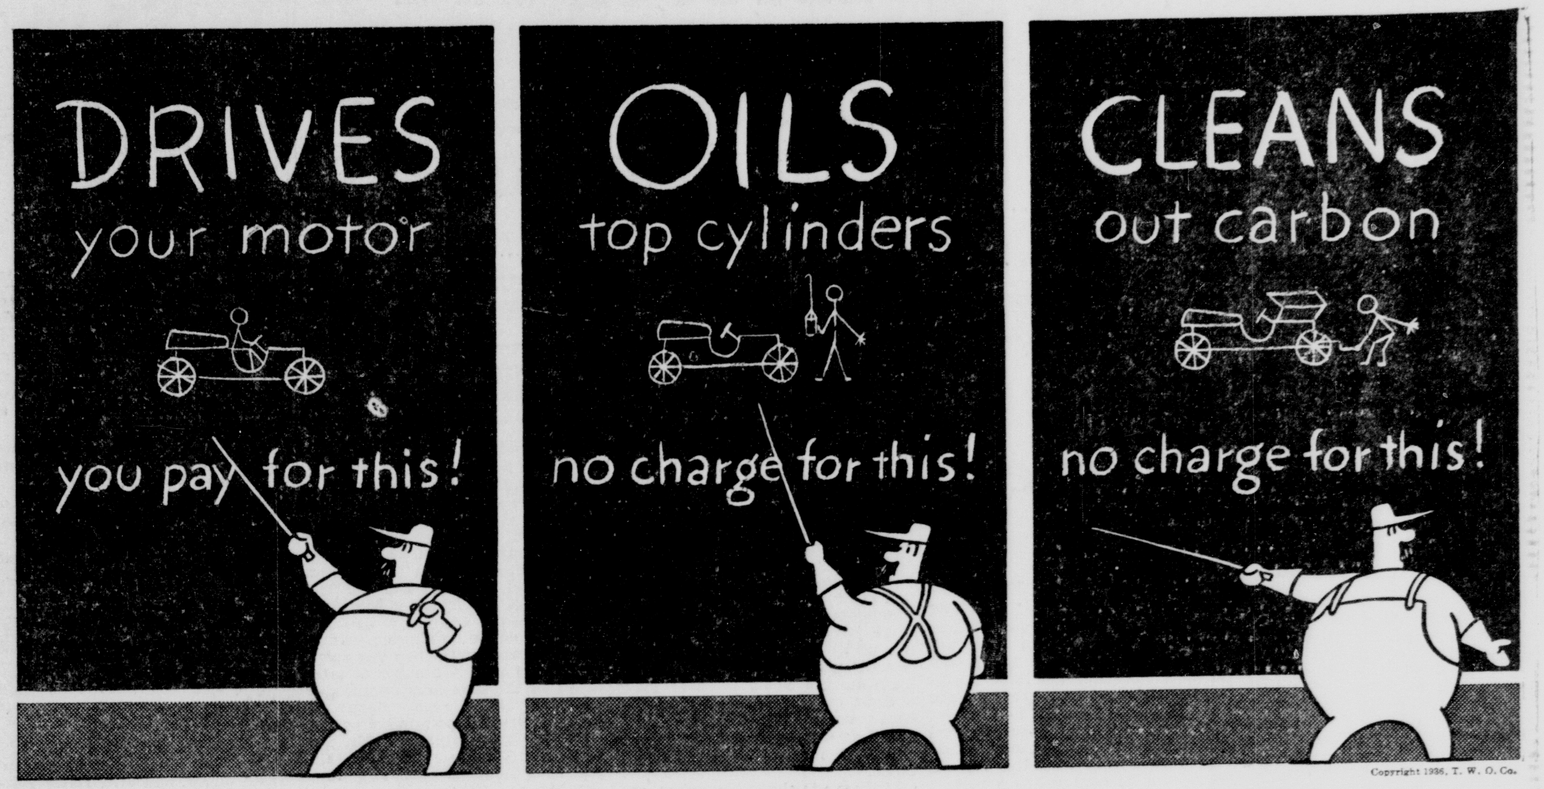
Amazing New Gasoline Does 3 Jobs at 1 Price



Copyright 1936, T. W. O. Co.
THERE'S a big difference between getting something you don't pay for and paying for something you don't get. That's why there's a big difference between Triple-Action Tydol and ordinary gasoline.
Tydol Gasoline actually brings to your motor new vital services ordinary gasoline cannot deliver. First, Tydol drives your motor (at the same price as regular gasoline). Second, Tydol oils your motor...for every gallon contains a patented top-cylinder oil that prevents sticky valves and smooths the action of all upper motor parts (and there's no charge for this extra lubrication service). Third, Tydol cleans your motor. Its exclusive carbon-solvent cuts down hard carbon deposits and wards off new carbon formations. (And there's no charge for this extra service.)
So, any way you figure it, every time you fill up with ordinary gasoline you pay for Tydol's extras...Why not get them by buying this "3 job" gasoline at its "1 job" price?

On Court House Hill

Subpoenas in divorce have been issued in the case of Mary Gertrude McCluskey against Andrew McCluskey, and Angelo Mottle against Freda Bloos Mottle.

County Commissioner George Bolinger visited the Cherry street bridge yesterday in company with a state engineer who is making plans for the elimination of danger from floods.

Junors who have been summoned to attend court next week are likely to be disappointed if they had been expecting a full week of jury duty. There is only one case to come up, that of John Dewey Seevers, for murder of his sister-in-law, Catherine Rodgers, and if he enters a plea all the jurors will have to do will to draw their pay for one day's work.

Heavy rains have interferred somewhat with bridge and viaduct construction work at Edenburg, but they have made it possible for the residents of Edenburg to breath a little pure air. The big trucks have been kicking up quite a dust as they pass through the town. A little oil might help.

County Commissioner Floyd Cotton, who is checking up relief cases, had a thrilling experience down in Wayne township. As he approached a house, a man came out carrying a shot gun in a threatening manner. He had the gun pointed downward, with his hand on the trigger. Cotton advanced fearlessly until within a few feet of the man, and then asked why he had the gun. "I was aimin' to shoot if you made a false move," the farmer said. Cotton made it clear who he was, and the farmer continued, "You see I was robbed the other day by a couple of fellows who looked like gypsies. They did not get much, but it was all I had. When I saw you coming I thought it might be one of those gypsy fellows again, and I prepared to let you have it.

It's a good thing for you that you didn't make any false move." And now Cotton is wondering if he really does look like a gypsy.

In the matter of the final account of Attorney Norman A. Martin administrator in the estate of the late Dallas Spiese, Attorney J. Glenn Berry has been appointed auditor.

Clyde Snoaf, administrator of the estate of the late Harold J. Bird has presented to court a petition asking for authority to compromise a claim against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. The claim is based on the death of Harold J. Bird, who was employed by the defendant company.

On November 2, 1932 Bird was killed at Akron Junction, O. There were no eye witnesses to his death, but it is believed that he was killed while coupling cars of the defendant company. Investigation had shown that there was nothing wrong with the couplings. The railroad company has signified a willingness to pay $1,000 and funeral expenses.

Two women figure in the case, according to the records. It is claimed that on February 16, 1915 Bird was married at Matoon, Ill., and that he is survived by his wife, Florence Laney Bird, and one son. It is also claimed that there is no evidence of Bird's ever having secured a divorce.

Bird was married a second time in this city on July 27, 1921, and there is surviving as a result of this marriage, Dorothy D. Bird. There is consequently a question as to who will be entitled to the money provided a settlement is made. The court granted rules on Mrs. Bird and her son, of Matoon, Ill., and Mrs. Bird of this city to appear in the local court for a hearing in the case.

INDIANS HONOR ARMY BALLOONIST

(International News Service)

LANDER, Wyo., June 12—Captain Orville Anderson, noted army stratisphere balloonist, is the second white man ever to be initiated as a tribesman of the Shoshone Indian tribe.

At impressive ceremonies at Fort Washakie, near here, Captain Anderson was inducted into the tribe the other day and given the title of "Chief".

The only other white man who has been similarly honored is the Rev. John Roberts of the Episcopalian missionary of Wind River.

Captain Anderson was honored by the tribe and its chieftains in recognition of his stratosphere flight from the South Dakota Black Hills in search of scientific information concerning the cosmic ray.

The pen has its faults, but it doesn't look as funny as a hamfisted 200-pound man punching a little portable typewriter.

TRACES FADEOUT OF SHORT-WAVE SIGNALS TO SUN

(International News Service)

PASADENA, Cal., June 12—If your short wave radio set mysteriously goes out of commission every 54 days—as all of them do—blame the sun!

Dr. Robert S. Richardson of Mt. Wilson Observatory near here believes he has solved one of the puzzling problems of radio by means of a theory which has been verified by photograpcis proof.

Brilliant eruptions of gas over sun spots, which occur about every second time that the sun rotates, or roughly every 54 days, are followed by a "dead" period of from 20 minutes to 5 hours, Dr. Richardson learned.

There was a "fadeout" period Feb. 14 that led to the successful experiment. It was noticeable in England and the United States.

If this theory were correct, Dr. Richardson reasoned that early in April the same phenomenon would occur. He made almost continuous observations from April 6 on.

Photographic plates exposed at 8:47 a. m. on April 8 revealed an unusually brilliant sunspot eruption. Then came a deluge of reports that at the same time radio signs began to fade out.

Almira Home Board Will Meet Tuesday

The annual meeting of the Almira Home board is to take place in the home next Tuesday, June 16.

This is an all day meeting starting at 10 o'clock and continuing to about 3 p. m. Luncheon will be served at noon.

"Onward Christian Soldiers"—By School.
"Candles of Youth"—Pageant; Synopsis:

A boy and a girl, playing at being "grown up", decide that childhood is a waste of time after all and wonder why they must wait so long to be really and truly grown up. To their surprise the tall, white candle on the altar speaks, informing them that "the spirit of man is the candle of the Lord," (Prov. 20:27) and that childhood is candle-lighting time. As they follow instructions by lighting, one by one, the five candles of youth on the altar, the identity of each is pictured in a scene from the life and parables of Jesus. They prove to be the Learning, Seeking, Sharing, Friendly and Preparing candles, symbolic of the secrets of lighting in childhood "the candles of the Lord."

"Something for Jesus"—By School.
Benediction—Pastor, Rev. J. H. Cottrell.

GARDNER

Raymond Shaffer of Gardner has gone to spend a month with friends at Sharon.

Dorothy Robison of Gardner is spending a few days with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wimer, near Portersville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sweet of the Butler road had as their guests on Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shaffer and son of Beaver Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dodge of the Ellwood road had as their guests last Sunday, Mrs. John Kerns of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of R. D. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weingartner of the Butler road are pleased to have as their guest, Mrs. Albert Shakespeare of Swissvale, who came last Saturday and will spend a week with them.

George Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Esli Black of the Ellwood road, was a happy boy on Tuesday morning when the cast was removed from his leg after it had been worn for many months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scherger and daughter Miss Mary have had the pleasure of a week's visit from Mrs. Scherger's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Bevan, whose home is in Miami, Fla.

The children of the Gardner Sunday school are preparing a program which will be given next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Gardner chapel. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Gardner entertained relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kursel and family of Bessemer, on Friday evening. They all went to the Cathedral to see Miss Dorothy Donahey graduate.

H. L. Wood of Warren, O., came to New Castle last Tuesday night to see his nephew, Francis Alexander, graduate at the Shenango high school and to hear the excellent oration which Francis delivered on his favorite theme of Aviation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booher of the old Pittsburgh road had as visitors recently Mr. and Mrs. Cylde Huston and son, Mrs. James Braden and Mr. Hilliard. Eileen Booher came home after a visit in Pittsburgh. Albert Booher and Mrs. Booher of New Castle spent Sunday evening with their parents.

Landon-G. O. P. Will Sweep State

Taylor Declares Pennsylvania Will Give Big Majority To Landon In Fall

OTHER CANDIDATES WILL BE ELECTED

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—"A landslide for Landon."

Thus did M. Harvey Taylor, Pennsylvania Republican state chairman, express himself to International News Service today when asked Gov. Alf M. Landon's chances in the Keystone State in the November Presidential election.

Taylor at the same time said the G. O. P. platform was "not only an appeal for the support of Pennsylvania people as a whole, but is an answer to our critics." The Kansas governor, he added, would not only carry Pennsylvania but would again sweep Republican into control of the state legislature and the state's congressional delegation, as well as assure Republicans the retention of the two fiscal offices.

"A landslide for Landon! That's my forecast for Pennsylvania next November. A half million majority is a conservative estimate at this time.

"Pennsylvania is proud of Landon," Taylor continued. "He is typical of the manhood of his native state. He might still be a citizen of Mercer county, where he was born, for he thinks our thoughts and talks our language.

He is one of us.

"In his candidacy, conservatives and liberals met on common ground —and together they are invincible."

Taylor said never before in his memory had the Pennsylvania delegation displayed such solidarity as by its unanimous endorsement of the Kansan.

"The Keystone State will play an important part in the general election as it did here when its caucus declaration practically clinched Landon's nomination," Taylor concluded.

New Trial Asked In Illegal Liquor Case

John Grinsevich Claims Verdict Was Against The Weight Of The Evidence

Application for a new trial was filed at the prothonotary's office this morning in the case of John Grinsevich, who was convicted of the unlawful manufacture of liquor. It is claimed by the defendant that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence and that there were errors in the charge of the court.

Leon Tarasek and Steve Tarasek were arrested in connection with the same case and entered pleas of guilty. Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard found a still at the home of Leon, and it was claimed that Grinsevich, who lived at another location, was operating it jointly with the Tarasek brothers. The still and paraphernalia, which are being kept in the sheriff's office, were used as evidence in the trial of the case.

TUREEN DINNER

The Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Carl Rodgers of the New Castle road, on Thursday at noon and enjoyed a tureen dinner. In the afternoon the regular meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. Scott Ingersoll with Mrs. Harry Park, program leader. General statistics and juniors were the topics and several illustrations of lives of young folks were enjoyed. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Charles Robinson.

Vice president, Mrs. W. Scott Ingersoll.

Second vice president, Mrs. Carl Rodgers.

Recording secretary, Mrs. Harry Park.

Corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Charles McCullough.

Special guests were Rev. W. Scott Ingersoll, Carl Rodgers, Mrs. Louise Wigton, Mary Margaret Thompson and Mrs. Marie Biddle. Plans were made for a picnic dinner to be held at the home of Mrs. Hannah Phillips of New Castle on Thursday, July 30, also a special meeting of the executive committee to discuss and receive information regarding the study book and work for the new year.

EDENBURG NOTES

Mrs. John Davis and mother, Mrs. Woods, of Greenwood avenue, New Castle, were Wednesday callers on Mrs. Sara McIntosh of Crawford avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Verdin Mitchell and son, Jimmie, of New Wilmington, are spending the summer with Mrs. Mitchell's father, James Leeper.

Mrs. George Kuhn and Mrs. Merlin Felger visited Clarence McConnell at the Jameson hospital Tuesday. Mr. McConnell is slowly improving.

Start Bonus Mail Out Here Monday Morning; Certification In Armory

Postmaster Richard A. Steen today altered New Castle's bonus delivery schedule by announcing that all of the veterans' adjusted service bonds will be delivered in the morning and afternoon mails of Monday, June 15.

Delivery will start in the morning and continue in the afternoon.

Earlier, the postmaster had announced that delivery would start in the afternoon and be continued with a special evening delivery. That plan was dropped today when it was learned the adjusted service bonds will reach the post office here earlier than had been expected.

No Delivery At Night

"There will be no night delivery," said the postmaster. "We should be able to deliver most of the bonus mail in the morning and afternoon."

If the veterans are not found at home, Mr. Steen pointed out, the bonus will be delivered in the following delivery. Under the regulations announced, the veterans themselves must sign for the registered letters.

Several thousand registered letters, containing bonds valued at $1,571,202, will be delivered to the veterans throughout Lawrence county, it was learned. The greater bulk of them will be delivered by New Castle's city and rural carriers.

Certification At Armory

Certification of the veterans' request for payment will be commenced in the Troop F armory on West Washington street at 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon, the postmaster announced.

A team of 10 postal clerks and carriers of the New Castle office will be in charge of the certification work that evening. Officials estimate about 500 veterans may be accommodated that evening and night.

The certification at the armory will continue until "the rush ends," Mr. Steen said.

With the crowd accommodated, the certification quarters will be moved back to the post office and handled as a routine job.

"Our force is ready to deliver the adjusted service bonds and to certify the veterans' request for payment," Postmaster Steen asserted this morning. "We have studied our plans and there should be no hitch in the arrangements."

PREDICT REUNION WILL TOP OTHERS

High School Alumni Throng On June 19 Will Crowd Cathedral Halls

If advance signs can be counted upon, all New Castle high school alumni reunion attendance records will topple at the 1936 get-together in the Cathedral on the night of Friday, June 19.

Growing more evident as the days pass by, the enthusiasm this year has developed to the stage where class leaders predict that all class attendance marks will be eclipsed at the dinner and dance next week.

Over the week-end the class contacts will be continued by key chairmen named some time ago to boost the reunion among their former classmates.

In theory, representatives are elected to make laws; in practice they are elected to get something.

To Ask New Bids On Bridge Plans

County Commissioners Will Endeavor To Get Competition On Work

Owing to the fact that only one bid was presented the county commissioners have decided not to let the contract for improvement of the West Washington street bridge, but to advertise for new bids. The only bid presented was by the Farris construction company of Pittsburgh.

The bid was a little higher than the estimate that had been made and the commissioners believe that a re-advertisement will bring more bids. The work to be done is a little intricate and hard to estimate. It is believed, however, that more bids can be secured. As it will have to be advertised for several weeks, the commissioners will not be able to let the contract until some time in July.

Strengthening of the bridge and the elimination of the center lane are the principal objects to be accomplished.

Correct this sentence: "I urge others to do their duty," said the man, "so I'm glad to have them point out my duty."

Vidal To Become Lions' President

Numa F. Vidal, Jr., will succeed Attorney William D. Cobau as president of the New Castle Lions club in formal ceremonies of installation late this month. He was elevated to the club's high office at an outdoor frolic of the club this week.

Elected to office with Mr. Vidal were the following:

J. W. Staudinger, first vice president; R. L. Boyd, second vice president; Dr. E. F. Henderson, third vice president; Dr. T. J. Fletcher, tail twister; W. O. "Red" Williams, lion tamer; the Rev. D. L. Ferguson, sky pilot, and Dr. J. L. Reed, Browne K. Thacker and George L. Smith, members of the board of directors.

Mr. Vidal lives at 308 Englewood avenue, is superintendent of power sales for the Pennsylvania Power company.

HELD FOR COURT

Charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, Catherine Smith, of 2101 Elm street, Youngstown, O., was held for court Thursday night in $500 bail, by Alderman James C. Brice. She posted cash bail and was released pending a trial in the September term of court.

Joe Louis Is Much Slower

Davis Walsh Says "Louis Lots Slower Than When He Fought Maxie Baer"

LOUIS ROUGHS TWO OPPONENTS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 12.—There had been complaints, I understand, from the promotion which had become a little nettled by continued reports that all might not be well here. Their idea was that, if Joe Louis had been in there shilling for the gate with dubious endeavors before the public gaze, it was about time to level.

So yesterday's seven round workout was somewhat in the nature of a dress rehearsal for the big fight next Thursday with Max Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium, only with certain limitations. Two of these were a pair of windows just beyond the ropes through which the sterling young men might have plunged twenty feet to the street level. Another was a wall just beyond the opposite ropes, which made one think of the old curtain trick by which the earnest challenger was backed into the portieres and tapped on the skull with a shovel.

Depends On Maxie

Yesterday's rain, therefore, cramped the intended "show" no end, yet I came away from the scene with the impression that there are the makings of a great upset in this prize fight next week.

My feeling, in fact, is that Joe Louis has gone off just enough to make him good now, instead of great. I still don't think he's going to lose the fight, but at least there is the guarded belief that he can. A very great deal depends, I should say, on how far Schmeling has come on. If at all.

The point is that Louis still boxes and blocks beautifully, but he is slower than his hands. More than that, he seems to have lost the marvelous co-ordination of hand and foot that made him possibly the greatest hitter the prize ring has yet known. Whether the loss in question is due to the fact that his legs are bigger or that they've had him actually going back and trying to hit at the same time, I don't profess to say.

Almost Knocked Down

All I know is that, even in midring with neither windows nor walls to bother him, his old feinting and hitting style was not conspicuous. On the contrary, his punching was slow and inaccurate. Bud Schildknecht, young George Godfrey and Frank Woitanski bobbed under his attack, kept close to him and nailed him plenty. Woitanski almost sat him down with a left hook.

In reply, he roughed Woitanski and Godfrey, which is something he never did to another fighter before, either in or out of the ring. I judge that a subconscious feeling of frustration made him resort to this. Anyhow, I think both a change of style and of deportment are more significant than anything else a man can do in a training camp.

'Y' Swim Drive Army Splashes Merrily As Tutors Point Course

There are splashes and sputterings galore these days in the sparkling swimming pool of the Y M. C. A. as a happy host of youngsters go through paces set by instructors conducting the association's annual "learn to swim" campaign.

Opened last Monday, the classes, figures show, have attracted a daily average of 204 non-swimmers for the first three days.

At the stroke of 1 each afternoon one class enters the pool and at 1:25 that class goes out. Another enters and in 25 minutes it goes out. The afternoon program continues that way until the evening nears.

Those directing the boys hope that a goodly number will be able "to swim a distance of 50 to 60 feet by next week—and that's a fair distance." The boys are learning the fundamentals now, and some are just getting over the fear of water.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding of the Y. M. C. A. activities, the swimming drive means much more to the community than most people think. The "Y" offers it free of charge to worthy youths between 10 and 18 years each summer.

The system of teaching this year is one which Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas has developed to instruct masses in swimming and recently it was submitted to the state and national health and recreation committees of the "Y".

Limit Bandage For Joe Louis In Coming Bout

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports EDITOR

NEW YORK, June 12—Joe Louis will not be allowed 1 inch over the legal limit of 5 feet gauze bandage on each hand for his heavyweight fight with Max Schmeling one week from tonight, boxing commissioner Bill Brown said today in answer to stories that Louis had "loaded up" for some or all of his big fights. Moreover, said Brown, manager Joe Jacobs had better "mind his own business," at next week's meeting of the commission or he'll "be thrown out" on his derby.

Jacobs Protests

He would have been thrown out yesterday, it seems, only there was no meeting. In other words, it is almost impossible, according to Mr. Brown's reasoning, to throw a man out of something that isn't.

Jacobs, anyhow, had been hinting darkly that Louis used a tombstone on Carnera, Levinsky and Baer and was all set to utter a loud, piercing bleat in the presence of the commission yesterday, meanwhile pointing out that there was understood to have been some hocus pocus in connection with the Baer fight last September. Mr. Jacobs, however, will bleat on schedule next Tuesday.

Special Gloves

What happened in connection with Baer was that the latter demanded the right to use a special glove, imported from California and when this was denied, he flounced out of the place in a tantrum. Later the Louis people "conceded" the use of this glove by Baer but winked knowingly when, in return, they were granted the right by Baer's manager to use more than the legal limit of bandages.

How much was really used, nobody now seems to know, but it is a matter of record that, within a few hours, Baer was being batted for the longest and loudest fungoes ever beheld in a public place.

"This time there will be no concessions on either side" said Brown. "Louis' hands will be bandaged in the dressing room under the eye of a deputy commissioner and our rules will be made to apply in every particular.

City Softball League Games

There will be three games tonight in the City Softball league (weather permitting) with the games starting at 5:30 o'clock. The feature game on the card will be the Knights of St. Vitus at Castle Beach with the Croton Progressives, and with Frank Isabella, one of the most capable men in the league and DiThomas handling the game.

The Nobils will go to the Rad field to oppose Oakie Ross and Radiators. The umpiring will be done by Santangelo and Van Fossan. The Bonnetts go up to the Spencer field to meet the Box Factory team with Aiello and Biondi doing the calling of the plays.

Energy Old Timers To Play Baseball

Saturday will be a big day in Castlewood. It is the day that the Energy Old Timers will play the Castlewood team as fathers against sons. Sam Houk will take the mound for the Old Timers and will be received by C. Houk.

This game has been talked about for a long time and in event of good weather will no doubt draw a banner crowd to the Castlewood field.

The Old Timers are all set to the younger boys a thing or two of the way to play this ancient honorable national pastime. Some of the old boys can still cavort around the diamond in fine fettle.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Japan's powerful swimming team is enroute to the Olympic games. The team consists of 22 men. They were accompanied by five officials. The Nipponese will go to Germany via Siberia and hope to fight off America's challenge for world swimming supremacy. The Japs have a great team as was proved in the last Olympics.

There are few pitchers who climb into the Hall of Fame through a no run, no hit game, but today, Eddie Lamm has a right to walk into the hallway and hang his straw lid on a peg. He performed the feat for West Pittsburg against Bessemer yesterday. It was not the first time such a feat occurred in the Lawrence County loop. However, it is something worth while remembering.

Tommy Jones, former boxer, now a city policeman, is golfing considerably these days and in addition is taking other exercise so that he will be in the pink of condition when the Police Boxing show is staged. Tommy will be in the ring as a referee.

Eddie Lamm Hurls No Run, No Hit Game

Eddie Lamm, brilliant hurler for the Garlands of West Pittsburg, stepped into the hall of fame yesterday when he hurled a no run, no hit game against Bessemer, at West Pittsburg. He pitched against Hardesty who permitted six hits. West Pittsburg won five to nothing. It was a Lawrence County loop tilt.

Lamm's feat came near being broken when Vlah was hit by a pitched ball. Only 22 batters faced Lamm. His teammates gave him spectacular support and sensational fielding helped him to equal the record made earlier in the season by Snyder of Bessemer.

Four Champions In Police Show

Police Of City Go Into Action To Make Benefit Show Success

TEN BATTLES BEING ARRANGED

Twenty amateur boxers throughout Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio are in training today preparing themselves for their battles June 26 at Taggart field when the police of New Castle stage their first benefit for their pension fund. According to the police, Ed. Fritz has arranged 10 matches and on the card will be four champions.

What should prove one of the classiest scraps of the night should be seen when Johnny Wargo, of the Willow Athletic club, Pittsburgh, a senior champion of the Allegheny Mountain Association of the A. A. U., battles Carmen Notz, the junior champion of the same division. The boys are featherweights and are hot rivals and plenty of action may be anticipated.

Minie De More, also a senior champion, will oppose Ernie Lostetter, of McKeesport, at the same weight. Jim McGirr, the promoter of boxing at McKeesport, thinks so highly of Lostetter that he plans to personally second Ernie when he meets the senior champion. McGirr, according to Jim Metz, Pittsburgh amateur fighter's trainer, figures that Lostetter will go places fistically some day.

The Ohio state champ, George Davis, and who hails from Youngstown, may be pitted against some good featherweight, while such fighters as Frankie Carkedo, Youngstown; Tony Adamo, this city; George Bredl, Pittsburgh; Mickie Van, of Monongahela City, and Al Anderson, the K. O. puncher from Broughton, Pa., are being considered for spots on a card that may attract as many as 8,000 fans.

The shows conducted in the past have been replete with success. The police hope to realize sufficient money from the show to place in their pension fund. It is the first time the police have promoted a benefit for themselves and the people are showing their interest by securing reservations from the police who are disposing of the pasteboards.

Jess Willard To Referee Battles

Has Been Picked To Referee Shows At Pittsburgh, Cincinnati

Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, has been signed to referee Jake Mintz boxing show Monday night at Hickey Park, Pittsburgh. Two days later Willard will referee a show being promoted by Herman Katz at Cincinnati according to Bob Latera, who is handling Willard's referee assignments.

Willard was invited to attend the Louis-Schmeling fight but owing to his engagement at Cincinnati would be unable to attend the bout unless he flew from Cincinnati to New York.

Harry Kelley, Connie Mack's aged rookie, had everybody pretty well under control except Sullivan for he gave only five hits all told.

Yanks Top Tigers.

The Yanks used up five pitchers, 14 hits and ten innings to beat the Tigers, 10 to 9. They needed three runs to win in the tenth and made them when Red Rolfe, who had previously made two doubles and a triple, sewed it up with another double.

Rick Ferrell's base-cleaning double and a homer gave the Red Sox a 7-5 decision over the Browns.

In the National league, the Cubs entrenched themselves in second place by scoring their eighth successive victory, beating the Bees, 6-4, behind Bill Lee.

Phillies Win.

Joe Medwick, slugging outfielder, gave a sample of toughness, courage and spirit of the Cardinals when, after being struck in the groin by a thrown ball while running to first, continued on to third before collapsing and later insisted on playing out the game. The Phillies, however, scored four runs in each of the eighth and ninth innings to win, 12 to 4.

In a night game at Cincinnati, the Dodgers lost their eighth consecutive game, 4 to 3.

Van Mungo Will Rejoin Dodgers

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 12—Van Mungo's dispute with the Brooklyn Dodgers remained up in the air today, despite previous intimations that a settlement had been reached.

The executives of the Brooklyn Club announced yesterday that the pitcher had been fined $200 and suspended for his action in quitting the team in Pittsburgh Wednesday, but later it was said Mungo had reconsidered his walkout and would rejoin the club in Cincinnati today.

But last night, Mungo denied the dispute had been settled.

"I'm to see the Brooklyn officials again tomorrow," he said. "And that'll decide it. I won't say I'm not going back to the club, but I'm not leaving tonight."

MAT UNDER POT AIDS IN GROWTH OF HOME PLANTS

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass., June 12—Development of a new aid to the successful growth of plants in the home was announced today by Dr. Linus H. Jones, assistant research professor of botany at Massachusetts State College.

The invention, which utilizes leather by-products, consists of a pad or mat to be placed under clay plant pots to perform the function in the home which the moist bench surface performs in the commercial greenhouse. Production of these mats which are built up similar to lifts in the heel of a shoe, according to Dr. Jones, may utilize waste leather and even serve to spread employment during dull seasons in leather using industries.

The use of the mat keeps the pot wall moist and is insurance against the drouth damage that commonly kills house plants even when the surface of the soil is wet.

Stock Market Trading Slow

Markets Start Out Strong, But General Tone Becomes Mixed

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 12.—Trading slowed down appreciably in the stock market at noon today, with the general tone continuing mixed and price changes of small proportions.

For a time at the start the advance, which had its inception early this week, was extended in response to the unanimous nomination by the Republican convention of Governor Landon for the presidency.

Gains were wiped out, however, as moderate profit-taking filtered through the list and many issues dropped below previous closings.

Steels gave way easily, with Bethlehem and U. S. Steel losing nearly a point each.

Utilities turned in an encouraging performance. Consolidated Edison and Columbia Gas & Electric were appreciably higher in active trading.

Motors and rails lagged. Atchison registered a large fractional gain.

In early dealings new highs were made by a group of representative stocks, including J. I. Case, International Harvester, Union Carbide, Air Reduction and General Foods.

Most other sections of the list were quiet and little changed.

Bonds were higher. Cotton and grains were improved.

Teachers Elected By School Board

Six Teachers Elected To Fill Vacancies In Local School System At Meeting

ACCEPT BOND OF TAX COLLECTOR

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Six teachers were elected to fill vacancies in the local school system by the board of education at its monthly meeting in the Lincoln high school Thursday night. A controversy arose over the election.

Supt. of Schools Vaughn R. DeLong and the education committee recommended that Catherine Wolverton, Clara Worcester, Mary Boy, Grace Braley, Ruth King and Frances Nelson be elected to the faculty. The first two are out-of-town who will teach commercial subjects. The remainder are local residents. Directors J. F. Fitzgerald and Dr. A. M. Gigliotti voiced their disapproval of the election of two less experienced teachers over other local applicants whose applications have been in much longer, and who are qualified to teach. Mr. Fitzgerald asked Supt. DeLong if Miss Vogler and Miss O'Tousa of this city had been considered and he replied in the affirmative. Supt. DeLong stated that 14 local applicants were considered for the four vacant positions. In the judgment of the education committee and himself they recommended the best selection possible. Mr. Fitzgerald stated: "I can't see that its fair in one case where one of the ladies I have mentioned has more experience than two you have on the list, and both applications have been in much longer." W. L. Dean moved that the board vote on the recommendation and Mr. Fitzgerald offered an amendment that Miss Vogler and Miss O'Tousa be substituted for Miss Braley and Miss King. The amendment was voted down 4-3 with Fitzgerald, Dr. Gigliotti and Paul Luther voting yes, and President H. E. Helling, H. W. Smith, J. A. Evans and W. L. Dean voting against it. Then Mr. Dean's original motion passed with all but the vote of Dr. Gigliotti.

The board accepted the resignations of Catherine Czar, Belle VanGorder and Eleanor Wilson. Madge Dilley, Margaret Battersby and Isidore Rotnour were re-elected as secretaries, W. G. Evans as the school physician and C. C. Lash as the attendance officer. He was also elected to take the school census at three cents a name.

The bond of Tax Collector T. A. E. McConahy was approved at this time. By letter he asked for a raise in his commission which at present is one-half per-cent. Thomas Marsnall representing him there last night stated that due to the installment payment plan the work and expenses for running the office has been considerably increased. After considerable discussion Director J. A. Evans moved that the commission be raised to one percent. It was seconded by Dr. Gigliotti and passed by the board.

Upon the recommendation of President Helling the salary of Secretary G. Blaine Hancher was also increased. The board discussed the delinquent tuition accounts of neighboring townships. Only Wayne township has failed to live up to past agreements. It was moved by the board that unless a satisfactory arrangement is made to pay by August 1 the pupils of Wayne township will not be admitted into the local school system.

Surprise Is Given For Local Woman

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Mrs. Nell Plante was delightfully surprised last evening when a number of friends gathered at her home on First avenue and showered her with handkerchiefs. Mrs. Plante is leaving with her husband next week for California where they will remain a month.

The evening hours were whiled away in an informal social manner with visiting, chat, and bingo. Prizes for the latter went to Mrs. Beulah Dambach and Mrs. Grace Griffiths. Lunch was served later.

Dr. E. E. Lamb Is Found Dead

Had Been In Poor Health For Some Years Past—Well Known Physician

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Dr. Edwin E. Lamb, aged 66 years, of 601 Crescent avenue, was found dead at his home on Thursday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, apparently a victim of a suicide effort.

He had been in poor health for the past four years. During the absence of Mrs. Lamb for but a few moments, he had gone to a clothes press and fashioned a noose out of a necktie, which he suspended from a hook, investigation of the coroner revealed.

Dr. Charles M. Iseman, who resides next door, was summoned immediately after the body was discovered by Mrs. Lamb, but life was extinct.

The deceased is survived by his widow, one brother, Charles A. Lamb, of Davenport, Ia, and two nephews, Dr. Fred Lamb of Iowa and Dr. H. H. Lamb of Braddock.

He was well known in this city, having resided and practiced medicine in this city for many years.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced later. Friends are asked to please omit flowers.

Pomona Grange At North Sewickley

Beaver And Lawrence County Grangers Attend Event Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Members of the North Sewickley township grange were hosts last evening at their hall on the Ellwood-New Brighton road, to members of the ten grangers of Beaver county and Lawrence county Pomona grange.

Two hundred and seventy-five grangers of the various districts attended the affair and the Lawrence county Pomona grange presented a splendid entertainment under the supervision of the Pomona lecturer. The program was much enjoyed and consisted of various readings, monologues and musical numbers by members of various granges of Lawrence county.

The remainder of the evening was spent in an informal social manner with a variety of indoor and outdoor diversions occupying the attention of everyone. At an appropriate hour a tasty luncheon was served the group by the economic committees of the ten granges under the general supervision of Mrs. Buckley.

Tonight the regular semi-monthly meeting of the host grange will take place and members of the Marion township grange will present a special program and refreshments will be served by the host grangers.

Ministers Guests At Rotary Meeting

Geneva Professor Is Principal Speaker At Weekly Meeing Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—The program last evening was in charge of the president, Arthur M. Stevenson. Honoring the clergy of the community and the president, members of the Rotary club invited the ministers as guests. A majority of the clergy were able to be present. The presence of these and other guests added greatly to the spirit of fellowship and made the occasion one of great pleasure. In the absence of Paul Winters, Ray Humphrey led the singing. Harold Burns extended birthday felicitations to the following five Rotarians, not quintuplets, Dr. Harry Anderson, James I. Porter, Paul Reynolds, Alfred Milbrath, James C. Cope. Mr. Lowell Monroe was elected delegate to the international meeting of Rotary which will be held in Atlantic City, June 22-26. John Runyan was elected alternate.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Georgiana Wylie, professor of psychology and philosophy, Geneva college.

Attorney Ray Humphrey will be in charge of the program for next week.

Miss Gladys Boots Weds Allan Berger

Pretty Ceremony Takes Place On Thursday Evening At Ellport Home

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12—One of the prettiest home weddings of the season, was that which took place Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Boots, of Ellport, when the former's daughter, Miss Gladys Boots became the bride of Allan Berger, son of Rev. and Mrs. Thos. Berger of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends of the couple by the groom's father, Rev. Thomas Berger, assisted by Rev. A. M. Doak, of the Wurtemburg Methodist church and Rev. C. J. Shumaker, of Wintersville Presbyterian church.

The vows were exchanged in a beautiful setting of flowers and ferns, artistically arranged. The single ring ceremony was used.

The bride was charmingly attired in a modish gown of white crepe with harmonizing accessories and carried an arm bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Mabel Durnell was chosen as bridesmaid and she chose a stylish gown of blue crepe and carried an arm cluster of roses. Homer Doak served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the congratulatory period a wedding dinner was served the guests by Mrs. Boots. The bride's table was centered with a pretty wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom flanked with lighted tapers and bouquets of roses.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Berger are well-known among the younger set of this vicinity and have a host of friends. The bride is a graduate of the local high school with the class of '32. The groom is a graduate of Geneva College, class of '34 and is at present affiliated with the Beaver Enameling Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Berger have been presented with a collection of very lovely and useful gifts for use in their new home in Wurtemburg Heights.

IT'S LUCKY I don't work in a physician's office. I'd have a new ailment every day after reading all the juicy symptoms described in those medical magazines you find in doctors' waiting rooms.

All Day Meeting Held By Society

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12. — An all day meeting was held by the Women's Missionary Society of the Slippery Rock church in the church basement on Thursday. There were 14 members and three guests present.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Clarence Friday. The vice president, Mrs. Charles Wilson, presided during the business meeting. An interesting program followed at which there was a talk on "The Phillipine Islands" by Mrs. Sharpe Johns.

The work committee for the occasion was composed of Mrs. George Glasser, Mrs. Earl Friday and Mrs. Norman Guy. The society will meet again on July 9.

Mrs. Joe Latiano Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Mrs. Joe Latiano delightfully entertained the members of the T. O. B. club last night at her home on Crescent avenue with Mrs. Jean Nior as a special guest.

Two tables of bridge occupied the attention of those present for the greater portion of the evening. The score at the close went to Mrs. Jean Niro and Mrs. Bruce Myers.

Later in the evening an appetizing luncheon was served by the hostess with the assistance of Mrs. Myers. Mrs. Frank Morrow will entertain the club next Thursday at her home on Seventh street.

Ellwood City Man Is Elected Clerk

SHARON, Pa., June 12.—The Rev. Robert E. Stark, pastor of the First Baptist church of Sharon, today was the new moderator of the Beaver Baptist association, which celebrated its 127th anniversary at a two-day conference here. He succeeds the Rev. B. G. Osterhouse of Ellwood City.

Other new officers are: The Rev. E. W. Porterfield, Sharpsville, vice moderator; S. C. Hazen, Providence, treasurer; the Rev. J. R. Routledge, Ellwood City, clerk. Farrell Baptist church was chosen chosen for next year's meeting.

Scout Official To Visit Camp

Girl Scouts Being Kept Busy At Day Camp In Wurtemburg; Have Planned Program

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—Today the Girl Scout camp will have a visit from the secretary of Region III, Miss Elizabeth Reis, of New Castle. She will be accompanied by a member of the Erie Girl Scout Council.

Yesterday in spite of the rain, many activities were carried on. One group of girls started a rock garden with specimens gathered from the woods and with gifts of plants from friends. Another group continued their handwork on the porch and after lunch the entire camp enjoyed a song session in the cabin led by Gertrude Jones. The Crow Unit entertained the group with a program which made a great hit with the scouts. The panelling of the cabin is almost completed due to the work of the Settlers, assisted by Jack Hough and Howard Barlow. The treat yesterday afternoon was furnished by the troop committee of the Sequola Troop.

Y. P. SOCIAL

ELLWOOD CITY, June 12.—An enjoyable event of last evening took place at the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church when members of the Young People's Christian Union of the church assembled for a social gathering.

The twenty members in attendance passed the hours in a merry manner with a variety of active diversions occupying the attention of everyone. A novel feature of the evening was that all of the refreshments were foods beginning with the letter B.

KOPPEL

The Sunday School board of the M. E. church met in the church on Tuesday evening for their regular monthly meeting. Plans were made for a picnic to be held in the near future.

The Men's Brotherhood of the M. E. church enjoyed an outing Tuesday evening along the little Beaver Mushball was the game of the eve-and and later a lunch was served by the committee in charge.

Mrs. H. Asper of Second avenue is spending a weeks vacation with her son Bjarne Asper in New York.

Friends of Mrs. Sara Lanigan will be glad to know that she is recovering from a recent illness and is able to be around the house again.

Mrs. Ida McClain, Third avenue and Miss Madeline Rogers of Second avenue were New Castle visitors Monday.
